The President's Message

As President of the Alumni Association I wish to extend greetings to all members.

I feel that this Association is alive and vibrant. I am happy to report that new alumni sections have been formed in Puerto Rico and Hawaii. We have held sectional alumni meetings in Rhode Island, New Jersey, Florida, and Georgia. We have also hosted our alumni in Houston, Texas, New York, and Washington, D. C. The cordial reception received when I was in attendance at many of these alumni functions was both gratifying and heartwarming.

FRANK VELTRE '59

June week activities have been finalized and all the alumni will receive the program. I hope many of you will make an effort to attend these functions because they have been planned and prepared for your enjoyment.

Springtime

As springtime rolls around — the season of hope and renewal — our thoughts almost naturally dwell on happy occasions.

High on the list of pleasant perennial reflections are our school days, few of us ever forget them. And somehow we remember most vividly the best of those times.

A study of the joyous faces in class reunion pictures in this issue, seem to bear this out. As time passes and the rough edges of memory become smooth, the recollection of those golden days appears clearer and brighter. May it always remain so.

Our Heritage

THACKSTON, WILLIAM WASHINGTON HACKETT—B.C.D.S. 1842

President of the Southern Dental Association, 1887; Virginia State Dental Association, 1872-77 and 1887; Associated Alumni of American Dental Colleges, 1854. A founding member of the Virginia Society of Surgeon Dentists, 1842. Described by his colleagues as "the Chesterfield of the dental profession." Member, first Va. Board of Dental Examiners, 1886. While working in his father's jewelry store in Farmville, he became interested in dentistry when a dentist requested his assistance. Although the parent held dentistry in contempt, the son persisted in his ambition to obtain a degree in dentistry. Inventor of the Thackston drill-stock for opening cavities in molar teeth (1850). His graduation thesis on "The Diseases of the Maxillary Sinuses" was published in the American Journal of Dental Science of June, 1842; he made many fine contributions to this first dental journal. Mayor of Farmville, 1888-90. A bronze tablet, mounted on stone, was placed on the site of the Thackston home on the present campus of Longwood College in Farmville, August 29, 1951.

PROCEEDINGS—125th Anniversary Celebration of the Baltimore College of Dental Surgery
Gardner P. H. Foley

Excerpts from
Address of W. W. H. Thackston before the Society of the Alumni of the Baltimore College of Dental Surgery
March 9, 1877

When we recall the circumstances and incidents of our personal connection with this first, and pioneer school, when it stood solitary and alone of its kind in the world—when four true and brave men composed its faculty—when a modest little room, in a comparatively quiet and obscure street, accommodated its classes, when five graduates comprised its Alumni and were the sole representatives of its work—when the responsibility of success or failure in a great enterprise, destined to affect the health and happiness of unnumbered millions of the human family rested upon Four teachers, and Five accredited students; and when we remember that little more than three decades have intervened, and now contemplate the spectacle before us; we are filled with unutterable wonder and amazement, and feel more than ever impressed by the conviction, that the work of our Fathers was a true and genuine inspiration.

Has not the Old Baltimore College demonstrated the proposition, that a special school for a special division of science is more attractive, more efficient, and more successful, at least in our deportment and domain, than any system or device of the past or any method or arrangement of this present marvelous age of transition and progress? Has not the Baltimore College and the agencies and influences it originated and put in operation, absolutely created our profession? Has not the principle and system upon which this first of all dental schools was founded, been recognized and adopted in every section of our common country, and almost all over the civilized world, and always and everywhere, with a more or less gratifying and compensating success? The great commercial Cities of the North, the East, the West, and the South, have their special schools for teaching dental science—some of the Universities have added faculties of instruction, and established departments for teaching dental surgery—all essentially modeled after the first grand and original design, conceived by the Fathers of American Dentistry.

She took an unlicensed, an abused and a degraded art, and has made of it an acknowledged and respected science; she has created and fostered a literature, which had enlarged our views, enlightened our minds, and which is daily strengthening our claims as men of science. She has sent throughout the land, and all over christendom, hundreds of well taught and skillful practitioners, some of whom, have achieved imperishable renown as operators, as authors, and as teachers. She has furnished the model, and ground work of all the schools which have subsequently been established in this country, or abroad. She is still in successful operation, dispensing her privileges and advantages, adding yearly to her resources and facilities; and she maintains her proud pre-eminence as first of our professional institutions.

But yet, in the face of this array of indisputable facts, we are told that our special schools should be abandoned; that some of our graduates and degree men do not make a favorable, or respectable impression as men of science and letters, that Alma Mater should be stricken down and a "new departure" taken. Now, sirs, it is well known that we lay under contribution, every department of medical science that relates even remotely to the exigencies and demands of dental surgery; we secure the best available talent from both professions as instructors; our course is as broad and as long, and our terms and conditions for graduation are as stringent, and exacting, as obtain in the medical or any other schools of science. Why should our students not be well and thoroughly instructed in our own colleges? and do not incontrovertible facts and results prove, that they are so instructed?

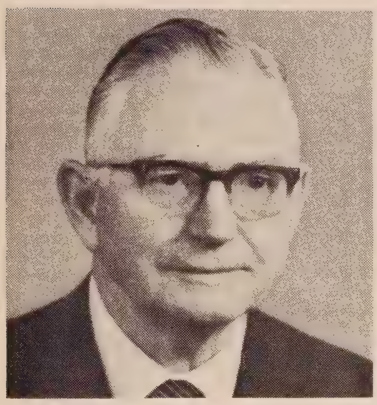
Distinguished Alumnus for 1973



Ernest B. Nuttall, '31
Teacher, Organization Man, Friend

It is indeed a rare privilege to be given the opportunity to speak in behalf of a cherished friend of more than forty years on this occasion when he is to be honored.

I speak of Ernie Nuttall, more formally known as Dr. Ernest Brody Nuttall.

I first met Ernie about forty-five years ago. I was a senior dental student, he a sophomore in the old, old dental school, the one twice removed from the present one. It was the custom in those days that each sophomore student was required to make cavity preparations in extracted natural teeth and fill them with various materials such as gold, amalgam, etc. These "specimens" as they were called were mounted in plaster, which had been poured into highly polished brass cylinders, each roughly an inch high and about $\frac{3}{4}$ inch wide. Around the neck or shall I say cervical region of the tooth, blue inlay wax was flowed—it also was very smooth and polished. Indeed these burnished, gleaming brass rings, with a white tooth standing upright dead center in the plaster and surrounded by the blue inlay wax collar was really something to see—actually they resembled jewelry. Even a bad filling would look good in such a handsome environment. I might add that the display of these works of art looked out of place when seen in the crude foundry-like atmosphere and aroma of the old laboratories. The overall effect was something like viewing a Rembrandt in the men's room.

In any event, word got around among the upper classmen that a soph named Nuttall had an exhibit worth seeing. I saw his work. It was the best I have ever seen before or since. As only juniors and seniors worked on patients in the clinic, I remarked to Mr. Nuttall, "That's pretty good, if you learn to do that well in the mouth you'll be a real dentist". After all these years of unfolding events, how inappropriate that remark now sounds.

Bacon must have had such a situation in mind when he wrote, "It is good discretion not to make too much of a man at the first, because one cannot hold out that proportion". Bacon could not have known Ernie, for such cautious advice would not apply. Time has confirmed what was obvious in those early years. Here was a brilliant student and a superb artisan—a perfect combination of talent for a remarkably successful career as a practicing dentist—a dedicated teacher of graduate dentists as well as undergraduate students.

The write up in the Baltimore City Dental Society's Newsletter when Ernie retired from the school gives a brief insight into the background and character of Dr. Nuttall. It follows:

"After almost forty years of devoted teaching at the Baltimore College of Dental Surgery, Dental School, University of Maryland, Dr. Nuttall, 'Ernie' to his contemporaries and legions of friends, has retired."

Of all the illustrious grads of the "first" dental school in the world, "Ernie" ranks among the top. He was the "gold medal" man of his class and as a student his dedication and superior abilities in the academic field and even more specifically in the clinical sciences convinced his teachers that this was a man who by temperament, knowledge and skill was particularly suited to fulfill an outstanding career in his chosen profession of dentistry. All the bright hopes for this man as he graduated in 1931 have been fulfilled. Ernie was born in Schley, Gloucester County, Va.—attended Western Maryland College—later the Baltimore College of Dental Surgery, Dental School, University of Maryland. In 1942, after Ernie had both taught and maintained a private practice in Baltimore—he was elevated by the executive council of the dental school to "professorial rank and he assumed full administrative responsibility for the crown and bridge instruction in the dental school".

This dedicated man created a department so outstanding that students exposed to the exquisite requirements in an admittedly difficult dental field, upon graduation were recognized for their exceptional clinical abilities.

Ernie's clinical achievements became legendary and students at first awed by the master, came to realize that this was not showmanship nor just vocal dentistry, but underlying any determined dental procedure was a carefully completed diagnosis, based not upon theory but sound clinical judgment born of experience.

His contribution to descriptive phraseology should not be overlooked. Consider for example a student reaction, upon being told that his cast gold crown painstakingly produced, fits like "boots on a rooster". It is doubtful that the more lenient views on obscenity would permit some of his more complimentary remarks. This is not the place to give a detailed account of Dr. Nuttall's activities but a few should be mentioned. He is a past president of the Baltimore City Dental Society—Maryland

State Dental Association and the Alumni Association. Since 1940 he has given more than 1000 separate presentations on various aspects of dental occlusion and Fixed Partial Dental Prosthesis.

If there ever was a dentist's "dentist" it is Ernie. This is not a mere cliche for I'm sure he has cared for more dentists and their families than anyone of recall. Our respect and pride follows you in retirement.

At this time, with Ernie's family—Mae his wife—his daughter Joyce—his son Bill and daughter-in-law Lois—his brother Chauncey with his wife Estelle—his niece Ann Scott and her husband Tom, we share with them our pride in honoring Dr. Nuttall—husband—father and true friend.

Mr. President, I present to you on behalf of the Alumni Association, Dr. Ernest B. Nuttall with the request that you bestow upon him the Distinguished Alumnus Award for 1973.

Dentistry's Mission: Possible or Impossible

Synopsis: It would seem to me that the birth of this Institution, which we are commemorating this evening and with it the birth of the dental profession in this country, is rightfully so a reflection of the past. Looking into that illustrious past lays the foundation for this presentation. Because there were dreams and expectations of many great men and in particular Dr. Hayden and Dr. Harris that have come true, our profession has developed into the great organization that it is today. I am confident that because of the dreams and expectations of men of dentistry today, our profession will continue to grow and mature to a greater entity for service to the citizens of our great country.

Lloyd S. Phillips

I would like to discuss with you the problems of the past and their solutions, the problems today of the various segments of our profession as well as the entire unit and our hopes for the future.

Our speaker, Dr. Lloyd S. Phillips is a 1954 graduate of the Indiana University School of Dentistry, and presently holds the rank of Assistant Professor in the Department of Periodontology at that institution. He is a past president of the Indianapolis District Dental Society, has served as a delegate from Indiana to the A.D.A., and on numerous committees and councils, both professional and civic. He is a member of Omicron Kappa Upsilon honorary dental society, the American College of Dentists and is the regent (7th District) of the International College of Dentists, likewise A.D.A. trustee of the 7th District.

Dr. Phillips is active in many affairs of our profession and is held in high esteem by his colleagues.

Golden Anniversary

On Friday, June 1, the Class of 1923, U. of Md. celebrated their reunion in a manner befitting their Golden Anniversary. Our good friend Mrs. Harry (Louise) Reynolds, banquet director at the "Tail of the Fox" arranged to have a couple of tables set up in a secluded area of the main dining room where we could get together to talk and enjoy drinks and snacks before dinner.

At seven P.M. we proceeded to the Terrace Room for dinner. A beautifully decorated "I" shaped table, with gold cloth, gold candelabra at each end, two in the center section, had been set up. In between the two center candelabra was a lovely arrangement of roses from the Coward's garden.

A delicious roast beef dinner was served topped with French vanilla ice cream and generous slices of a beautiful 50th anniversary cake with the Maryland Seal, Class of 1923 inscribed on top.

Each lady was given a corsage of cymbidium orchid, and the members of the class presented with a bronze on wood plaque commemorating the reunion.

In between much pleasant conversation and reminiscing Helen McCarthy revealed another of her talents by reading a very appropriate poem she had composed for the occasion. We hope you may find space in the bulletin to publish this.

Class of 1923 (Con't.)

Those present were:

Dr. Wm. V. Adair and his daughter, Jane Adair Schwemlein, substituting for her mother, seriously ill in the hospital.
Dr. John L. Ashby
Dr. and Mrs. Louis L. Brown
Dr. and Mrs. C. Clifton Coward
Dr. and Mrs. Wm. R. Kiser
Dr. and Mrs. Harry B. McCarthy
Dr. and Mrs. Harry Silberman
Mrs. H. Selby Nimocks
Dr. J. Ben Robinson

Dr. and Mrs. Joe N. Price served as our host for the evening from the Alumni Association. This was an innovation to us, and a very pleasant one. They were most gracious, taking Polaroid pictures and presenting them to those present. Mrs. Price read an excellent poem which she had composed and presented a copy to each member of the class.

Dr. and Mrs. Price were on hand at the General Alumni Banquet at Baltimore Hilton on Saturday, June 2nd where we were guests of the Alumni Association and proudly received our 50 year certificates from Dr. Price and Dr. Seligman. We enjoyed this delightful party and it was certainly a happy occasion to have so many of the younger graduates with whom we had been associated with over the years to stop by our table to speak to us. We wish that all the graduates could be as fortunate as us and be present for their 50th anniversary and 50 year certificates.

Of Dental Surgery

The seal of the University of Maryland used by the 1923 class at its 50th Anniversary Meeting is the seal of the modern University of Maryland.

The class of 1923 was the last class to graduate from the old Dental Department, University of Maryland, which gave way June 30, 1923 to the Baltimore College of Dental Surgery which became the Dental School, University of Maryland.

"Fifty Golden Years"

Do you recall the good ol' days
At Lombard St. and Greene?
We came from every walk of life
And somewhere in between.

The First World War was at an end
And Youth renewed its zest
We all converged on Baltimore —
To make Dentistry our quest.

Remember all the fun we had —
Who stole "that perfect Skull"?
And while we're reminiscing —
Who took "that Alcohol"?

There's so much to remember —
So much each can recall
Of the years we spent together
And the treasures of them all.

As in life — there's always sadness
Mingled with the joy and tears,
So success and failure follow
Downward through the years.

On this wonderful occasion,
When we once again unite,
May we say a Prayer for others,
Who have gone from us tonight.

Bless those whose hearts are with us,
Though in spirit — it must be,
And bless this 50th Reunion
Of the Class of '23.

The 1928 class reunion was held at the Statler Hilton Hotel and tho we had a small turn-out we were all happy to see each other.

Les Gallen and I will be the co-chairmen of the 50th reunion in June 1978 and we hope to have a larger group returning to celebrate the occasion.

The Ladies

Mother Nature, the Holiday Inn, North and a wonderful turnout of 47 people—helped to make the 40th year reunion of the class of "33" a memorable and most delightful occasion. Present were 26 members of our class—with 21 of their lovely ladies. Festivities started on that happy and wonderful weather weekend—on Friday, June 1st—in the afternoon with a swim party. Then later, there was a late evening visit to a famous crab emporium—with the out-of-towners learning how to open and eat our luscious "steamers".

Class of 1933 (Con't.)

Saturday, June 2nd—another swim party—with cocktails, etc. poolside and the inevitable swapping of pictures, stories and fond reminiscences. That evening—there was a magnificent cocktail and hors d'oeuvre party, with a buffet dinner and strolling accordionist to set the tempo for the evening.

At one point in our program, beautifully MC'd by Dr. Al Brotman, Dr. David Fruchtbaum conducted solemn and meaningful memorial services for those of our classmates—26 in number—who have passed away.

Later, each member was called up to speak his piece, and it was a delight to hear of the fine success and history of each, and of his family. We were honored by the late attendance of Dr. and Mrs. Harry MacCarthy of Dallas, Texas—who were in Baltimore to celebrate Dr. Harry's 50th year since his graduation. Also, our classmate Dr. Leon Seligman and Mrs. Seligman joined us—after Leon had left the BCDS Alumni affair—where he had just stepped down as President of the BCDS Alumni.

The festivities lasted until the wee hours, and after a few quick winks of sleep—we all convened again—on Sunday morning for a farewell breakfast party, and the inevitable tearful and fond farewells. There were also the determined pledges of—G-d willing—Let's make a date—for "78"—and our "45" reunion!

Those in attendance were:

Dr. and Mrs. Samuel Bisnovich
Dr. and Mrs. Phil Block
Dr. and Mrs. Herman Brener
Dr. and Mrs. A. Allen Brotman

Class of 1938

The class of '38 held its reunion on Saturday, June 2 in the Jefferson Room of the Baltimore Hilton Hotel. Our reunions from time to time have attracted a large representation and this year was no exception with twenty-two attending. We were glad to see so many of the wives present and they imparted grace and color to the gathering. The following men attended:

ASBELL, Milton B.
BAILEY, Carl E.
BORO, Alex L.
CABLER, James T.
COHEN, Sigmund
CRUIT, Edwin D.
CONOFRIO, Richard S.
DuBUFF, Leonard
GIUDITTA, Nicholas A.
HABERCAM, Julian W.
HEIL, Roland W.
JONAS, Charles J.
LEVIN, Leonard L.
LIEBERMAN, Sidney E.
MASSUCCO, Lawrence P.
McCAUSLAND, Charles P.
ROITMAN, Irvin
SALTMAN, David
SLAVINSKY, Edwin A.
THEODORE, Raymond M.
WHEELER, E. O.
WILLIAMS, Ernest V.

Somehow the class of '38 engenders a feeling of camaraderie and devotion to school functions that is without peer. We look forward to many such conclaves in years to come.

Class of 1943

The class of March, 1943 held its thirtieth year class reunion on Saturday, June 2, 1973.

At the request of the Alumni Association, both 1943 classes held their reunions at the Presidents' Reception and Reunion Dinner Dance. A good time was had by all.

At your suggestion I am submitting a picture and write-up of our 25th reunion. It is impossible to caption picture, not because I don't know them, but because they are not in rows.

Fifty percent of the "Great Class of 1948" returned for our 25th reunion on June 1, 1973 at the Holiday Inn, Downtown, Baltimore, Maryland. The word, "great" is not used facetiously, for few classes, not only at our school, but at any dental institution can boast of a class that has produced 2 deans of dental schools, a retired clinical director of the National Institute of Dental Research, 3 full professors in their respective dental fields, 5 past-presidents of their constituent societies with 2 additional ones who will lead their associations within 2 years, and 8 others who hold leadership positions in other groups. Nine have been awarded fellowships in either the American or International College of Dentists. Twelve have been honored for their civic and communal achievements at a state or higher level. Obviously, we are proud and with justification.

After an invocation by Bill Strahan and brief remarks by Bernie Gordon pertaining to our individual banquet, master of ceremonies, Ben Williamowsky kept the members and their wives in a jovial spirit for 2½ hours with a commentary on each one's curriculum vitae.

Dr. and Mrs. Myron S. Aisenberg and Mr. and Mrs. Gardner P. H. Foley, guests of our class for each of our past reunions charmed us with reminiscences of the past quarter century.

After participating with the Alumni Association in their other activities, our class members departed with the admonition, "we will return".

The Class of 1953 joined together for its 20th Reunion at the Holiday Inn, Downtown on Friday, June 1, 1973.

The evening's festivities began with a cocktail party which presented an opportunity for reminiscing and bringing everyone up-to-date on the happenings of the past five years. Following an excellent banquet, Don Laird kept dessert time lively with his usual quick wit while he awarded prizes to some of our long-distance travelers, most prolific fathers and youngest grandfathers. Dancing to the lilting music of Zim Zemarel completed a delightful evening.

We were honored to have as our guests Dr. and Mrs. Peter McLean Lu and most of us grew a bit more nostalgic after talking over old times with the good Dr. Lu.

The members and wives attending were:

Dr. and Mrs. Jean-Pierre Bouquet
Dr. and Mrs. William J. Carroll
Dr. and Mrs. Lawrence F. Conlin, Jr.
Dr. and Mrs. David E. Cook
Dr. and Mrs. Herman Cooper
Dr. and Mrs. Hector P. DiNardo, Jr.
Dr. Gerald A. Edcarian
Dr. and Mrs. George E. Garrington
Dr. and Mrs. Jack T. Gibson
Dr. and Mrs. Howard H. Goldberg
Dr. and Mrs. William L. Graham
Dr. and Mrs. Richard L. Harrison
Dr. and Mrs. Melvin J. Jagielski
Dr. and Mrs. William E. Kidd
Dr. and Mrs. Jackson B. King
Dr. Gilbert L. Koehler
Dr. and Mrs. Donald F. Laird
Dr. and Mrs. William F. McBrayer
Dr. and Mrs. James A. Markwood
Dr. and Mrs. Walter C. Maslowski
Dr. and Mrs. Robert R. Morrison, Jr.
Dr. and Mrs. James G. Murray
Dr. and Mrs. Rudolph A. Novello
Dr. and Mrs. Gustavo A. Oduber
Dr. and Mrs. Charles L. Page, Jr.
Dr. and Mrs. Claude B. Ramsey
Dr. and Mrs. Samuel Riggs
Dr. and Mrs. Carl R. Rosa
Dr. and Mrs. William W. Seibert
Dr. and Mrs. Daniel W. Shupe
Dr. and Mrs. John C. Ulrich
Dr. Charles V. Wahlberg, Jr.
Dr. and Mrs. Harvey L. Wertz

This was a most memorable affair and its success was due to those who attended and the tireless efforts of Bill and Bernie Carroll, Hector and Margaret DiNardo and Emily Ulrich.

Class of 1958

The fifteen year reunion of the Class of 1958 was held Saturday, June 2, 1973 in conjunction with the General Alumni Reunion at the Baltimore Hilton Hotel. Fifteen members of the 1958 B.C.D.S. class and their wives were present to help celebrate a significant reunion. Those present for reminiscing about "the good old days" were: Stan Black, John Burton, Quique Capo, George Collins, Marty Crytzer, Stan Del Tufo, Bob Goren, Anton Grobani, Bob Haroth, Jack Lessig, Don Lewis, Jim Nadeau, John Rushton, Jim Schaefer and last, but not least Big Ed Spinelli.

It was a pleasurable experience to see once again some of the faces which were so familiar fifteen years ago. All those who attended expressed some disappointment that a greater number of our classmates were not in attendance. Nevertheless, a good time was had by all.

"The Rooster's Boot"

Class reunion time for the ten year men and their wives was an occasion to remember. The day started with a tour of the new dental school for the early arrivers and ended with an evening of dinner, drinks and fellowship at the "Roman Room" of the downtown Holiday Inn. Forty eight members of the class of "63" and almost as many wives started the evening with a welcome and "report from the missing" from our correspondence and communications chairman, Bob Fleishman. Bob's hidden flare for comedy came to the surface as we were brought up to date on almost all of the classmates that couldn't be with us for the evening. George Krupinsky, our facility chairman, continued the evening humor with some special prize presentations to members present. Rudy and Joan DeSantis received the "Largest Family" prize and just might retire the award for all time! Tom Soliday and his wife were honored for producing twins not once but twice! Willie Hernandez got the weary travelers award for coming all the way from Puerto Rico. Frank Benneyan, George Otis and Paul Rubinstein flew in from California and received special comment for their effort in making this reunion a very special occasion.

Dr. Wilbur O. Ramsey was our featured speaker of the evening and as our Honorary Senior class president brought us up to date on the new dental school and the changes in education as well as the dental students themselves. Dr. Ramsey has also kept in touch with many members of our class and had some interesting comments concerning their progress in our chosen profession. This included special mention of Hank Van Hassel and his emergence as a nationally known leader in the field of endodontics. Dr. Ramsey was at his humorous best and stirred many memories of a great friend and teacher.

A real surprise came later in the evening when Dutch Welch came forward with a beautifully hand carved plaque to be presented to Dr. Ernest Nuttall from an alumni group located in Springfield, Mass. Dr. Nuttall received a standing ovation when he came forward to receive the first and only "Boots On A Rooster Award, 1973". He proclaimed it a highlight of his long and distinguished dental career. Talk about great moments and stirred memories this had to be one of the most unforgettable!

As a matter of necessity these are only highlights of an evening enjoyed by all and we can only pledge to make 1978 even more memorable.

Class of 1968 (Con't.)

On Saturday, June 2, 1973, the Class of 1968 held its five year reunion at the Tail of the Fox Restaurant in Baltimore, Maryland. Class members came from as far away as New England, Florida, California, Texas, and Glen Burnie. The evening was highlighted by dinner, dancing and a renewal of old friendships. Hair styles were longer, moustaches have sprouted, weight was lost or gained—but the class enthusiasm so renowned in 1968, was still in evidence. At the end of the evening the pledge was heard: "See you in '78".

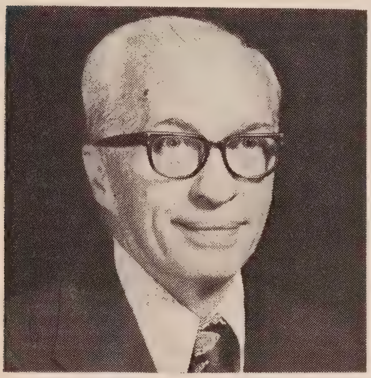
Dr. John T. Hughes Named to UNC Public Health Post

Dr. John T. Hughes has been named Director of Continuing Education for the UNC-Chapel Hill School of Public Health, it was announced today by Dr. B. G. Greenberg, dean of the School.



Dr. John T. Hughes '47

In making the announcement, Dean Greenberg emphasized the School's commitment to increase involvement of all faculty in continuing education. "We are fortunate to have a person with Dr. Hughes' experience to assume this position. I have known Dr. Hughes for many years during which time he has been active in planning, directing and teaching in our School's continuing education efforts.

"He has served as chairman of the School Advisory Committee on Continuing Education and is thoroughly familiar with the educational needs of health personnel throughout the state."

A professor of health administration and head of the Department's Dental Public Health Program, Hughes has served as research coordinator for state and local health departments in North Carolina. He has conducted studies in many areas of dental health including the effectiveness of topical fluoride solutions in preventing dental caries, family patterns of dental disease, natural history of dental disease and procedure for the organization and delivery of comprehensive dental services for the aged.

His many honors include diplomate and member, American Board of Dental Public Health; fellow of the American College of Dentists and the American Public Health Association; and member of Delta Omega, the honorary public health society.

Dr. Hughes received the B.S. degree from Wake Forest College, 1943, the D.D.S. degree from Baltimore College of Dental Surgery 1947 and the M.P.H. and Dr. P.H. degrees from the UNC-CH School of Public Health.

Dr. and Mrs. Hughes, the former Elizabeth Disney, live in Pittsboro. Many alumni will remember Miss Elizabeth Disney as Dean Robinson's personal secretary for several years.

On last December 13th a reception and testimonial dinner was held in honor of Dr. Meyer Eggnatz by the Miami Alumni Chapter of the Alpha Omega Fraternity. Approximately 150 friends and colleagues of Dr. Eggnatz attended. The affair was held at the Diplomat Country Club. The occasion marked the 50th anniversary of his dental career which began in September 1924 when he entered dental school. It was a gala party and long will be remembered by his family and many friends.

The Alumni Association has always regarded Dr. Eggnatz as one of its most distinguished and loyal supporters.

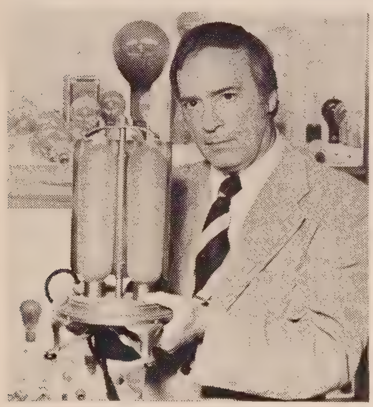
St. Apollonia Society

Maryland dentist paid tribute to St. Apollonia, patron saint of Dentistry, at their Communion Mass on Sunday, February 24, 1974, at the Newman Center, 712 W. Lombard Street. The Reverend Manuel R. Roman, Director of the Center, was the celebrant of the Mass. There was an informal breakfast afterward.

This was the 13th annual Mass and breakfast sponsored by the St. Apollonia Society of Baltimore. Miss Lee Cimino, Secretary-Treasurer of the Society, stated that despite the fuel shortage there were 50 persons in attendance. Better Luck Next Year!

Energy Crisis

When Hugh Francis Hicks was vacationing in Paris with his wife, he reached for a subway light bulb that he thought wouldn't be missed and promptly caused a temporary blackout. Unsuccessful in his attempt to replace the bulb in the dark, he brought it home to Baltimore and put it in his Mount Vernon Museum of Incandescent Lighting, home of the largest and most extensive light bulb collection in the world.



DR. HUGH FRANCIS HICKS '51

The bulbs in Dr. Hicks' priceless collection range in size from one used in space electronics at Cape Canaveral that is visible only with a 50-power microscope to a 50,000-watt model roughly the size of a 6-year-old boy. The latter was created in the 30s for an advertising stunt atop New York's Paramount Theater.

Most valuable single item is a Bristol-board filament lamp made in 1879 by Thomas Edison at his Menlo Park laboratory. Longest is a 42-inch tungsten lamp designed for valance lighting in the days before fluorescent tubes.

The museum which is in the 700 block of North Charles Street, in the same building as Dr. Hicks' dental office, can accommodate only about 10 per cent of his 40,000 bulbs. Included in the collection are decorative lights in the shape of beer bottles and flower baskets, novelty lamps from Lindbergh's "The Spirit of St. Louis" and from Hitler's private limousine, advertising lighting from the old Lexington Market and Ford's Theater, even some bulbs once used by quack doctors to fool patients into supposed cures through the flashing of lights.

Outgrowth of a boyhood fascination with Christmas tree lights, Dr. Hicks' hobby has won him international recognition. He long has been a lighting consultant to the Smithsonian Institution in Washington and since 1964 has edited TILCA, publication of the Incandescent Lamp Collectors' Association.

A graduate of the University of Maryland School of Dentistry, he specializes in periodontics and also finds time to pursue an interest in real estate. The bulbs, however, are the "light of his life."

New Jersey Alumni Section

The New Jersey Alumni Section held a successful reception and dinner on Tuesday, October 16, 1973, in Irvington, New Jersey. As usual a very enthusiastic but small group attended with their wives. One colleague, who could not attend himself, sent his wife and daughter, so that his daughter might hear our guest speaker, Mrs. JoAnne I. Pepin. Unfortunately, representatives of the Alumni Association were unable to attend because of a conflict in schedule.

Our guest speaker was Mrs. JoAnne I. Pepin, Director of the Division of Dental Hygiene, who spoke on the dental hygiene program. She outlined the plans for the teaching of dental hygiene at the school. Mrs. Pepin was recently appointed to succeed Miss Patricia C. Stearns, as Director.

At the conclusion of her talk, Dr. Joseph Lynch, the President of the New Jersey Section presented Mrs. Pepin with a $500.00 check on behalf of the section as a donation to the Patricia C. Stearns Scholarship Fund. This fund was established for hygiene students at our alma mater in honor of Miss Stearns, the first Director of the Division of Dental Hygiene.

The Section was also honored with the presence of the Associate Dean, Dr. Erroll L. Reese. Dr. Reese presented a short talk on the Academic Program at the dental school and he offered some ideas for the participation by alumni in future developments at the school. He stated the importance of an Alumni Association in the future of the Dental School. Dr. Reese has served as an excellent ambassador from the Dental School to groups in organized dentistry.

Alumni Meeting in Puerto Rico

The University of Maryland, Dental Alumni Group of Puerto Rico, met with Dr. Joseph P. Cappuccio on January 23, 1974 at the pool terrace of the Helio Isla Hotel in San Juan. The cocktail party, held on the eve of the annual meeting of the Colegro deCirujanos Dentistas dePuerto Rico, was characterized by the enthusiastic response to the invitation to meet with our Association's Secretary who is also trustee for the A.D.A. Fourth District. This enthusiasm was channeled into a congenial election of officers to try to organize our group more formally. The elected officers are:

Dr. Guillermo E. Orraca, Class of 1950, President
Dr. Lino E. Rodriguez, 1952, Vice-President
Dr. Elizabeth Noa, 1959, Secretary
Dr. Ramon A. Cabanas, 1948, Treasurer, and
Dr. Carlos J. Noya, Editor

So that our gathering could be more aptly appreciated the above picture was taken during a time-out from the cocktails and among the familiar faces we can identify.

President Seligman's Report

June 1972-1973

I am pleased to acknowledge that during my year as president the officers of the Alumni Association have demonstrated a strong capacity for cooperation and a dedicated spirit for accepting the many responsibilities that were brought to their attention for the purpose of achieving considerate discussion and determined proposals for action. I assure the Alumni that the men who represented them as officers were worthy of their trust and their faithful support.

I am moved by my presidential experience to report that the past year has been a period marked by certain areas of frustrated effort resulting in sometimes lengthy and ineffectual attempts to accomplish satisfactory solutions to problems that are of vital concern to all Alumni. The officers are resolute in advocating the Alumni's acceptance of this elementary concept: As graduates of our Alma Mater, and as members of the dental profession, we have the logical right and the obligation to exercise our interest in the affairs of the School. We have the right to request information about certain matters that challenge our feelings of responsibility as regards to the maintenance of a good standard of educational results and the existence of other problems that may urgently invite our attention. Surely, we as Alumni would be derelict in our loyalty to our School, if we did not express our opposition to the philosophy which asserts that what goes on at our Alma Mater is none of our business.

In presenting a summary of the year's accomplishments by the Association, I would call your attention to several facets of action. The publication of the second Newsletter brought an enthusiastic response from the Alumni, who recognized its value as a source of Alumni news. The Alma Mater has continued to prove its usefulness as a larger source of information to the several thousand Alumni who welcome it for its effective service as a liaison media. We all owe Dr. Kyrle W. Preis, the editor of both publications, a large measure of gratitude for his contribution to the strength of our identity, and association as loyal Alumni. The changes in the structure of the Alumni commencement program offers the promise of more participation by the returning graduates and enhanced opportunity for pleasureable fulfillment of their anticipation of enjoyment. During the past year, officer representatives were delegated to attend sectional meetings of the Alumni in New York, Rhode Island, Georgia and Florida. Through such representation, the Association has been able to give encouragement and directional support to those who attend the sectional gathering of our fellow Alumni.

I am indeed pleased to announce that in the near future, the now fully equipped Alumni Office will have a part-time secretary. The names of the contributors to the fund that assisted the Association to provide the essentials for the office will be cited on a suitable plaque.

The officers of the Association are determined to continue with their interest in the affairs of the School. They have shown a particular desire to obtain information concerning academic requirements which may have resulted in a lack of proper preparation of the graduates to practice dentistry competently. Another situation that has provoked our critical attitude is the existence of an academic program at the school, recently established and supported by federal funding, of students with grades which may be less than students in the regular program. The members of this group of students are admitted, according to some reports with shockingly low grade qualifications and are placed in a curriculum that can entail course extension possibly to a five or six year period. Certainly, we are in favor of giving help to the underprivileged, but any plan that offers favorable opportunities to students who enter as unqualified freshmen and who will proceed to demonstrate their lack of qualification during their several years and still may be guaranteed the privilege of graduating. We consider this program to be an outrageous defaulting by the School of its responsibilities to the public, the Alumni and other students, not to mention the refusal of places in the entering classes to fully acceptable applicants.

I urgently recommend that the Alumni Association, through its officers, continue to assert its natural and expected interest in the affairs of the School and attempt to arrange for dialogue meetings with the dean be considered as a matter of importance.

I also recommend that methods be developed for securing a more active participation in our affairs by the younger Alumni.

My thanks to the officers, executive council, standing committees and Miss L. Cimino. Thanks for the privilege of serving you this past year as your president.

Respectfully Submitted,
Leon Seligman, D.D.S.

Report of Committee on President's Address

The Committee on The President's Address would like to take this opportunity to congratulate Dr. Leon Seligman and his administration for a job well done.

We concur completely with the recommendation that the alumni should be concerned with school activities and the graduation of competent dentists with good clinical backgrounds.

The committee believes that interest in the school should be continued through more dialogue with the administration with consideration of all facets of the teaching program. Certainly this should take in the re-evaluation of the minority program to keep the standards of the school from being lowered in the effort to help the underprivileged while causing the public to possibly receive substandard dentistry in the future.

We definitely concur with the streamlining of June Week Activities into two full compact days instead of three days. A part time secretary in our own fully equipped office should be an asset to the alumni and would certainly aid in more active participation by the younger alumni. This should be encouraged. The basis for the growth of all the Associations is contingent upon the interest and zeal of all alumni to help.

Respectfully submitted,

George Williams, III
William Schunick
Conrad L. Inman, Jr.

Report of the Constitution and By-laws Committee Meeting held November 29, 1973

The committee was charged to explore and recommend action on:

1. Hygienists as members of the Alumni Association
2. The status of life memberships in regard to our future financial position.

It is recommended that a new category of membership be established, that of, "Auxiliary Member." The first auxiliary member would be the dental hygienist. As a dental hygienist auxiliary member the hygienist would:

1. Have to have graduated from the University of Maryland Hygiene School
2. Have their own organization subordinate to our parent alumni association
3. Their dues would be structured within their own organization
4. They would not hold office or vote in the parent organization

Considering the loss of income due to large numbers of life members, the following recommendation is made:

> That a member must be an active or associate member of the Alumni Association for ten years before being eligible for life membership.

Also being considered is a by-law change to:

1. Clarify "dentists" as meaning graduated from the Baltimore College of Dental Surgery, Dental School, University of Maryland
2. Clarify "affiliate member" as a graduate of the Baltimore Dental School, University of Maryland, Department of Dental Hygiene with the annual dues of $10.00

Respectfully submitted,

Constitution and By-Laws Committee

Donald H. Hobbs, D.D.S., Chairman
Leon Seligman, D.D.S.

Paul Huffman, D.D.S.

Report of the Historian-Archivist — 1973

In my report of 1972 I urged the importance of the School's making effective provisions for the maintenance of its noteworthy archives. Now I am very pleased to report that the School has appointed an archivist, who has demonstrated an excellent capacity for accomplishing satisfactory solutions to the many problems encountered in carrying out her duties and responsibilities. As the first dental college in the world, our School should naturally and logically serve as a model to its sister dental schools in the important area of historical collections.

I repeat a paragraph from my Report of 1972:

"Two items that challenge the valid interest of the alumni in the welfare of their alma mater are these: (1) the use of the correct name of the School and not a variety of whimsical and inaccurate nomenclature; and (2) the incorrect details presented on the two plaques erected at the time of the new building's dedication. The gratuitous citing of misinformation is a dangerous and most reprehensible procedure." A special committee appointed to inquire into the wording of these two plaques has made a lengthy and provocative report.

Respectfully submitted,
Gardner P. H. Foley

Continuing Education

The School of Dentistry at the University of Maryland has joined with a newly formed group of Dental Schools for the advancement of Dental Continuing Education.

Continuing Education at the University has been providing courses for Dentists and Dental Auxiliaries for many years and plans are to continue this service on a much broader scale.

The new group consisting of 20 Dental Schools in the Eastern United States is called the "Eastern Conference For Dental Continuing Education."

The 20 Dental Schools will cooperate with each other in efforts to improve quality of courses, systematize scheduling, standardize creditation of courses, exchange faculty and publicize courses to the dental profession.

Dr. Charles T. Pridgeon, Assistant Dean for Continuing Education at the School of Dentistry, University of Maryland, was elected Secretary of this newly formed organization.

NOTICE

At a recent meeting of the officers and members of the executive council, it was decided that in the future the "Alma Mater" will be mailed only to dues paying members.

All alumni activities such as receptions at national meetings — honoring the 50 year grads during June week, and other social functions are all supported through your annual dues. But the heaviest financial burden is the Alma Mater. With a mailing list in excess of 4000 — with printing and handling costs constantly rising, we cannot afford the luxury of free distribution of this publication. Furthermore it is grossly unfair to the dues paying member, who in essence is paying for someone's free ride.

The association is grateful for the loyal support our members have shown in the past and we sincerely hope that more fellow alumni will share our efforts to make the association truly worthwhile.

we want all of your business, doctor.

Some suppliers don't. They want only your orders for the high-volume, big-ticket, more profitable supplies.

But we want the bothersome "little" items, too. The obscure . . . the inexpensive. And we also want your equipment and parts business.

We want to supply you with service, qualified consultation, and new product information, too.

We want all your business because each of the services and supplies we furnish you helps make all the other things work just a little bit better.

Confidence is a big Responsibility

Your patients come to you because they expect the best. A successful practice is built on a patient's confidence in your knowledge, techniques, and other skills. But they come to you for other reasons as well.

Your patients can depend on you. They depend on you to keep up with the latest procedures, and the latest findings in Dentistry. They depend on you to take preventive action and to give advice.

Your facilities are up to date with all the necessary equipment capable of handling your patients' problems when they arise.

You are accessible to your patients, and your suppliers are accessible to you. Patients know that when there is an emergency, you will be able to take care of them — in most cases without delay.

You are convenient to your patients. Though most practices consist of the people in the surrounding community, there are those who come from greater distances. To them you are more than just a dentist, you are a friend.

More dentists come to Aronovitch Dental Laboratory for these same reasons. Aronovitch Dental Laboratory is the Baltimore area's largest lab specializing in fabricating porcelain fused to gold, porcelain jackets, and aluminous porcelain jackets. We are the largest because our practice too is built on confidence.

Yes Doctor, we at Aronovitch Dental Laboratory have a big responsibility.

REPLICA OF THE FIRST BUILDING OF THE BALTIMORE COLLEGE OF DENTAL SURGERY

The original of this building stood in 1840 at 13 South Sharp Street, Baltimore, the site of which is now occupied by a Federal Office Building in Hopkins Plaza. On the outside wall is a bronze plaque originally furnished by the Maryland State Dental Association indicating to posterity that on this site the first dental school in the world was established.

A careful study of this replica will satisfy the interested observer that the original building was a commodious structure of good proportion with ample window area. The low stoop made it easy of access. It is evident that the founders of the College were as careful in selecting the type of building to serve as the place of instruction as they were in their plans to establish the instruction of dentistry on the sound basis of careful preparation in the medical sciences. This was characteristic of Hayden, Harris, Bond and Baxley.

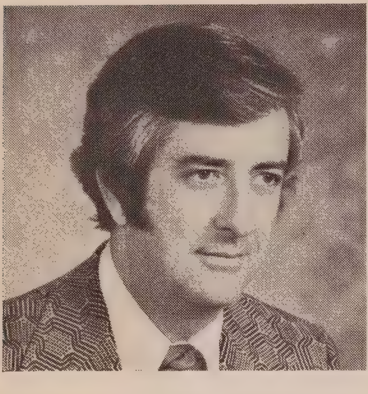
The President's Message



William R. Patteson '57

On behalf of the Alumni Association I send our greetings and best wishes to each and everyone of you. This year has been a most interesting and productive experience for our associations. Foremost has been the rebuilding of a very close and meaningful relationship with the faculty of the dental school.

As many of you know Dr. Errol L. Reese has been serving as the acting dean of our school during this year. It certainly has been a pleasure to work with Dr. Reese, as he has shown every consideration to our concerns and activities. In a time when many demands were made on his busy schedule, Dr. Reese has found time to attend our regularly scheduled alumni meetings as well as many of the liaison committee meetings. His concern for our school and the alumni which we serve is most gratifying.

During this year we have made a concerted effort to update our alumni files and through the efforts of our new secretary, Mrs. Carolyn Aiken, the task is nearing completion. Through this updating the school and the alumni will be able to keep you more informed of the many activities that take place here in Baltimore and throughout the country.

There is an urgent need to increase the membership in the alumni association and with a new dean, soon to appear I hope more alumnus will see fit to become involved so we can give the support to our alma mater and thus perpetuate the spirit of cooperation which now prevails.

Soon you will be hearing about the development of our "Century Club", which will be designed to give a unified approach to fund raising for both the alumni association and the needs of our dental school. Many exciting new programs will be developed through this medium. We hope you all will lend your support!

June Week is a little early this year with graduation on May 29th. Jack Phillips is planning an exceptional program with ample time for individual class reunions. The crab feast, golf tournament, and the reunion dinner dance are all items I'm sure you won't want to miss.

As my term in office will soon be completed, I want to thank all the officers, members of the executive council and the trustees for their support and cooperation during this year. My very best wishes to you all, and I hope to see you during the June Week activities.

Reflection on the Recent History of the Baltimore College of Dental Surgery

ERROL L. REESE, Acting Dean, B.S., D.D.S., M.S.

The Baltimore College of Dental Surgery, Dental School, University of Maryland at Baltimore is presently under the leadership of its first Acting Dean. This position, although unique in many respects, carries the full measure of responsibility and authority, pro tem. As Acting Dean, I have tried to maintain the momentum and preserve the traditions handed from each dean to his successor through the years. As the administrative officers and faculty prepare to "pass the banner" to the new Dean, it is appropriate to reflect on events in the recent past.

Your Alma Mater has a distinguished and glorious history, a distinction it has achieved by maintaining the objectives of the University. These objectives—education, research and service to the community—are interdependent. Evaluation of the methods and techniques of dental health care delivery, in an effort to discover new and improved methods, is consistent with these objectives. No less important is basic biological research, which indirectly provides a service to the public by contributing to the improved quality of dental care and to the prevention of oral disease, still the most prevalent disease affecting mankind. The need for research and the increasing demand for dental services were major factors in the evaluation process that, over a ten-year period, resulted in the present dental curriculum.

During the early 1960's the sources of financial support for health education shifted from primarily state and private to a combination of Federal-state and Federal-private. Support by the Federal government began with the funding of individual research grants and programs. When it became obvious that the need for health care and for personnel to deliver this care exceeded the capacity of programs traditionally supported by state governments, the professions and alumni, the Federal government came to the rescue of the health professions. Seven years ago, direct Federal support to health education was initiated; it has touched every dental school in the United States.

Early attempts of the Federal government to provide financial support to institutions in the health professions were fraught with misjudgements and miscalculations on both sides. With experience, many of these problems have been alleviated. One fact is obvious: the profession of dentistry, which requires education and skills far above the norm, would not have achieved the excellence of today without the infusion of past and present financial support, regardless of the source.

During the past decade, a great upsurge in curriculum experimentation occurred, stimulated by the need for changes in dental education. It had become necessary to provide the student with a means of assimilating far more biological and technical data, as well as the correlated practical applications of this new knowledge in the practice of dentistry. The faculty of the Dental School, under the leadership of Dean Salley, engaged in the development of a guiding philosophy of dental education. Their primary goal was to provide the community with graduates highly competent in the practice of general dentistry, and thus to maintain the excellence of the profession of dentistry.

The realization of this philosophy required the dedication and loyalty of existing faculty members, as well as the recruitment of additional faculty; a renewal of interest in education and in the methodology of dental education. Curriculum revisions were instituted; experimental programs were developed and implemented. Assuring adequate clinical experience for the undergraduate dental student was of highest priority. Students who graduate in 1975 will have had more clinic time available to them than any class in the history of the Baltimore College of Dental Surgery. Graduates in 1976 will have had even more clinic time.

The following steps were taken in the attempt to reach new heights in dental education at the Dental School:

"Innovative programs in Dental Assistant Utilization (DAU), Training in Expanded Auxiliary Management (TEAM) and Accelerated Professional Training (APT) were originated. Curriculum units in Basic Dental Science, Conjoint Science, Biomedical Science and Community Dentistry were conceived and implemented. A baccalaureate Dental Hygiene Program was initiated in the Dental School. An Independent Learning Center has become the repository for an impressive supply of audio-visual materials, prepared by the faculty and produced by a new Department of Educational and Instructional Resources. Programs for minority student recruitment and special student instruction were originated. Dental clerkships were instituted to enrich the undergraduate dental program.

A Faculty Dental Service Plan, providing the facilities for intramural practice to the clinical faculty, is now in operation. Since 1963, postgraduate programs have been initiated in five specialties and course offerings in the continuing education programs have increased from 2 to 28 per year."*

These measures, developed and sanctioned by the Faculty Council of the Dental School, have brought this School international recognition as one of the finest dental schools in the world!

The dean of a school is in the position of primary responsibility and authority. Therefore, the accomplishments of the past decade are a reflection of the leadership of the Dean; they are also rightly shared with a devoted faculty.

This institution must continue on the course of search and self-evaluation, for the vitality of dental education and the future of the profession of dentistry are at stake. This, then, is the challenge awaiting the next Dean.

Liaison Committee — Alumni and Faculty

Acting Dean Errol Reese appointed the school's component of the Alumni-Faculty Liaison Committee. It consists of Dr. R. Haroth, Dr. E. Maddox, Miss J. Wagner, Dr. D. V. Provenza (Chairman) and Mr. L. Scheitler, S.D.A. President, ex officio member representing the student body. The Alumni segment of the committee is composed of Drs. J. Cappuccio, P. Norris, C. Page, K. Preis and W. Patteson (Chairman).

Among the successful accomplishments of the committee have been (1) rewording of the marker and plaque which now is in agreement with historical fact, (2) use of the correct title of the school on all official documents and (3) recommended the use of the correct title of the school on letter heads of stationery.

Plans are projected which involve joint educational and social functions at which alumni, faculty and students will participate. Anticipated areas of discussion at future meetings include curriculum development, evaluation and revision.

The entire committee is of the opinion that the meetings have been informative and productive and should be continued in order to improve the progress and effectiveness of common goals.

D. V. Provenza, Chairman

* Final Report, Special Committee of the Faculty Council for the Development of New Goals and Objectives, Baltimore College of Dental Surgery, Dental School, University of Maryland, December, 1973.

An Historic Announcement

One of the most important statements in the history of dentistry is the Announcement (1840) of the Board of Visitors of the Baltimore College of Dental Surgery. The Board, headed by Thomas E. Bond, Sen., M.D., had fifteen members: ten with the M.D. degree, four ministers, and two practicing dentists, one of whom had the medical degree. The Announcement contains statements of purpose that invite the reflective attention of the dentists of 135 years later.

> "It is well known to all that the wants of society resulting from diseases and distortion of the teeth, and the morbid conditions of collateral structures, are multiplied and great. . . . The greater number of those engaged in the active duties of the profession — most of whom would gladly have availed themselves of suitable means of instruction, could such have been commanded — have enjoyed but limited opportunities for acquiring information. . . .
> Regarding the necessity of providing means of instruction, suited to the improved conditions of this science, and also of securing to the public a guaranty against the impositions of the unqualified, the Legislature of Maryland have entrusted to the Faculty the duty of executing its purposes in relation thereto.
> In the performance of this duty, the Faculty propose to extend their scheme of instruction, so as to embrace all divisions of knowledge necessary to constitute an enlightened practitioner.
> The Board would have none insensible to the merit which projected this novel and highly commendable scheme for elevating the character of a most useful profession and promoting the general good, and they therefore ask for the enterprize the liberal support of the medical profession and the public."

Gardner P. H. Foley

NOTICE — NOW IN EFFECT

At a recent meeting of the officers and members of the executive council, it was decided that in the future the "Alma Mater" will be mailed only to dues paying members.

All alumni activities such as receptions at national meetings—honoring the 50 year grads during June week, and other social functions are all supported thru your annual dues. But the heaviest financial burden is the Alma Mater. With a mailing list in excess of 4000—with printing and handling costs constantly rising, we cannot afford the luxury of free distribution of this publication. Furthermore it is grossly unfair to the dues paying member, who in essence is paying for someone's free ride.

The association is grateful for the loyal support our members have shown in the past and we sincerely hope that more fellow alumni will share our efforts to make the association truly worthwhile.

Farewell and Hello

Through these pages we frequently speak of our heritage with such glowing references that one may get the impression that we reached our apogee some vague time ago, and that now we just keep rolling along, carried by a momentum sustained by tradition.

Of course that's not so — but these euphoristic recollections do serve a good purpose, they provide a background for comparison with the present and offer a continuum of useful information for the future.

And those who remember the past with its proven accomplishments, have every reason to be proud of those who laid the foundation upon which this new structure rests.

Even a casual visit to the new dental school, viewing the imposing building with ultra modern facilities; classes of 128 students with a higher percentage of women (16 in the freshman year); a total of 34 black students; capacity enrollment (30) in the department of dental hygiene; and a substantially different curriculum, with a shifting of priorities in accordance with the present philosophy of education, will convince even the most apathetic that indeed things have changed.

The planning and building of the new school is a notable and valuable addition to our heritage and we are indebted to Dean John Salley for his zealous and fruitful efforts to bring to a conclusion this impressive project during his administration. To him we say: farewell and wish him success in his new undertaking as Associate Vice-President for research and graduate affairs at Virginia Commonwealth University.

To the new dean, whomever he may be, we say "Hello" and welcome to a really viable family.

The Maryland Probe

The Maryland Reflector, Volume I, Number 1, the first student newspaper of the University of Maryland, Dental School, Baltimore College of Dental Surgery, rolled off the press in May 1969 with Donald Bailey as editor and Thomas Baldwin as associate editor, both of the Class of 1970. It was a most informative paper; but as a new venture, it was difficult to get student response and cooperation in keeping it operating. There was also some opinion at the time that a newsletter would be more informative and could be distributed more often since the Reflector was only to be printed three times each year.

In September 1971 a newsletter, The Hayden-Harris Hall Herald, was printed. The editors were John Schutze and Steve Milhauser, Class of 1971. It was hoped that this bimonthly paper would receive more input than that of the Reflector and that students and faculty would be kept informed of happenings at the Dental School. However, this did not prove to be the case, and the last issue of the Herald was printed on November 22, 1971. In January 1972, the final issue of the Reflector was printed.

After the last issue of the Reflector, there was a lapse in the publication of a student newspaper, but the fact that one was needed and wanted by the student body was not forgotten.

In the Spring of 1972 Sheldon Sydney and William Bennett explored the possibilities of again publishing a student newspaper with Dean John Salley. Dr. Salley supplied the funds for the first four issues of the Maryland Probe. The Probe met with success and has continued as the official student newspaper, being printed five times yearly. Following the first four issues in 1972, William Bennett has continued the leadership and the Student Dental Association has funded the newspaper. Upon William Bennett's graduation in May, the editorship will fall to Stephen Eisenberg, a sophomore student. Articles are accepted from all contributors and subscriptions are available. For subscription information write directly to the Maryland Probe at the Dental School.

June — At Last

The one hundred twenty students of the Class of 1975 are eagerly looking forward to June and their coming graduation. While a few students intend to enter private practice immediately upon graduation, the majority of the class will attempt to broaden their clinical experience before entering private practice through internship programs, military service, association with private practitioners and post graduate programs.

In past years the class of 1975 has participated in all phases of dental school activities. For the past two years the class has won best skit in the annual "Skit Night" competition. This past summer ten members of the class took part in the first Externship Program. This new addition to the curriculum allows outstanding students to work for a private practitioner for six weeks during the summer. The program was successful last year and will be improved upon and expanded in the future.

A senior banquet is planned for May 23 at Martin's West. The event will consist of dinner, open bar and dancing. Tentative plans have also been made for a "Senior Weekend" at Williamsburg, Va. The date for this event is not certain.

FIRST DENTAL SCHOOL

In most respects this year's freshman class is very similar to past classes. Students spend many hours in an effort to master the basic sciences while simultaneously gaining experience in the fundamentals of dentistry.

However, two factors make this year's freshman class somewhat unique. First, freshmen students, more so than in years past, are becoming involved in student politics. They are seeking to be heard and are being acknowledged on a political level by both upperclassmen and faculty. The second factor is the large increase in enrollment of female students. This year's class contains sixteen women. This number is six more than any previous total giving the class of 1978 the highest number of female students in the dental school's history.

The culmination of the freshmen year is to know that within a short while the demands of a rigorous year will end, and anticipation towards the second year and our first patients begins. So men and women — on to the second year.

The first year of the Dental Hygiene program begins with intense studies in the biological and clinical fields. By the 8th week of the program, students begin to perform basic clinical procedures on patients.

However, not all the time is spent in the clinic and didactic learning. Students have an opportunity to go into community hospitals, special patients clinics, and schools to educate the public about dental health.

They function on various Dental School committees and participate in table clinics, career day, and the many social functions within the school.

Good oral hygiene practice has been stressed both clinically as well as in the public schools where we've worked with teachers and students. We've reached out to communicate with other members of our dental profession by presenting table clinics and through our many POH sessions with the Dental School freshmen. The "Personal Oral Hygiene" classes persuaded the dental students to take an objective look at the brushing and flossing of Maryland's future dentists.

We've received training in some expanded duties such as rubber dam application and pit and fissure sealants and look forward to becoming an even more important member of the dental team.

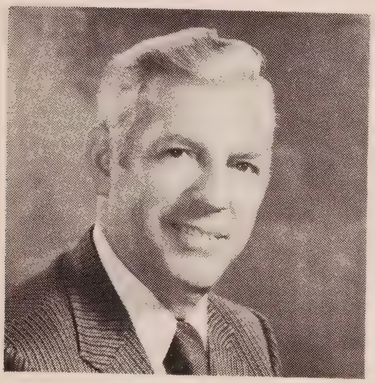
Dean Kenneth V. Randolph
Distinguished Alumnus for 1974

It is an honor and a privilege to be invited to present the 1974 nominee for the Distinguished Alumnus Award.

Dr. Kenneth V. Randolph is a native of West Virginia. He attended primary and secondary schools in that state and completed his pre-dental training at the West Virginia University, then attended the Baltimore College of Dental Surgery, Dental School, University of Maryland, graduating with honors in 1939.



Kenneth V. Randolph '39

Immediately following graduation, he was appointed as an instructor in Operative Dentistry and within seven years became Professor and Chairman of the Department of Operative Dentistry. While serving in this capacity on a full-time basis he re-entered the University of Maryland and earned a Bachelor of Science degree in Education, graduating in 1951.

I knew Dr. Randolph as a dental student in his sophomore, junior and senior years in a limited manner as a part-time teacher in Dental Ceramics and Crown and Bridge Prosthodontics. However, in 1942, upon my assuming a full-time teaching position on the faculty, I observed, admired and was impressed by the ability and effective utilization of his talents in teaching operative dentistry. The years that followed revealed that this individual also possessed unusual attributes in organization and administration. His firm purpose, persistent quest for self-improvement and progressive concepts in dentistry were indicative of a very fruitful career in dental education.

It was the sharing of a hotel room and the experience of spending a week at the University of Pennsylvania in 1949, participating in a course in "The Air-dent Method for Tooth Preparation" that permitted me to observe Ted's non-compromising approach in clinical dentistry. In my association with him in the presentation of a number of Air-dent courses at Maryland during the summer of 1950, many unusual innovations in operative procedure were observed. The most striking of these was the gravity method of condensing amalgam followed by the use of a wet pledget of cotton in the cotton plier to complete the carving procedure. Needless to say, this unacceptable method produced very adverse responses in this dedicated teacher.

In 1957, Dr. Randolph left Maryland to return to his native state of West Virginia and served as Professor of Operative Dentistry and Associate Dean of the Dental School there. He was appointed Dean of the West Virginia School of Dentistry in 1958. He served in this capacity for ten years and played a significant role in starting the dental program, introducing a four-year dental hygiene curriculum and organizing a graduate program in orthodontics and a formal program of continuing education.

He served as the Chairman of the Administrative Committee for West Virginia Medical Center during an interim following the death of a Vice President.

Dr. Randolph accepted an appointment as Dean of Baylor University College of Dentistry in 1968, until July 31, 1971. On August 1, 1971, Baylor University College of Dentistry was separated from Baylor University and the Baptist General Convention of Texas and became a private, non-profit, non sectarian corporation called Baylor College of Dentistry. He was appointed President and Dean of Baylor College of Dentistry, August 1, 1971, and currently holds that position.

Among his appointments and honors are: Fellow of the American College of Dentists; American Academy of General Dentistry (Honorary Member, 1961); Council of the National Board of Dental Examiners, 1965 to 1971—(Chairman, 1969 to 1971); Trustee, American Fund for Dental Education, 1967 to 1972; Delegate to the American Dental Association, 1965 to 1968; Member, Regional Medical Advisory Group for the Regional Medical Program of Texas, 1961 to present; Honorary member of the Supreme Chapter of Sigma Phi Alpha (National Dental Hygiene Honorary Society).

He is a director of the Texas Unit of the American Cancer Society; Consultant for the Veterans Administration Hospital, Dallas; director of a Maxillofacial Prosthetic Service Project and a member of the Advisory Council of the Dallas Health and Science Museum.

To this point the abbreviated curriculum vitae has been concerned with the responsibilities, activities and achievements associated with making a living. However, the event that has made the living worthwhile was when Ted Randolph married his lovely wife, Elizabeth Bachman of Baltimore in 1940. They have two children, a daughter and a son, both of whom are married. The daughter has two children, a boy and a girl. The son's wife is expecting in August and there will be three grandchildren.

Mr. President, I present to you our guest of honor, Dr. Kenneth V. Randolph with the request that you confer upon him the Distinguished Alumnus Award for 1974.

Ernest B. Nuttall

Class of 1924
Golden Anniversary

The fifty year class reunion met Saturday, June 1st in Baltimore, Maryland with the members and their families. Those present were Jim Bradley—Oxon Hill, Md., N. T. Chimacoff—Elizabeth, N. J., Sam Fink—Elkton, Md., A. R. Janes—Silver Spring, Md., Carlos Ruiz—Guatemala City, Guatemala, Central America, and Roland A. Tressler—Baltimore, Md.

We reminisced our experiences for the past fifty years and enjoyed meeting our Dean, Dr. J. Ben Robinson.

Ours was the first Senior class when the B.C.D.S. and U. of M. joined to form one dental school with a combined senior class of ninety-nine of whom fifty-one are still with us.

OLD FOLK

We are the old folk, that you see
Who fast to life have clung,
And like us, you will sometime be,
For once we, too, were young.

We now are in life's aftermath
And by the Grace of God
Your feet will travel o'er the path
Our weary feet have trod.

The things we should remember
Slip by us, just like time.
Our flame is now an ember
And our efforts not in rhyme.

'Tis not our fault that we are slow
And linger in between
This earthly life we lived to know
And the life we've never seen.

So treat us kindly as you pass
And as your days unfold
Remember, time is going fast
And you too—are growing old.

Standing, Jack Martindale, Charlie Buttermore, Si Weiner, Leon Grossman, Howard Scheid, Bill Meyer, Monte Levy, Ted Fancher, Ralph Brand, Herman Weisler, Max Green, Eddie Dobbs, Sheridan Watkins.

The 45th reunion of the class of 1929, held at the Hilton Inn was as usual a very heart warming occasion, beginning with a cocktail party where the 25 who returned, some with their wives, enjoyed reminiscing and exchanging experiences, some good and some bad.

No one seemed to have changed much in five years, for even though some had less hair on top, they were satisfied enough with their faces to have left off the beards.

The steak dinner was an epicurian's delight, during which a tribute was paid to the memory of our 22 deceased classmates.

Kyrle Preis called the roll and led inquiries and discussion concerning the absentees and thanking those who returned, especially those from great distances. Meanwhile, the ladies adjourned to a private dining room for dinner, and joined us later in the hospitality suite.

Unfortunately the first class picture did not turn out and Sol Rosen left before the second was taken. Every effort will be made to have his photograph superimposed on the original so that proof of his perfect attendance record will remain intact.

Shortly following the reunion, our good and faithful friend Ted Fancher passed away. We will surely miss him, as we do all who have preceded him.

Everyone seemed to enjoy the renewal of friendships that these reunions bring, and sincerely hope we will all be together again five years hence.

The Saint Apollonia Society

On Sunday, April 20 at 10:00 A.M. the annual Communion Mass and Breakfast of the Saint Apollonia Society of Baltimore was held at the Newman Center on the Baltimore Campus of the University of Maryland. The Reverend Manuel P. Roman, Director of the Center, was the celebrant of the Mass.

Because of the frequent inclement weather in February the usual time of meeting was changed to April which proved quite an improvement. The day was perfect.

Class of 1934 (Con't.)

The Class of 1934 held its 40th reunion at the Baltimore Hilton Inn under the capable leadership of our Chairman, Dr. William Schunick. Drs. Frederick Turner, co-chairman, Meyer Gotthelf, Peter McLean Lu, and Murray Mimeles served on this Reunion Committee, and performed an excellent job to make this Reunion the best ever.

Twenty-three classmates and their wives travelled from far and wide to attend this celebration.

States represented were California, Connecticut, New Jersey, North Carolina and Maryland.

Our group enjoyed the tour of our new Dental School, and were greatly impressed with the Faculty Room furnished by donations by the Class of 1934, in memory of our Honorary Class President, Dr. Paul A. Deems.

The cocktail hour and banquet was enjoyed by all, as we renewed friendships, and reminisced about our youthful years at the Baltimore College of Dental Surgery.

Dr. and Mrs. Ernest Nuttall, Professor Emeritus, Crown and Bridge were our honored guests.

Dr. Fred Turner conducted a solemn and meaningful Memorial Service, for those classmates who have passed away.

It is our fervent prayer that we meet twice again to celebrate our 45th and Golden Reunion.

William Schunick, Chairman
Frederick Turner, Co-chairman

CLASS REUNIONS

As you will note in the reporting of class reunion activities—four groups 1924, 1944, 1949, 1959 had no pictures taken. That's unfortunate, for the spirit and mood of the occasion is sometimes best illustrated by a photograph, and it's always good to have a permanent record of the event. A photographer was engaged to take pictures of the 50 year class and others at last years' annual banquet, but he failed to show. Other arrangements have been made for this June. Let's hope things will turn out better. When class reunions are held privately, it is up to the chairman to get photographs for publication in the Alma Mater.

Class of 1944

Eleven faithful and true members of the Class of 1944 returned to celebrate their 30th year of graduation from the Baltimore College of Dental Surgery, University of Maryland. The Class members and their wives enjoyed the cocktail time and dinner with show and dancing, but really missed all the guys and gals that should have also been present.

It was the consensus of this group and of numerous phone calls and letters that your correspondent received, that dictates, that in future years, provisions should be made in the scheduled program to allow for individual class reunions. We all felt that our attendance would have been far greater had we utilized this format in addition to the general alumni get togethers.

Conrad Inman, Jr.

Class of 1949

I wrote to all of the members of the tiny Class of 1949. Of the fifteen remaining members so few answered that they could attend that no special arrangements could be made. I hope that we can get together in 1979. Our hearts go out in sadness to our classmates Allen Rekant and Bill Muhlbauer who died since our last reunion.

The Class of 1964 definitely showed its interest in the University of Maryland School of Dentistry by returning for the June Week functions in record numbers. The dinner dance on Saturday night at the Hilton Inn was attended by thirty-one couples representing the ten-year reunion class. Eight tables were required for our group alone!

The previous evening consisted of a gala "crabs and beer" feast at Gordon's Restaurant in Pikesville near the host hotel. The out-of-towners delighted in this Baltimore tradition and renewed old friendships over piles of crab shells. This informal event drew a crowded room of fifty-eight people. The following day was dismal and rainy but a score of stalwart classmates and friends relived their student years with a picnic held at Patapsco State Park.

The committee wishes to thank all the returning members of the Class of 1964 for making this reunion a memorable occasion. May success and good health allow you to enjoy our next reunion.

The Class of 1969, celebrating its 5 year reunion, had an excellent turnout of twenty-six class members plus wives and friends, coming from as far as Tampa, Florida (i.e. — Dave Pulliam — who lost at the golf tourney but won a side bet at the pool table.)

In addition to the events of the Alumni Association, our class held a successful dinner at the Hilton Inn, highlighted by a six-hour open bar. Few revelers saw their way past the Hilton Inn that night!

Earlier in the day, several members participated in golf and tennis tourneys. The tennis tourney was capped by the finals doubles-match in which Walk Curland and Bob Morris humiliated a slow John Bullock and a well-tanned Pudge Chaput both of whom tried to play without hitting a backhand shot. The final score, 6-0, 6-1 for the "69" Championship.

Saturday we belatedly ended up at the McKeldin State Park for a picnic at which the anticipated crabs did not show up! The ball game was rained out and hangovers of the night before proved that the guys just can't drink the way they used to! Age is creeping up on us all — FAST!!!

Conrad Lucius Inman, Sr. Honored

(Text of Dean Salley's presentation May 31, 1974)

It is a distinct honor and a pleasure to present Doctor Conrad Lucius Inman, a distinguished citizen of Maryland and an oral surgeon of national reputation.

A native of North Carolina, Dr. Inman came to Maryland in 1912 to study dentistry at the Baltimore College of Dental Surgery. Since earning his Doctor of Dental Surgery degree in 1915, Dr. Inman has spent a lifetime serving the citizens of Baltimore and Maryland, first for 2 years as a general practitioner of dentistry and for the past 57 years as a highly skilled and empathetic oral surgeon. While the major portion of his professional activities have been devoted to Maryland dentistry, he has gained national recognition through his work with the American Society of Oral Surgeons, the American Board of Oral Surgery and the Middle Atlantic Society of Oral Surgeons which he helped to found.

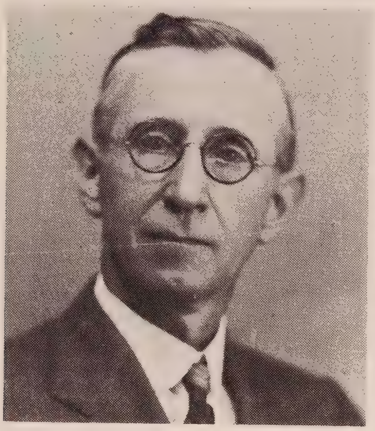
However, there is another measure of his devotion to his profession which cannot be expressed in such tangible ways. This most important characteristic of a health professional is Dr. Inman's deep sense of human kindness. His sincere concern for his patients and his love of his fellow man have served for three generations as special models to his family and his friends, as well as to his colleagues in the dental profession.

Because Dr. Inman has so unselfishly brought great credit to dentistry in Maryland, but more so because this gentle man has lived in his daily life of almost 80 years the many attributes which go to make a health profession respected and revered, it is fitting that the University of Maryland confer upon him the honorary degree of Doctor of Science in recognition of his many contributions to the health and welfare of Maryland citizens.

Mr. President, I am privileged to request that you confer the degree Doctor of Science on Conrad Lucius Inman.

Honored

Dr. Robert Lee Thacker, prominent Franklin retired dentist, died at the Staunton Manor Nursing Home at Staunton, Va. He was 95.



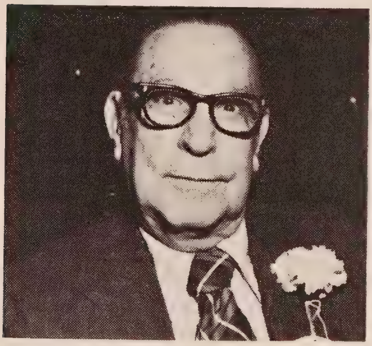
Dr. Robert Lee Thacker '98

Dr. Thacker began practicing dentistry in Franklin in 1898 following his graduation from Baltimore College of Dental Surgery (now the University of Maryland School of Dentistry) where he was gold medal man of his class and continued his profession for 46 years until he was forced to retire because of his health.

During the early days of his practice when transportation facilities were limited, Dr. Thacker traveled throughout the area bringing dental care to the people. He carried a portable drill and folding dental chair and worked in communities including Sugar Grove, Circleville, Riverton, Job, Whitmer and others.

Dr. Thacker was active in community affairs and served as mayor of Franklin and as a member of the town council. He was instrumental in establishing the present town water system which obtains water from a spring on Dry Run.

Several years ago Dr. Thacker was honored as the outstanding citizen of Franklin, Virginia. Among his survivors is a grandson, Dr. Hillard Hayzlett of Hagerstown, Md., also a graduate of our dental school class of '54.



Theophile Sousa '25

Honored

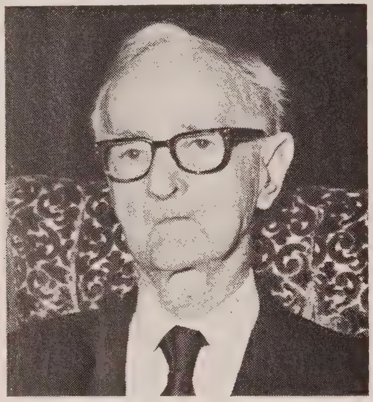
Dr. Theophile Sousa, a life member of the Massachusetts Dental Society, was honored at the recent Mid-winter Education Meeting of the Massachusetts Dental Society for his 50 years of service to dentistry.

Happy 100th Birthday

Dear Dr. Preis,

Thank you for your recent telephone call requesting photo and information regarding my father, Dr. J. A. Askew.

Father was born at Longtown, Mississippi, February 12, 1875, and spent his childhood at his father's plantation at Askew, Mississippi. He attended Mississippi State College and married Jessie Roby of Sardes, Mississippi, when a student at B.C.D.S.



JOHN A. ASKEW, D.D.S. '04

For ten years after graduating from B.C.D.S. Class of '04 he practiced dentistry at Sardes, Mississippi, leaving there with his family for Little Rock, Arkansas where he followed his profession until he retired at the age of 75, due to impaired eyesight. He devoted many hours of his practice to local charity.

Many interesting hobbies begun by Mrs. Askew and continued through the years by both contributed to the longevity of the couple and also to their happiness. His keen interest in collecting antiques afforded him much pleasure during his early retirement. Daily devotions practiced in the family left their spirits lifted and strengthened to better meet the issues of life.

Mrs. Askew passed away in 1973 at the age of 90. Father continues to be interested in the things they had worked with.

His interest in current events and his love and appreciation of friends and family have contributed to his alert mind and active body.

Father will celebrate his 100th birthday with his four children, Alice, of the home, John of Phoenix, Arizona, Mrs. W. E. Segrest of Batesville, Miss. and Mrs. John W. Watts of Wynne, Arkansas, six grandchildren and twelve great grandchildren.

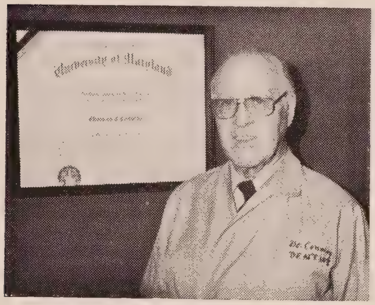
Father is a member of Immanuel Baptist Church, Magnolia Lodge of Masonry and the State Dental Society. He will attend his lodge meeting February 11th. The meeting will honor their oldest member with a reception.

Dr. Preis, your interest is certainly appreciated by father and me. I hope the foregoing is sufficient. The photo is enclosed.

Sincerely,
Alice Askew

Perseverance

In July of '73 I had my left foot amputated (osteo) but I returned to work autumn of '73 in a State Hospital similar to Shepherd Pratt, and I am retiring at age 70 next month.



THOMAS CONWAY '28

I'll be returning to private practice full time as of May 1st to earn my bread and butter — no toast and marmalade — just the nitty gritty of every day requirements. Hopefully I'll complete a minimum of three more years to average out 50 years — 1928 to '78.

Thus far except for a bad diabetic condition, I feel quite well and can still average 8 to 10 hours a day. Dentistry has been good to me (and I to it) but I still maintain it should be a part of medicine like the specialty of eye, ear, nose and throat. Also dentists should stop the inroads of auxiliary personnel into our profession — taking over duties which should be performed by dentists only. I am very much in favor of "group practice" of dentistry for better patient care. However the way things are going today leaves much to be desired regarding our profession.

Money Now Available For Maryland Dental Students And Alumni

The Endowment Fund of the Alumni Association of the University of Maryland Baltimore College of Dental Surgery recently made gifts to the Fund for Dental Health. These gifts provide earmarked funds for the use of University of Maryland Students and Alumni.

Dr. Don Brotman, Secretary-Treasurer of the Endowment Fund, further stated that the Fund for Dental Health has $12,600 on hand now for the exclusive use of Senior Dental Students at the University of Maryland. These particular monies came about as a result of gifts from friends of the late Dr. Walter Stevens.

In addition, the Fund for Dental Health now contains $50,000, intended solely for the use of Alumni of the University of Maryland College of Dentistry who are engaged in Post-doctoral studies involving one or more years in a recognized dental program that leads to a degree or certificate.

Interested persons should contact the Fund for Dental Health in Chicago, Illinois.

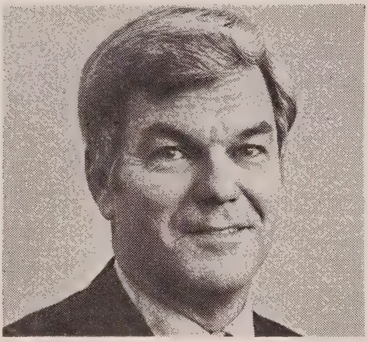
Appointed

Christopher J. O'Connell, Jr., D.D.S. of Ellicott City, Md. has been appointed chief of the section of dentistry, department of surgery, at St. Agnes Hospital. The announcement was made by Sister Alberta, administrator of the 462 bed hospital in the Southwest sector of Baltimore City.



CHRISTOPHER J. O'CONNELL, JR. '56

In his new capacity, Dr. O'Connell is responsible for the direction and management of the hospital's dental practice residency program, and as director of the hospital's outpatient dental clinic.

He succeeds Dr. Francis A. Sauer '35 of Towson who held the post for the past four years and who has been a member of the St. Agnes Hospital Dental Staff since 1942.

A native of Holyoke, Massachusetts, Dr. O'Connell received his B.S. degree from the College of the Holy Cross in Worcester, Massachusetts. He was awarded his D.D.S. degree from the University of Maryland's School of Dentistry.

Dr. O'Connell completed post graduate training in dental surgery at the U. S. Naval Hospital in Bremerton, Washington; and at Mercy Hospital and the University of Maryland Hospital in Baltimore.

Upon completion of his post graduate studies, he served as an instructor of oral dental surgery at the University of Maryland's School of Dentistry. In addition to his recent appointment at St. Agnes, he also serves as chief of the section of dentistry, department of surgery, Howard County General Hospital, and is a senior attending dental surgeon at Mercy Hospital and on the courtesy dental staffs at Bon Secours Hospital and North Arundel Hospital.

An active U. S. Naval reservist, Dr. O'Connell holds the rank of commander and serves as senior dental officer with the U. S. Naval Reserve Training Center located at Ft. McHenry, Maryland.

Dr. O'Connell holds national professional memberships in the American Dental Association, American Society of Dental Anesthesiology, American Society of Hospital Dentistry, American Society of Oral Surgeons, and the Middle Atlantic Society of Oral Surgeons. Locally, he is a member of the Maryland State Dental Association, Maryland Society of Oral Surgeons, Western Shore Dental Society, Baltimore City Dental Association, and the Baltimore County Dental Association.

The Search for a Dean

The work of the Search Committee continues. Since the previous report published in the Dental Newsletter, Winter 1974 issue, the Committee has reviewed the credentials of many people interested in the position of Dean of the Dental School. Applications were received from dental administrators, faculty, government and industry. By a process of elimination a list of selected candidates was prepared. The Committee has now completed a series of preliminary interviews of these candidates. The interviews were of 2 days duration and gave the candidates the opportunity to meet with representatives of the basic science and clinical faculties, dental students, postgraduate students, Deans of the various health profession schools, Chancellor Kuhn and other Administrators of the University.

The next step in the process of selection is to reduce the number of candidates based on the results of the preliminary interviews. Those candidates on the resulting list will be invited to return to the Dental School for a second in-depth interview by the Committee and the Chancellor.

From this group the Committee will select two or more candidates whose names will be submitted to the Chancellor at the earliest date for consideration.

Portrait of an Artist

SIDNEY LIEBERMAN '38

Sidney Lieberman, class of 1938, Baltimore College of Dental Surgery Dental School, University of Maryland, recently had a one man show of his photographs at a local bank in northeast Baltimore. Sidney graduated cum laude and was immediately appointed to the faculty where he served in the departments of Bacteriology and Pathology and later as a half-time instructor in operative dentistry. Sidney has lectured widely and has appeared as a clinician before the Baltimore City, Maryland State and the American Dental Association.

With the deaths of his two sons, he extended his interest in his hobbies and last year was featured in the Sun paper and on local television together with one of his students in jewelry making. He is married to the former Mignon Newman and is a strong advocate of an at-home hobby for everyone.

Biography

As a youngster, as a high-school student and on the college level I had a keen involvement in athletics and tennis in particular. Some thirty years ago, I was persuaded to forego tennis (it was not fashionable then) and to think in terms of the less strenuous activities. I tried golf but could not cope with the time requirements and so I began to look for activities that I could pick up and put down whenever so motivated. It was therefore very easy to migrate to photography and jewelry making. The literature and all materials were on hand, I was not dependent on others to form a match and the weather factor was non-existent. Also, the end product of my labors would yield a mechanical reproduction of what I had done which would have permanence and esthetic values.

Jewelry making by the lost wax process is really an extension of those techniques that are part of our daily work patterns, with imaginative design creativity and engineering essential ingredients. I recently completed a chain necklace where I logged over two hundred hours but this involvement in itself is a plus factor in that an all absorbing interest is generated.

Our techniques are quite unlike those of the commercial jeweler who largely relies on extruded and pre-formed shapes for his basic assembly. In the lost wax process, a wax form is used to develop the piece and the time element to me is of no serious consequence. It is indeed gratifying to closely examine each piece upon completion, knowing that it is solely of your doing and knowing that it will have utilitarian as well as esthetic values.

My involvement with photography began with my developing interest in travel and had its real spurt some fifteen years ago. At that time, we began what has become an almost yearly re-visit to Europe and I wanted a permanent pictorial record of the places of interest, the country-side and of the people. My first exposure to photography techniques was a stereo 35 mm camera that performed well enough but did not lend itself to projection. I still have in my library hundreds of stereo slides of our trip through the western part of the United States but one-at-a-time viewing becomes tedious and physically wearing. I soon graduated to 35 mm single lens reflex and am quite happy with this format. I have never taken a black and white picture although I have a tremendous regard for the more adventuresome who spend countless hours in the dark-room creating all sorts of imaginative effects with various solutions, filters, papers, etc. I am quite content with 2 x 2 slides and, when an exciting slide results, it is printed into an 11 x 14 by a custom photo finisher. My interest in photography is confined to the theory of camera techniques and I know absolutely next to nothing as to what goes on in the dark-room. For one thing, dark-room success is very uneven and many of my prints are returned for re-make even though premium prices are paid for this processing. Also, I find that I become easy prey to gadgetry and I don't want to become just as involved equipment wise in the printing phase as I am in the picture taking. Finally, I don't like the containment of working in a small dark space. There are many who would take issue with this but I am certain that these dissenters do not walk in and out of the x-ray room all day long as I must.

Some six years ago, I formed small classes of people interested in furthering their knowledge of color photography and have been doing so on an irregular basis since. There is no fee for the course, which is given on three successive Saturdays, and I think that these personal sessions have generated a sincere interest and sparked their desire for further independent development. In these sessions, the theory of picture taking is strongly stressed and their growth from start to finish is clearly evident and equally rewarding to me.

Twenty-two joyful members of the class of '55 journeyed to San Juan, Puerto Rico for their nineteen and a-half year reunion. Six fantastic days were spent in side splitting laughing, food gorging, inordinate imbibing, and sophomoric cavorting. Bob Wiener worked hard for many months to arrange this trip. In spite of strikes, hotel closings, and re-routed flights, he managed to get everyone together for the entire delightful time. Doris Wiener supported Bob in his often difficult and frustating task. Bob was tremendously helped by the non-aging San Juan Don Juan Luis Toro. Terrasita Toro and the lovely ladies of the Puerto Rico Dental Auxiliary were more than gracious and performed extraordinarily beyond the call of duty in conducting us in their own autos on a tour of old San Juan. We received a great honor at the Forteleza where the Toros arranged for us to be personally greeted by the charming wife of the governor of Puerto Rico.

The twenty-four-and-a-half year reunion will be held in New Orleans under the direction of Mary Pate Soper.

The twenty year reunion will be held in Baltimore in June. Notice will be sent.

The University of Maryland Dental Alumni Group of Puerto Rico held a very cordial meeting with Alumni secretary Dr. Joseph P. Cappuccio last January 29th.

The cocktail party held under the tropical moonlight at the poolside terrace of the El San Juan Hotel was attended by Puerto Rican graduates of B.C.D.S. as well as a group of stateside members of the Class of 1955 and honored guests. Among the latter were Dr. Lynden M. Kennedy, president of the A.D.A. and Dr. Eduardo Rolon, president of the Colegio de Cirujanos Dentistas de Puerto Rico. Co-hosts at the affair were Dr. Cappuccio, Dr. Guillermo E. Orraca (50), chairman of the local alumni group, and Dr. Luis Toro (55), who helped organize his 20 year class reunion at San Juan.

Nostalgia was in the atmosphere and many episodes of life at B.C.D.S. were re-created under the spell of good fellowship, pleasant company and rum drinks. Plans for future meetings were discussed with great enthusiasm and we have no doubts that next year we will have an even better one.

The New Jersey Alumni Section held its annual Dinner Meeting on Tuesday, October 29, 1974 at the Coronet, Irvington, New Jersey. It was a particularly good meeting. We were honored with the presence of Acting Dean Dr. Errol L. Reese. Dr. Reese presented an encouraging and enthusiastic report on the progress at Alma Mater. He described the innovative Senior Dental Extern Program. Under the program selected senior students are afforded the opportunity to work in a private dental office for a two month period. Doctor Reese felt that the program gave the students a realistic appreciation of a dental practice on a day to day basis. We were also honored by the attendance of Dr. William R. Patteson, President of the National Alumni Association. Doctor Patteson gave an outline of the varied activities of the Association. He gave a detailed report on the function of the Search Committee for the New Dean.

Dr. Martin Weiselberg was elected as our new president. Marty is a dedicated alumnus and he has all of our best wishes. He will assume the duties of his office at the next dinner meeting in October. All the Alumni and their wives were asked to contact their friends and classmates to urge them to continue their membership and help with the good work of the New Jersey Section.

Our annual spring alumni reception was held during the District of Columbia Dental Meeting on Monday, April 7, at the Shoreham Hotel and as usual it was a happy success. The alumni was a good host, serving hot and cold Hors D'oeuvres and the customary refreshments. The faithful arrived on time, renewed friendships, swapped stories, solved all political problems, met a few new faces, departed full of good spirits, vowing to return with the lemmings next spring.

Endowment Fund

The June 1, 1974 meeting of the Trustees of the Endowment Fund of the University of Maryland Baltimore College of Dental Surgery, Inc. was called to order by Chairman Dr. Toomey at 9:10 A.M. In addition to the Chairman, Drs. Veltre, Kershaw, Brotman, Patteson, Cappuccio were present.

The minutes of the meeting of 1 November 1973 were read and approved after deciding to dispense with the minutes of June 1973. Dr. Brotman gave the Secretary-Treasurer's report, which was subsequently filed.

Dr. Brotman moved that the $1,260 given us by the estate and friends of Dr. Walter Stevens be given to the Fund for Dental Health and that these funds be earmarked to be used only by Senior students in attendance at the University of Maryland Dental School, as specified in Dr. Stevens' will. This was seconded by Dr. Cappuccio and passed unanimously.

Dr. Cappuccio moved that our Trust fund make an annual donation of $100 to the ADA Relief Fund. This was seconded by Dr. Veltre and passed unanimously.

Dr. Brotman moved that $5,000 be given to the Fund for Dental Health and earmarked so that the funds generated may be used only by Graduates of the University of Maryland Baltimore College of Dental Surgery who are seeking advanced degrees or certificates at a recognized University and which course of study is at least one year in duration. This was seconded by Dr. Cappuccio and passed unanimously.

The officers elected by acclamation were: Chairman—Dr. Lewis Toomey, Secretary-Treasurer—Dr. Don Brotman.

It was decided that the next meeting of the Trustees will be on November 10, 1974, immediately preceding the University of Maryland reunion at the ADA meeting.

The meeting adjourned at 9:56 A.M.

Respectfully submitted,

Murder of a Dental Student

The murder of a Baltimore dental student must be a rare occurrence in the history of dental education in this city that embraces 135 years and many thousands of students. Indeed, this crime may be the only one of its description.

On February 3, 1910 Miss Marie Lewson, 24, of Portland, Me., was shot and killed instantly by Elija Baba Badal, 30, a Persian, who then committed suicide by the same gun. The victim had begun her dental studies at the University of Maryland four months before her death; her murderer was a medical student at Maryland. The shooting occurred at a boarding house. In a letter written by Badal and found by the police after his death he declared his love for the dental student. She had encouraged him in his attentions and had expressed her love for him. The promise of tragedy began to unfold when the girl suddenly changed her feelings toward Badal but refused to give any reason for the change. The tragic end of the affair came after the medical student had carried the weapon for some time with a gradually strengthening intent to kill.

ATTENTION

Undoubtedly many of our Alumni have achieved honors and merited distinction, but the facts surrounding such occasions have escaped our attention. Perhaps modesty or indifference has interfered with the news reaching us. This is regrettable, for one of the principal purposes of the ALMA MATER is to serve as a repository of events.

Therefore, we urge you to send us information so that we may print the news.

Save? By Mail? Don't Kid Yourself.

Why is our man smiling? Because he holds two identical packages of dental supplies. One from a mail order "discount house." One from us. With all of our services considered, ours costs less.

Mail order is no match for us. The U. S. Postal Service is no match for personal calls and prompt delivery by your own Healthco representative, supplemented by expert phone service.

Your full-service supplier saves you money, time and problems in other ways — equipment repair; equipment financing, lease or rental; office location, planning and decoration; practice management counselling.

Confidence is a big Responsibility

Your patients come to you because they expect the best. A successful practice is built on a patient's confidence in your knowledge, techniques, and other skills. But they come to you for other reasons as well.

Your patients can depend on you. They depend on you to keep up with the latest procedures, and the latest findings in Dentistry. They depend on you to take preventive action and to give advice.

Your facilities are up to date with all the necessary equipment capable of handling your patients' problems when they arise.

You are accessible to your patients, and your suppliers are accessible to you. Patients know that when there is an emergency, you will be able to take care of them — in most cases without delay.

You are convenient to your patients. Though most practices consist of the people in the surrounding community, there are those who come from greater distances. To them you are more than just a dentist, you are a friend.

More dentists come to Aronovitch Dental Laboratory for these same reasons. Aronovitch Dental Laboratory is the Baltimore area's largest lab specializing in fabricating porcelain fused to gold, porcelain jackets, and aluminous porcelain jackets. We are the largest because our practice too is built on confidence.

Yes Doctor, we at Aronovitch Dental Laboratory have a big responsibility.

THE WEISS ATTACHMENT was developed over 30 years ago with considerable insight into the future requirements of prosthetic dentistry. Custom machined for each case, THE WEISS ATTACHMENT, has been geometrically designed to incorporate these unique advantages:

- AUTOMATIC SEATING — Tapered mesial distally and buccal lingually . . . acts as a guide to insure ease of insertion and proper fit. Separate stabilizing and retentive factors assure passive positive retention.
- ADJUSTMENT FREE — Dual taper eliminates friction, wear and distortion.
- VERSATILE — Slim, bulkless, construction requires minimal tooth reduction and vertical space . . . can be used where other attachments are contraindicated.
- TOTAL ESTHETICS — Design conforms to the desired contour of abutments . . . reduces overbuilding . . . no visible metal on buccal or labial surfaces.

THE WEISS ATTACHMENT HAS BEEN USED SUCCESSFULLY IN THOUSANDS OF CASES

OUR NEW DEAN
BALTIMORE COLLEGE OF DENTAL SURGERY
DENTAL SCHOOL
UNIVERSITY OF MARYLAND

ERROL L. REESE, D.D.S.

A native of West Virginia, Dr. Reese received his B.S. in biology from Fairmont State College and his D.D.S. from the West Virginia University School of Dentistry. He served in the U.S. Dental Corps for three years and earned the defense service medal. He received his M.S. in oral biology and a certificate of training in prosthodonitcs from the University of Detroit School of Dentistry.

Commenting on his appointment, Dr. Reese stated, "The awesome responsibility of being appointed the dean of the first dental school in the world, and the challenge of not only perpetuating excellence in dental education but continuing to strive for the improvement of oral health for the citizens of this state, is a challenge that I accept. The cooperation of all concerned should make possible continued progress."

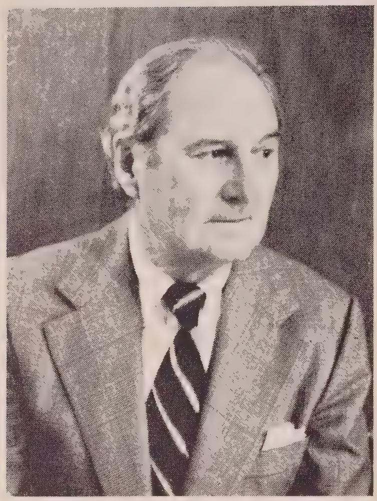
The President's Message



KYRLE W. PREIS, '29

As reported in our last "News Letter" the single most important event since last June has been the appointment of Dr. Errol L. Reese as our new dean. The Alumni Association strongly supported his selection, and we are happy to report that we have every reason to be pleased. Dean Reese has throughout this year worked closely with the liaison committee of the school and alumni, attended Alumni gatherings in New York, Puerto Rico, New Jersey, District of Columbia and West Virginia, the only one he missed because of a previous commitment was the Atlanta meeting where he sent Dr. Charles Pridgeon Associate Dean for Alumni Affairs and Dr. Robert Haroth to represent the school. As president I also attended these meeting and everywhere there was a good turnout and an obvious display of approval and optimism. So alumni relations with the school and the College Park administration are excellent. President Wilson Elkins, Dr. B. Herbert Brown, Chairman of the Board of Regents, Dr. Samuel H. Hoover, secretary of the Board of Regents attended last year's June Week Banquet held at Hunt Valley Inn. Arrangements have been made for the same accommodations this year under the chairmanship of Dr. Robert Bates. Golf—Crab Party—Class Reunions—and the alumni banquet all seem to be well supported. Doctor Harry Levin, class of 1926, who will be celebrating his 50-year reunion, is to be the recipient of the Distinguished Alumnus Award for 1976. Harry has been a loyal alumnus, active in all phases of professional life, and is most deserving of the highest honor this association can bestow.

Also mentioned in the Newsletter: an attempt would be made to complete the up-dating of our alumni files. Not an easy task when dealing with more than 4,500 names. So please assist us when you find errors. Importantly we now have a new full time secretary Miss Mary Hagerman in our alumni office at the school, 528-7129 are code 301. If you need any information call or write her.

Your officers and committeemen are constantly meeting to discuss ways to improve our organization, maintain loyal membership, and attract new support. We need all the help we can get. Your suggestions and ideas are most welcome. Hope to see you in June.

Our Heritage

Under "Miscellaneous Notices" the American Journal of Dental Science of March 1845 presented a commentary on the first five years of that historic experiment in dental education, the Baltimore College of Dental Surgery. The introductory part of the "Notice" is presented, with slight editing for compactness.

> It may be gratifying to those who have been watching the progress of this institution, from its inception to the present time, and who have regarded its success a very doubtful contingency, and its very existence, consequently, of very brief duration; we say, it gives us pleasure to inform such friends, who have had such anxieties and doubts, though in all kindness, sincerity and good will, that they may dispel them forever, and regard the question of the existence, continuance and future success of the college, as no longer a matter of experiment, but, henceforth, settled.

So, 131 years later, the Alma Mater is happy to publish the summary of the trial period of five years, years that raised the status of the B.C.D.S. from "experiment" to that of an eduring institution that has survived as the honorably perpetuated and strongly acclaimed first dental college in the world.

Dean's Report

My first academic year as Dean of your Alma Mater is drawing to a close. It has been particularly inspiring to see faculty, students and members of our Alumni join together in the common interest of maintaining the quality of our dental educational program. With their help, the normal transitional period during the change in administration was exceptionally smooth.

Members of the Alumni have contributed generously to the Dental School, during this difficult financial time. The officers of the Alumni Association have also given generously of their time and have been particularly helpful in assisting me to become more responsive to the graduates of our School.

As we complete this first year, I would like to thank the officers of the Alumni Association, Dr. Charles T. Pridgeon, Associate Dean for Continuing Education and Alumni Affairs, and his assistant, Dr. Robert W. Haroth, for the tremendous efforts they have put forth in organizing our new Office of Alumni Affairs. The faculty wives also merit a special vote of thanks for their assistance in updating and correcting our mailing list.

The Office of Alumni Affairs is now well established. It is our hope that during the coming years the services of this Office will prove to be increasingly valuable to the members of our Alumni. The School is indeed fortunate to have leaders like Dr. Pridgeon and Dr. Haroth to assist in developing a new era of cooperation with our Alumni. Your individual assistance and suggestions concerning this new endeavor are certainly welcome.

Forget That Myth About Washington's Set of Wooden Teeth

By ISAAC REHERT

Feature Writer for the Baltimore Sun

It is true, as many people believe, that in the year of the Declaration of Independence, barbers and blacksmiths in America performed a lot of the nation's dentistry. Loving fathers yanked out aching teeth for their pain-wracked children, and friends did the same for devoted friends.

But because barbers and blacksmiths, parents and friends, in an emergency, performed a few of the functions now the province of professional dentists does not mean that in 1776 in America there were no dentists.

This notion, the colonial America was without professional dentists, is one of the unfortunate misconceptions that Dr. J. Ben Robinson would like to take advantage of this Bicentennial year to correct.

Dr. Robinson is a former dean of the University of Maryland dental school and a former professor there of the history of dentistry.

Now in his 93rd year, he is living in retirement; but he is not so retired that he doesn't become angry enough to shout about "stupidity" when even dentists don't know enough about their own professional history not to repeat and perpetuate the misconception.

With the present emphasis on knowing our early history, Dr. Robinson would have present day American become aware that while Thomas Jefferson was insisting on his compatriots' right to pursue happiness, professional dentists were easing the aches and pains of that pursuit with professional care of their teeth.

Dentistry as a profession is as old as toothaches, Dr. Robinson says; even Biblical Sodom in 800 B.C. had dentists.

Young Revolutionary America had its dentists, too. At the time of the Declaration, there were 79 professional dentists in the 13 colonies, 15 of them practicing in Maryland.

Paul Revere was a dentist—among other things; there are still copies around of advertisements he put in the contemporary papers to sell prosthetics that he made.

Paul Revere learned dentistry in Boston from John Baker. Baker, like many others, was a traveling dentist. He set up offices in numerous cities. Weeks before his arrival, he would put an announcement in the paper, letting people know when he was coming to town, and then the toothaches and abscesses, the holes yearning to be plugged with fillings or false teeth, would be lined up in waiting.

Though Baker's permanent home was in Boston, he made regular tours to Philadelphia, Annapolis, Arlington, Fredericksburg and Williamsburg.

He was the first dentist with no bona fide medical degree who used the title of doctor.

Most of those early dentists were imports from the old country. It was Maryland that provided the first native-born American dentist, Benjamin Fendall, who began life in 1753 near Port Tobacco (Portoback) in Charles county.

He was the great-great grandson of Josias Fendall, the fourth colonial governor of Maryland (1656-1660).

No one knows where Fendall got his medical and dental training, but Dr. Robinson, among other authorities, is convinced from the tone of his writings that he was well prepared both in medicine and surgery.

In a newspaper advertisement, he himself enumerated the scope of his services: "He cures the scurvy in the gums be it ever so bad. . . . He prevents teeth from growing rotten, keeps such as are decayed from becoming worse. . . . He fills up with gold or lead those that are hollow."

Among Benjamin Fendall's papers is a bill sent to Martha Washington for a denture containing four artificial teeth. The cost was $28.

In those days the dentist's chair was something to be terrified of. There was no anesthesia, and because the mouth had to be kept in an open position, the patient couldn't even resort in his anguish, as people with other ailments might do, to biting the bullet.

The only painkiller then was alcohol; before treatment, the patient was given license to get himself thoroughly drunk. After all the extractions, like now, patients were fitted with artificial teeth.

One of the grossest of misconceptions about dentistry in 1776 concerns artifiical teeth, namely those of George Washington, which, legend would have us believe, were so primitive as to be made of wood.. Not so, says Dr. Robinson. The father of our country owned six different sets of false teeth and not a single one of them was made of wood. Life wasn't all that crude, at least not for gentleman-farmer and a President.

Washington's favorite set was made by John Greenwood. The plate was made of swaged (or fitted) gold, and the teeth were carved of hippopotamus bone.

The two plates, at their hinge, were held open by a little spring, which kept the upper plate from tumbling down when the wearer was speaking. This forced the first President to exert a little extra effort when he wanted to keep his mouth shut.

Those presidential teeth, as a matter of fact, though on display at the Smithsonian Institution, are the property of the Maryland School of Dentistry. They were given to Dr. Chapin A. Harris, a former dean of the Baltimore College of Dental Surgery where they were on display from 1929 to 1953.

And speaking of the history of dentistry, Dr. Robinson himself is a bit of a historical curiosity in the nation's dental circles.

He was born in 1883 in Clarksburg, W.Va., the son of a Confederate soldier who had fought at the Battle of Gettysburg. He took a bachelor's degree in 1908, taught school for a while, then came to study at the University of Maryland dental school where he graduated in 1914.

After graduation, he stayed on to teach and become dean, continuing there until 1953, when he was compulsorily retired at the age of 70.

He was then invited to West Virginia University in Morgantown to set up a new dental college there. He stayed there six years before returning to Baltimore, where, since then, he has been working on a number of historical research projects, including a study of his own family.

He lives at Rainbow Hall, the Baptist home for the elderly.

THE EVE OF REVOLT

"The Revolution was effected before the war commenced. The Revolution was in the minds and hearts of the people. . . . This radical change in the principles, opinions, sentiments, and affections of the people was the real American Revolution."

"Did someone help you when you were in dental school?"

"I remember the times when people helped me. There were discouraging moments when others gave me guidance that enabled me to make it through. And there was financial help when I really needed it.

"I've never forgotten that assistance. That's why I'm involved with the AFDH campaign! It's a way of repaying some of the help I enjoyed when I needed it.

"If you feel the way I do, you can help too. Simply make a contribution to the American Fund for Dental Health! Your check will help provide scholarships for some of the country's 20,000 dental students, and it will help support the many research projects that ultimately help you practice better dentistry.

"I hope you'll send your check right now. There's really no better way of remembering the help you got when you were in dental school!"

DENTAL HYGIENE

Twenty-nine senior dental hygiene students will be receiving their baccalaureate degrees in Baltimore Civic Center on June 4, 1976. For those of you who remember, this is a significant increase in a very short period of time. Graduation day in 1972 saw ten senior dental hygiene students receive their diplomas. Since that graduation in 1972, the Baltimore College of Dental Surgery has graduated approximately 75 dental hygienists. Most of these health professionals are working in dental offices assisting in the provision of high quality dental care to society. Best wishes and good luck to the Dental Hygiene Class of 1976.

The Maryland Probe

For the fifth continuous year the Maryland Probe has been published by the students of the Dental School, University of Maryland. The Probe appears as a bimonthly tabloid newspaper whose purpose is to provide timely information on school events, personalities, organizations, and problems facing the dental profession. Over the past year regular features such as "Impressions (the Dean's column), SDA reports, current research, and reports by the fraternities have helped The Probe become a major organ of communication between Dental School students, faculty, and staff.

Under the current editorship of Stephen Eisenberg, representatives of The Probe have participated in national conferences on Dental Journalism and Dental Education. The Probe was critiqued at the ADA Council on Journalism Workshop at Michigan State University and was evaluated as ". . . a very readable, interesting, and informative publication." Our layout-design, photography, and artwork were given special praise, and we were rated highly as a student publication. Also, The Probe was one of five student publications participating at the ADA Council on Journalism Annual Conference in Chicago and at the American Association of Dental Schools Conference in Miami.

The Probe is always looking for new contributors. Articles, letters, or announcements that are to be published should be sent to: Editor, Maryland Probe, Box 205, Dental School, University of Maryland, Baltimore, Maryland 21201.

Dr. Samuel Henry Hoover

Distinguished Alumnus 1975

Twenty years ago the Alumni Association established the Distinguished Alumnus Award. It is given annually to a dentist in recognition of constant devotion to the art and science of Dentistry.

Samuel H. Hoover, '25

This year's recipient is Doctor Samuel Henry Hoover.

Sam graduated from our school exactly 50 years ago, so he is celebrating with his classmates their golden anniversary this evening.

Sam was born in Phoenix, Baltimore County, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Franklin Hoover. Because of his father's employment with the Bethlehem Steel Company the family moved to Sparrows Point where Sam received his elementary and high school education. Where incidentally, he became interested in sports, particularly soccer, and later after college helped organize and manage the Bethlehem Steel Soccer Club, a professional group which played in national competition.

His routine visits to a congenial local dentist aroused his curiosity and interest, so he decided to study for the profession at the University of Maryland Dental School.

Upon his graduation in 1925 he spent the next 3 years as instructor at the School and at the same time began his practice in Dundalk where he remained for 49 years. Until quite recently he owned and operated the Dundalk Medical Arts Building.

Sam has always been a strong organization man. He joined the Baltimore City Dental Society—served on its executive council—as well as on the board of Governors of the Maryland State Dental Association. Some years later as the population of Baltimore County grew, attracting a number of dentists many of the more recent graduates, Sam helped organize, was a charter member and became the first president of the Baltimore County Dental Society. Later he was elected president of the parent body, the Maryland State Dental Association.

Sam has always been a supporter of his Alma Mater, and deeply concerned with the relationship of alumni with faculty of the School as well as with the administration of the greater University of Maryland. His concern with the caliber of dental education was put to good use by his service on the Maryland State Board of Dental Examiners, a six-year term of office which culminated with his presidency. Several years ago he was made an honorary member of Omicron Kappa Upsilon, a prestigious Dental Society.

As we can see from the foregoing, Sam has contributed substantially to the well being of our profession and brought credit to its standing in the community.

However, Dr. Hoover has not neglected other activities, he was a charter member and president of the Dundalk Rotary Club. A three-time president of the Wakefield Association in the community of Timonium where he now resides.

Sometime ago Sam bought a farm and on that farm he raised horses, Hereford cattle and pigs, and ever the organization man, he wound up being president of the National Hereford Swine Record Association.

Sam even found time to do a little politicking—he served as chairman of the zoning Appeal Board for Baltimore County—and as treasurer of the Democratic Fund raising party in Baltimore County.

Presently, Dr. Hoover is serving as Trustee for Western Maryland College, where this past month the library was dedicated in honor of Dr. Samuel and Elsie Hoover.

Finally as the first dentist ever to be appointed to the Board of Regents of the University of Maryland, he enjoys he confidence of that body and is somewhat responsible for the cordial relationship which exists between the administration at College Park—the dean and faculty at the dental school and the Alumni Association.

At this time, with Sam's family—Elsie, his wife; his brother Walter Franklin Hoover, Jr. and his wife Doris; his brother-in-law Frank A. Wright and his wife Lillian; his sister-in-law Mrs. Wilma Wright—we share with them our pride in honoring Dr. Hoover.

Mr. President on behalf of the Alumni Association, I present to you, Dr. Samuel Henry Hoover, with the request that you bestow on him the Distinguished Alumnus Award" for 1975.

Fore Shortened

All his life a dignified English barrister, with a considerable income, had dreamed of playing Sandringham, one of Great Britain's exclusive golf courses. One day he made up his mind to chance it, since he was traveling in the area. When he asked at the desk if he might play the course, the club's secretary explained that he had to be a member or a guest of a member. As he turned to leave, the lawyer spotted a slightly familiar figure seated in the lounge. It was Lord Willoughby Parham.

He approached and said, "I beg your pardon, your lordship, but my name is Higginbotham of the London solicitors Higginbotham, Willoughby and Barclay. I should like to ask your loard ship's indulgence. Might I play this beautiful course as your guest?"

Lord Parham gave Higginbotham a long look and asked, "Church?"

"Church of England, sir."

"Education?"

"Eton, sir, and Oxford, with Honors."

"Service?"

"Brigadier, sir. Victoria Cross. Knight of the Garter."

"Campaigns?"

"Dunkirk. El Alamein, sir."

"Languages?"

"Tutor in French and fluent German."

His lordship considered briefly, then turned to the club's secretary and said, "Nine holes."

It was an honor to be Chairman of our 50th Reunion. Invitations were sent to the entire Class.

Mrs. Phillips and I reserved a Hospitality Suite for Friday and Saturday at Hunt Valley Inn for cocktails and conversation. On Friday evening we went down in a body for our reserved dining room reunion dinner. There were sixteen classmates and ten lovely ladies—our wives. After dinner, pictures were taken of the group. We returned to the Hospitality Room for a wonderful evening together.

On Saturday we were honored to be seated together at the General Alumni luncheon in honor of Past Presidents. After lunch we were given free transportation to tour the new Dental School. On Saturday evening there was a general reunion cocktail party and dinner dance. We had a reserved table and were presented with 50-Year Certificates.

Class of 1940

The Class of 1940, having our 35th Class Reunion this year, was the Centennial Class. Seventeen entered as Freshmen in 1936, of which 3 were lost along the four years, Thirteen graduated. Of these, nine are presumed to be living today.

Of the nine, three of these acknowledged the event, and of the others, no word. The writer was the only one present at the reunion banquet, so that we had about a 10% turnout of the class, which, under National Alumni Statistics, is supposed to be pretty good!

Mary and I were very graciously granted a table of our own for the evening, and we filled it with good friends, which made it an entirely enjoyable evening.

People are still asking me about the dove that flew to me and roosted on my head for awhile! Like, who paid the dove, what did I pay to have the dove trained to do it, did I really have to do this just to focus attention on the lone attendent of my reunion, all that stuff. Well, I tell you—my only thoughts were to hope that the dove had not been fed too well too recently, or I would have been a worse mess than my 35th Class Reunion!

Seated, second row: Alvin Aisenberg, Mrs. Wilhins, Marty Grossbart, Mrs. Benavent, Mrs. Trone, Mrs. Brown, Mrs. Feindt, Mrs. Kramer, Mrs. Voorhees.

Standing, third row: Russ Gigliotti, Bob Long, John Cadden, Bob George, Arturo Benavent, Bernie Wilhins, Bernie Brown, Fred Feindt, Charlie Kramer, Jim Trone, Bob Merriam, Harry Dressel.

The Class of 1945 held its 30-year reunion on May 29, 1975 at the Hunt Valley Inn. Dinner was preceded by a cocktail hour at which familiar friends were happily reunited. Of the seventeen alumni present, twelve were accompanied by their wives. Each member of the class gave a brief resume of his life and Bernie Brown acted as the MC of the evening. Harry Dressel, John Markel, Jim Trone, Bob Merriam, and Russ Gigliotti also served with Bernie on the reunion committee.

Chairman

Class of 1950

I am happy to report that there were twenty-eight returning graduates of the Class of 1950 attending the reunion banquet on Saturday evening. Twenty-six of the men brought their lovely wives. An informal cocktail party and dinner was held on the Thursday of June Week at the Hunt Valley Country Club with twenty-four classmates and their wives in attendance. Many wrote expressing regrets that they could not attend.

All present expressed their delight with the entire evening, the only complaint being that the time passed too quickly.

Those attending were:

The twenty-year reunion held in Baltimore was smaller than previous ones because of the large turn-out at the nineteen-and-a-half in Puerto Rico due to the excellent planning of Bob Wiener and Luis Toro. Those attending enjoyed the June week activities. We also celebrated with a secluded, delightful cocktail party. It was great fun measuring waist lines and counting the number of hair per square millimeter of scalp. Horrors! pictures of grandchildren were waved and bragged about.

The next round-up will be the twenty-fourth-and-a-half to be held in New Orleans. Gold foil-edged invitations will be sent.

The faithful of the Class of 1960 gathered to celebrate our 15th year of liberation from the beautiful old buildings of Greene Street. The members and their families enjoyed the tour of the new facilities and thirsted for a cool one from Ruth's and one last look at the great wall of China.

This year marked what must undoubtedly be a first. The West Virginia contingent met, had a "few" drinks and no one got arrested. Fortunately there were no "parrots" present.

Poor attendance was attributed by those present to lack of survivors. This class having the highest mortality rate of any since the class of 1940. Many glasses were raised to our missing and plans were made for our 20th reunion to be held in conjunction with the annual meeting of the. . . .

The Class of 1965 had its tenth year reunion this past Spring when we gathered with the rest of the general alumni at Hunt Valley Inn on May 29th through the 31st. The class had an excellent turnout with 38 of its members returning for the reunion. Many activities were planned and well attended for the two day festivities. On Friday the 30th, a Tennis Tournament of men's doubles and mixed doubles was held at the Baltimore Hilton for the Class of '65. Also on that day, our class members joined the general alumni at the Hunt Valley Golf Club for a golf tournament. That evening a grand time was had at the crab feast held in the Country Club followed by a cocktail party specifically for our class. The following day was spent in picnicking at Patapsco State Park where "A" section took on "B" section in softball, touring the dental school for part of the afternoon and then winding up with a dinner dance at the Hunt Valley Inn. Sunday was then proclaimed a day of rest to allow everyone's liver to recover.

Approximately forty class members attended our five year reunion for at least one of the many June Week activities. Our class got an early start with an evening at Limestone Valley Dinner Theater on Thursday. Twenty-two of our class attended. We continued our celerbation on Friday evening with a cocktail party at Hunt Valley Inn, which lasted until the wee hours of the morning. The Hunt Valley Inn provided an ideal place for the Reunion, offering golf, tennis, swimming, and a relaxed scenic view of Baltimore County, in addition to the deluxe accommodations. On Saturday, The General Reunion had a dinner-dance with some excellent entertainment which offered all of us a thoroughly enjoyable evening.

The Committee wishes to thank our class for their excellent response in making this a most enjoyable and memorable occasion. May success and good health allow all of us to enjoy our next reunion.

Notice — Now In Effect

At a recent meeting of the officers and members of the executive council, it was decided that in the future the "Alma Mater" will be mailed only to dues paying members.

All alumni activities such as receptions at national meetings—honoring the 50 year grads during June week, and other social functions are all supported thru your annual dues. But the heaviest financial burden is the Alma Mater. With a mailing list in excess of 4000—with printing and handling costs constantly rising, we cannot afford the luxury of free distribution of this publication. Furthermore it is grossly unfair to the dues paying member, who in essence is paying for someone's free ride.

The association is grateful for the loyal support our members have shown in the past and we sincerely hope that more fellow alumni will share our efforts to make the association truly worthwhile.

The New Jersey Alumni Section held its annual Dinner Meeting on Tuesday, November 29, 1975 at the Coronet, Irvington, New Jersey. It was the largest meeting in the last five years. The attendance was very gratifying. We were honored with the presence of Dean Errol L. Reese. He gave us a report on current happenings at Alma Mater. He emphasized to us the importance of the Alumni and welcomed visits by the Alumni to Baltimore. Dean Reese told us, also, that alumni affairs would be incorporated into the duties of the Associate Dean for Continuing Education and Alumni Affairs. He felt confident that this new administrative structure would improve contact between the dental school and the Alumni. Dean Reese extended to us the greetings of the National Alumni Association.

Dr. Martin Weiselberg was installed as our new president for a two-year term. Dr. Bernard Tell was elected secretary and Dr. Barbara Bucko Rocco became our president-elect. This excellent slate of officers will maintain the vitality of the New Jersey Section. Dr. Weiselberg extended our sincere congratulations and best wishes to Dr. Reese on his appointment as Dean.. Dean Reese remained for a long while after the conclusion of the meeting to answer questions and discuss many areas of concern at our Alma Mater and dentistry in general. The meeting was most enjoyable and we urge continued support from the membership for the New Jersey Section.

Alumni Meet in San Juan Puerto Rico

The Puerto Rico Chapter of the University of Maryland Dental Alumni Association held a dinner reception last January 28th. The dinner, preceded by a cocktail party, had as its honored guests Dean Errol L. Reese and his lovely wife Julie, Dr. Kyrle Preis, President of the Alumni Association, and Dr. Joseph P. Cappuccio, his delightful Rocella and daughter Mary Louise. Dr.. Cappuccio, of course, is Secretary of the Alumni Association, Trustee for our Fourth District of the A.D.A. and an old and dear friend of all Puerto Rican Marylanders.

Dean Reese had an opportunity to meet quite a few of our old timers and in turn made a very favorable impression with his after-dinner speech. Doctors Preis and Cappuccio also addressed the group and a most pleasant time was had by all who attended.

The Puerto Rico Chapter elected new officers for 1976 and among the cheers of his colleagues Dr. Manuel A. Rosso accepted the Presidency. Two other members of the Class of 1950, Dr. Guillermo E. Orraca and Dr. Carlos J. Noya were appointed as Secretary-Treasurer and Editor respectively.

Local B.C.D.S. alumni present were: Dr. Vincente Batlle (66) and wife Freya, Dr. Arturo Benavent, Jr. (45) and wife Skippy, Dr. Ramon A. Cabanas (48) and wife Peggy, Dr. Guillermo T. Alumni Meet in Atlanta Georgia

March 28, 1976

For several years past the alumni association has attempted to gather the graduates from the Southeastern area to a no host reunion luncheon during the Thomas P. Hinman Meeting in Atlanta, with not much success. This year things worked out much better. Dean Errol Reese who has been most faithful in working withthe association in these affairs had a previous committment, but he sent Charles Pridgeon Associate Dean for Alumni affairs and Bob Haroth to represent the school. Joe Cappuccio organized the program with C. R. Gaines and Bob Buchner said grace before the meal. Everybody was introduced. An explanation of new school policies was followed by a spirited general discussion.

Rhode Island Alumni Section

April 26, 1976

The Rhode Island Alumni Section held their annual dinner meeting in conjunction with the Rhode Island State Dental Association at the Sheraton-Islander Inn, Newport, R.I. Despite inclement weather a number of the faithful came to greet the alumni officers and meet our new Dean Errol Reese. The social hour preceding the dinner was most enjoyable, as these occasions usually are. Jimmy Kershaw reported on the progress of the John E. Fogarty Fund. A former congressman from Rhode Island and honorary member of the Rhode Island Dental Association. Mr. Fogarty a highly respected and articulate spokesman for health programs was a strong supporter of the Dental Profession not only with the alumni group, but all members of the dental profession. An annual lecture at the dental school in honor of Congressman Fogarty is contemplated.

The Rhode Island Section unanimously went on record to support the candidacy of our secretary Dr. Joe Cappuccio for the office of President Elect of the American Dental Association. Joe is a native of Rhode Island, and has over the years developed strong and loyal ties, with dentists in that area.

DIPLOMACY—the art of letting someone have your way.

— Vare

Elected

D. Robert Swinehart, D.D.S., Baltimore, Maryland, was named President of The American Association of Orthodontists at the Dental Specialty's 76th Annual Session in New York City.

D. Robert Swinehart '37

The American Association of Orthodontists—the oldest specialty group in dentistry—numbers close to 8,000 members in this country and abroad.

Dr. Swinehart received his Bachelor of Arts degree from Dartmouth in 1933, and his Dental degree from The University of Maryland School of Dentistry in 1937. A member of the U.S. Army Dental Corps from 1941 to 1946, Dr. Swinehart has practiced orthodontics since his graduation from dental school.

His professional society memberships include: American Dental Association, The American Association of Orthodontists, The American Board of Orthodontics, the Middle Atlantic Society of Orthodontists, the American College of Dentists, the Baltimore City Dental Society, and the Maryland State Dental Society.

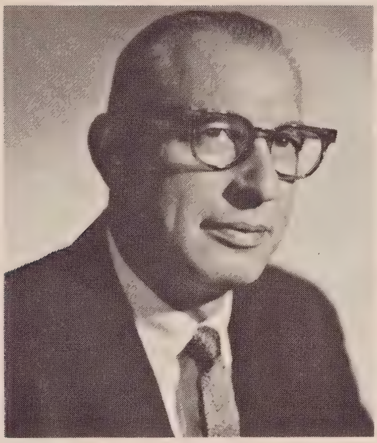
In addition to his private practice in Baltimore, Dr. Swinehart has been a part-time associate professor of clinical orthodontics at the University of Maryland.

Dr. E. Gerard Keen '59

Elected

Dr. E. Gerard Keen is presently serving as president of the Harford County Dental Society. A 1959 graduate of the Maryland. Dr. Keen took his Post Doc-B.C.D.S. Dental School, University of toral Study in oral surgery at Tufts and is now in the private practice of oral surgery in Hartford and Glastonbury, Connecticut. He is a diplomate of the American Board of Oral Surgery, and Chairman of the Department of Oral Surgery at St. Francis Hospital in Hartford. His membership in professional organizations include the New England Society of Oral Surgery, the International Society of Oral Surgeons, and the Horace Wells Club.

Elected



Dr. Philip Schwartz, '30
East Orange, New Jersey

Dr. Philip Schwartz has been elected delegate to the American Dental Association by members of the Essex County Dental Society. He will represent the county group at the annual ADA meeting in the fall.

Dr. Schwartz is former president of the state Board of Dental Examiners and of the Essex County Dental Society. He is an examiner for the Northeastern Regional Board of Dental Examiners, and is a fellow of the American College of Dentists, the International College of Dentists and the American College of General Dentistry. A frequent lecturer, he is also the author of many technical and scientific articles.

Appointed

Julian W. Habercam, '38

Dr. Habercam has been appointed Dental Consultant to the Medical Examiner's Office of South Carolina on Forensic Dentistry and has been instrumental in solving several murder cases and other unidentified victims.

He was appointed State Chairman for South Carolina for the American Association of Hospital Dentists and holds dental privileges at the Medical University Hospital.

He is a faculty member and will attend the Second National Dental High Blood Pressure Conference to be held at the A.D.A. Headquarters in Chicago May 16 - 18, 1976, where he will give a paper and conduct a workshop on the Role of a Dental School in Hypertensive Education; he gave clinics in Washington, Chicago, Atlanta, New Orleans, Myrtle Beach, S.C. and Charleston, S.C.

Candidate

At a regularly called meeting of the officers and members of the alumni executive council held on March 25, 1976, a motion was made and unanimously passed that our association "do everything possible" to publicize, assist and encourage "the election" of Dr. Joseph Cappuccio for the office of president elect of the American Dental Association. This matter will be brought before the general membership for consideration at our annual meeting Saturday, June 5 at Hunt Valley Inn.

Dr. Joseph Cappuccio '46

No man in our alumni association has worked longer or more diligently to promote cordiality among our membership than Joe Cappuccio. He has been our secretary for more than 20 years and while much of his efforts are now concentrated on National Dental affairs he still serves as our secretary. Joe has been a delegate to the A.D.A. for 18 years and presently is the trustee of the fourth district. He is a director of the Fund for Dental health and health foundation of the American Dental Association. A past President of the Baltimore City Dental Society—Maryland State Dental Association and other organizations, affiliated with the practice of oral surgery, Joe has had experience in almost every phase of dental activities—education—organization—and administration—and at present is dentistry's most articulate spokesman. It is doubtful that anyone in dental politics is a more effective debater than Joe and because of his many speaking engagements throughout the country his abilities are very well known. The alumni association which he has served so long and so well wish him success in his campaign for President of the American Dental Association.

Going Up

The average resident tuition in public dental schools has increased 83 percent in the past seven years from an average of $1,043 to $1,908 a year. During the same period, the average cost to the institution to educate a dental student has risen from $7,500 to $14,500 a year.

Many more minority students are studying for careers in dentistry now than five years ago. The total number of minority students has increased in the past five years from 825 to 1,823—a 120 percent increase. Minority enrollments are becoming increasingly larger within each dental school class. They presented 9 percent of the predoctoral dental enrollment in 1974-75 as compared with slightly less than 5 percent in 1970-71.

MILTON B. ASBELL '38

RECEIVES HAYDEN-HARRIS AWARD

Past-president of the American Academy of the History of Dentistry, Professor Gardner P. H. Foley presented the 1975 Hayden-Harris Award of the Academy to Dr. Milton B. Asbell of Cherry Hill, New Jersey. The award which was established in order to preserve the memory of the founders of dental education is presented each year to one who has been voted to have made outstanding contributions to the field of dental history.

Dr. Asbell, one of the charter members of the Academy, has for many years served as Secretary-Treasurer of the organization and has been a guiding light in the Academy's activities. In addition he has published scores of original articles dealing with almost every phase of dental history. He is also the author of a number of books, among them a history of the New Jersey Dental Society and most notably the acclaimed Bibliography of Dentistry in America: 1790-1840 which is the first authoritative work on the dental literature of that era. And busy as Dr. Asbell is with the Academy's work, he still has time for other organizations: he was Lieutenant-governor for the Southern District of New Jersey for Kiwanis and is the Secretary of the Middle Atlantic Society of Orthodontists. Primarily, however, he is recognized throughout the world as one of the greatest authorities on the history of our profession.

The Dr. Eligio F. Ros Award

"For his achievements, for his many years of selfless and exemplary services to the dental profession, for having been a symbol and an inspiration to his fellow dentists, this honor is bestowed on Dr. Carlos J. Noya."

Classmates of 1919

Dr. Arthur I. .Bell—a past recipient of the Distinguished Alumnus Award (left) and Dr. Morris Bernert attended the University of Maryland, School of Dentistry graduating in 1919.

Dr. Bernert practiced in Harford, Conn. for more than fifty years in general dentistry while Dr. Bell had his practice both in Baltimore city and Catonsville, specializing in the field of Orthodontics for more than fifty years.

Both alumni now retired live at Points of America, 2100 S. Ocean Lane, Fort Lauderdale, lorida. They send kindest wishes to their many friends and acquaintances in the Dental Profession.

(This notice received just prior to Dr. Bell's death October 24, 1975.)

Colleagues and friends came from far and near and filled West Virginia University Medical Center's auditorium April 9 for the J. Ben Robinson Recognition Program co-sponsored by WVU School of Dentistry and its Alumni Association and the West Virginia Section of the Baltimore College of Dental Surgery, Dental School, University of Maryland Alumni Association.

Dean W. Robert Biddington of the School of Dentistry presided at the program honoring the school's founder and first dean, and WVU President James G. Harlow welcomed the assembly.

Dr. Kenneth V. Randolph, now dean of Baylor University's College of Dentistry and WVU School of Dentistry's only other former dean (1958-1968, was the principal speaker. As did the other speakers on the program, Dr. Randolph paid highest tribute to the 93-year-old Dr. Robinson whose international leadership in dental education, organized dentistry and dental practice resulted in his being named by the National Library of Medicine as one of the 12 outstanding dentists of all time.

Other program participants included:

Okey L. Patteson, governor of West Virginia from 1949 to 1953 and now a member of the West Virginia Board of Regents; Harold Hillenbrand, executive director emeritus, American Dental Association; Carl A. Laughlin, ADA past-president 1971-1972) ; Charles D. Carter, ADA

Sixth District trustee; Joseph P. Cappuccio, ADA Fourth District trustee; George H. Moulton, Council of Deans chairman, American Association of Dental Schools; Charles F. McDermott, vice-president, American College of Dentists; Charles L. Brandenburg, president, Maryland State Dental Association; Stewart H. Smith, president emeritus, Marshall University; James T. Farris, president, West Virginia Dental Association; Errol L. Reese, dean, Kyrle Preis, alumni president, and Walter B. Brown, West Virginia Section alumni president, Baltimore College of Dental Surgery, Dental School, University of Maryland, and J. B. Wilfong, president, WVU School of Dentistry Alumni Association.

A bronze portrait bust of Dr. Robinson was unveiled by his daughter, Mrs. John B. Funk of Baltimore. Commissioned by the recognition committee composed of alumni of WVU School of Dentistry and the West Virginia Section of the Baltimore College of Dental Surgery, Dental School, University of Maryland, where Dr. Robinson also was dean (1924-1925), the bust was presented to WVU by Dr. Francis L. Edwards of Beckley, committee chairman, and accepted by Dean Biddington.

Internationally famous Baltimore sculptor Reuben Kramer also was present for the ceremony and spoke of the sessions with Dr. Robinson, while creating the bust, as an inspiring and interesting experience.

At the conclusion of the program, Dean Biddington recognized Dr. Theresa Edwards of Beckley, a dental classmate at Maryland, as the "spark" that ignited the great enthusiasm for organizing and implementing the program to honor Dr. Robinson.

The tributes continued informally after the program at a dinner at Lakeview Inn and Country Club.

The bust of Dr. Robinson has been permanently installed at the main entrance to the WVU School of Dentistry clinics.

Endowment Trustees' Report

The May 31, 1975 meeting of the Trustees of the Endowment Fund of the Alumni Association of the University of Maryland Baltimore College of Dental Surgery was called to order by Chairman Dr. Lewis Toomey at 9:00 A.M. at the Hunt Valley Inn. Those attending were Drs. Lewis Toomey, Don Brotman, Errol Reese, James Kershaw, William Patteson, Joseph Cappuccio, Phil Norris, Kyrle Preis, and Vernon Ottenritter. The minutes were approved as circulated for the November 1974 meeting. The financial report by Dr. Brotman showed that we have the following assets:

Mercantile Safe Deposit Checking Account	$ 4,452.18
Mercantile Safe Deposit special funds	55,383.00
Savings Account	1,723.16
TOTAL	$61,669.88

This report was filed as per appropriate motions.

Dr. Reese moved and Dr. Cappuccio seconded a motion to grant $2,000 to the Alumni Association to fund a membership drive in order to offset the dwindling membership of the organization. This was passed unanimously.

Dr. Cappuccio recommended that a cutoff date for dues collection be suggested to the Alumni Association in order to facilitate orderly collection of annual dues.

Dr. Cappuccio suggested that the Trustees of the Endowment fund should monitor the use of funds generated by the gifts of $1,260 and $5,000 made to the Fund for Dental Health during 1974. Dr. Brotman stated that the Secretary-Treasurer will follow through on that action.

It was moved and unanimously approved that we reconfirm our annual gift of $100 to the ADA Relief Fund.

Dr. Reese initiated a discussion of an intended University of Maryland Baltimore College of Dental Surgery Endowment Fund. Dr. Brotman moved and unanimous approval was given that the next meeting of this body (Trustees) be held from 3:30 to 4:30 P.M. on the day of the Freshman Reception during September 1975. Dr. Lewis Toomey was elected Chairman and Dr. Alex Boro was elected Secretary-Treasurer, both by acclimation.

Dr. Cappuccio commended Dr. Brotman for his outstanding service as Secretary-Treasurer of the Trustees and expressed regret that he would no longer be filling this role on behalf of the Endowment Fund. Dr. Brotman agreed to aid the new Secretary-Treasurer, Dr. Boro, in any areas where help might be needed.

The meeting was adjourned at 9:50 A.M. following a motion by Dr. Patteson.

Respectfully submitted,

DON N. BROTMAN, D.D.S.

Confidence is a big Responsibility

Your patients come to you because they expect the best. A successful practice is built on a patient's confidence in your knowledge, techniques, and other skills. But they come to you for other reasons as well.

Your patients can depend on you. They depend on you to keep up with the latest procedures, and the latest findings in Dentistry. They depend on you to take preventive action and to give advice.

Your facilities are up to date with all the necessary equipment capable of handling your patients' problems when they arise.

You are accessible to your patients, and your suppliers are accessible to you. Patients know that when there is an emergency, you will be able to take care of them — in most cases without delay.

You are convenient to your patients. Though most practices consist of the people in the surrounding community, there are those who come from greater distances. To them you are more than just a dentist, you are a friend.

More dentists come to Aronovitch Dental Laboratory for these same reasons. Aronovitch Dental Laboratory is the Baltimore area's largest lab specializing in fabricating porcelain fused to gold, porcelain jackets, and aluminous porcelain jackets. We are the largest because our practice too is built on confidence.

Yes Doctor, we at Aronovitch Dental Laboratory have a big responsibility.

Spring On May Morning

Now the bright morning Star, Dayes harbinger,

Comes dancing from the East, and leads with her

The Flowry May, who from her green lap throws

The yellow Cowslip, and the pale Primrose.

Hail bounteous May that dost inspire

Mirth and youth, and warm desire,

Woods and Groves, are of thy dressing,

Hill and Dale, doth boast thy blessing.

Thus we salute thee with our early Song,

And welcome thee, and wish thee long.

Conrad L. Inman, Jr., '44

I am very happy to report that your Alumni Association has continued to expand its membership, and through the recent up-dating of our files many errors have been corrected. However, we must remember that addresses are continuously changing so please notify Miss Mary Hagerman, your Alumni Secretary, at the school, 528-7129, area code 301, if you are aware of any needed corrections.

As reported in our last Newsletter your Alumni Association, Faculty, and Students are now working as a unit for the betterment of our Alma Mater. Through the untiring efforts of Dean Errol L. Reese and our Past President, Kyrle Preis, the communications between all facets of your Alma Mater are basically improved, and we have now a very viable combination of administration and alumni. We should all remember that our Alma Mater is not a one way organization and that for every effort expended, there is a proportionate return.

I have attended, along with Dean Reese or Dr. Charles Pridgeon, Associate Dean for Alumni Affairs, Dr. Robert Haroth, and our esteemed Secretary Dr. Joe Cappuccio, Alumni gatherings in New Jersey, New York, Puerto Rico, District of Columbia, the Hinman Meeting, and Rhode Island. All of these meetings were very well attended with a true display of togetherness and appropal of their Alma Mater. The faculty have offered a Continuing Education Program to the Alumni Sections at no expense to the section or its membership except for furnishing the facilities for the session. I sincerely hope that you will take them up on this very generous offer.

If, at any time, you have any doubts or criticism of our school or your Alumni Association, please let us know so that we can express them as an active alumni group. Thus, we will maintain an interest in the education of the future graduates and, hopefully, new members of our Association.

The 1977 June Week will again be held with the majority of activities at The Hunt Valley Inn. Dr. Joe Price, the General Arrangements Chairman, requests that all reservations be made in advance for the Golf, Crab Party, Class Reunions, and the Banquet and Dance on Saturday, June 4th. The Alumni Banquet has been sold out for the past two years, so please plan ahead.

On behalf of the hardworking and dedicated officers and committees, I want to thank you all for the support of both your Alma Mater and Association.

Please keep up the good work, and I sincerely hope to see you all in June.

Dean Errol L. Reese, D.D.S.

Through the cooperative efforts of the faculty, students, administration and—with ever-increasing participation—the Alumni Association, the Dental School is progressing steadily. The interchange between the School and the Alumni Association began several years ago with attempts to define areas and programs of mutual interest and benefit. With this new spirit of cooperation, a heightened rapport has developed between the Dental School and the Alumni Association; the increased participation and involvement of alumni are advantageous to both.

An important step was taken last July when the Faculty Assembly approved a revised Plan of Organization in which there is provision for non-faculty alumni representation on several key committees of the Faculty Council—the Dental Admissions and Dental Hygiene Admissions Subcommittees, the Subcommittee on Continuing Education and the newly created Committee of Nine, in addition to the Faculty-Alumni Liaison Committee. I have received numerous reports this year that alumni are making many positive contributions to the committees on which they serve.

Another major joint accomplishment has been the establishment of a viable Office of Alumni Affairs with a full-time secretary, Miss Mary Hagerman, who is increasingly able to handle the various responsibilities as well as problems that arise. The alumni mailing list has been carefully corrected through the efforts of faculty wives who volunteered their time; and is being monitored and updated regularly by Dr. Charles Pridgeon, Associate Dean for Continuing Education and Alumni Affairs, and Mary Hagerman.

In an effort to be of service to its graduates, the School has generously offered to provide continuing education courses at no cost to the various alumni sections in their areas. Dr. Pridgeon is anxious to make these courses available to alumni at a time and place convenient to them.

In the area of admissions, Dr. Charles Leonard, the Director of Admissions, and I will continue to offer special counseling to alumni relatives and friends who are considering a career in dentistry. For these prospective candidates for admission, the senior year in high school is not too early to contact us for guidance in meeting predental educational requirements. You are encouraged to join the increasing number of alumni who are taking advantage if this service. The Faculty Council recently reaffirmed the policy that, for purposes of admission, the sons and daughters of alumni living outside of Maryland be considered under the less stringent admissions criteria for Maryland residents. It is the policy of the Dental School to give special consideration to all applicants who are sons or daughters of alumni.

Thus the Dental School is making every effort to maintain a continuing relationship with its graduates, to strengthen the profession and to provide its alumni, through an excellent continuing education program, opportunities for individual growth. In this period of joint cooperation, many alumni have offered to the Dental School their moral support, ideas, suggestions and personal service; their assistance has been of great benefit to the School. Beyond that, however, is an area of alumni responsibility generally ignored by the majority of our graduates: the Dental School has a critical need for private financial support by its alumni. [Elsewhere in this journal is an article describing the problems we face in attempting to maintain and improve the educational program at your Alma Mater under austere budgetary conditions, and the measures we have adopted to cope with this difficult financial situation.

All too often the trials and tribulations that beset dental students during the period of training create negative feelings and a rejection by by graduates of any further responsibility to the Dental School once the D.D.S. degree has been awarded. We are working to improve the educational program in ways that will minimize the frustrations and thus moderate such feelings in our students. There remains, however, one irrefutable fact: dental education is the basis of the profession and, as a member of that profression, you have a stake in its future and a responsibility to ensure that high standards are maintained in the training of those who enter the profession after you.

The faculty and administration of this Dental School are deeply committed to the education of young men and women as dental professionals. It is our sincere hope that our graduates will acknowledge their debt to the School for making possible the life they now enjoy and, through annual giving in proportion to their financial means, reciprocate a continuing, supportive relationship with the School.

An Introspective Evaluation of Expenditures of Resources at the Baltimore College of Dental Surgery, Dental School, University of Maryland at Baltimore

By

and

Nell Savopoulos, A.B.,

Administrative Assistant to the Dean

Institutions of higher education today find themselves at a critical crossroad. This is particularly true of health education institutions, which are being buffeted by two opposing forces that have an impact on their direction in the future. At a time when society's professed desire for health care services is increasing, there is decreasing support for the delivery of health care and for the educational system that produces both health manpower and supportive research. This paradox is evident in the actions of state and federal governments. Proposed health care legislation that would result in increased demand for service has not been accompanied by the increased support of health care education and the delivery systems essential to meet the demand. Decreased support will result in the diminished effectiveness of those institutions involved, leaving them in an untenable position.

The past decade was one of financial feast which permitted program and faculty expansion, proliferation of research projects and increased student enrollment. In the present period of comparative financial famine, educational institutions must examine their priorities. If the achievements of the past decade represent valid objectives and educational goals, a means to sustain these achievements must be found; a reallocation of resources consistent with realistic priorities will be necessary.

The administration of the University of Maryland has a responsibility to recognize current trends that may impact upon the institution and to determine how the University may better serve society. In meeting this responsibility, President Elkins requested in June, 1975 that each division and department of the University undergo a period of self-analysis to answer the question, "What more can we do to help ourselves?" How can there be more than survival? He specified that a task force at each major University subdivision and school be established and charged with "recommending ways and means of using available resources to improve the quality of the University."

"This Task Force should address itself to specific subjects including administrative costs, student-teacher ratios (department-by-department), the instructional load, the size of classes at all levels, eliminating (unnecessarily) duplicative programs and courses, utilizing different types of instructors, changing the traditional three hours of instruction per week for a certain number of weeks for three hours of credit, and the desirability of deleting some areas of specialization in favor of new directions.

"Real danger lies ahead if the University does nothing or very little to help itself. We may tend to resist the challenge to reexamine our priorities, procedures, programs and operations, but if we do resist—indeed if we do not diligently pursue—internal adjustments, the University will be subjected to financial limitations that will make the atmosphere increasingly depressive. On the other hand, if we use our vast resources to seek change for the sake of improvement within available funds, not only will the University benefit, but public confidence will be strengthened and public policy may advocate increasing support to retain the vitality of institutions of higher learning."

This introspective analysis undertaken by the University of Maryland—as well as many other educational institutions—is evidence of a determination to maintain the quality of educational programs in the face of adverse economic conditions. It is unimportant, in the final analysis, that external forces precipitated this effort.

The Task Force mandated by President Elkins initiated its study in the early part of the 1975-76 academic year. The Dean of the Dental School and the Executive Committee established a methodology based on the concerns cited by Dr. Elkins and Chancellor Kuhn of this campus. The entire faculty of the School was involved in the generation of data. Major steps utilized in the study were as follows:

1. Define the comprehensive mission of the Dental School
2. Define the major official School goals that support this mission
3. Define individual departmental operative goals
4. Examine departmental goals for compatibility with the official goals of the School
5. Determine and evaluate the cost of each goal
6. Identify high priority goals and indicate to what extent new priorities may be realized through the reallocation of existing resources

The study focused on an examination of Dental School goals and priorities, which were developed by the Executive Committee and the Dean. Present resource expenditures were summarized by identifying cost centers. The goals and priorities related to each center were then examined for consistency of goals and expenditures. The primary value of the study lies in the data it provided for an introspective evaluation of expenditure of resources. The results made us realize that we must internally modify present resource allocations.

Based on the priorities of this institution, guidelines for the future utilization of resources were developed. The present faculty/student ratio, as related to state-supported FTE and positions funded from other sources, was studied; and present distribution of state-supported faculty positions to the biological sciences, clinical sciences and dental hygiene determined. Faculty salaries in this School were compared with national salary statistics to determine our competitive position in this area critical to faculty strength. In addition, the level of supportive classified positions in relation to state-supported faculty positions was analyzed. The departments cited some new areas of high priority for the future and developed goals, as well as recommendations concerning how these goals might be implemented.

Based on its findings the Task Force adopted a plan of action incorporating ten steps to be taken immediately to correct deficiencies in the areas of faculty positions and funding:

1. Request that each department (1) review and evaluate its utilization of resources in relation to the priorities of both the School and the department; and (2) submit a report and a departmental plan of action to the Executive Committee within sixty days.
2. Reallocate fifteen percent of the total operating funds to support the operation of the clinical program. (This was a one-time allocation to prevent an even greater deficit in 1976-77.)
3. Continue to seek additional state support for the clinical program by requesting additional operating funds; designate the total clinic income for support of the clinical program.
4. Begin to stabilize the entire Dental School's educational program by the redistribution of state-supported FTE positions based on the actual teaching load of the departments.
6. Seek additional FTE positions to achieve an acceptable faculty/student ratio in the clinical science departments, following adjustments #4 and #5.
7. Seek additional classified personnel to provide the necessary support to the professional staff.
8. Reallocate departmental resources as necessary to provide support for future goals, based on their priority in relation to present goals.
9. Seek special funding from alumni and other sources to provide additional support for the development of new goals and directions for this Dental School.
10. Examine methods of passing on additional costs to students and patients in the event other resource sources fail to provide the financial base necessary to maintain the quality of the program.

The Dental School is an educational institution with all the essential components of a health education program—education, research and service. Research and service primarily support the educational program. The service aspect of a health educational program is not, and cannot be, as cost efficient as a similar service in the health industry delivered without the educational process. The cost of service in this School or on this campus cannot be equated, therefore, with similar costs in private health care delivery centers. The cost of service must never be allowed to impinge upon the quality of the educational program.

The academic institution of today may be threatened by and overly concerned about the non-academic influences being brought to bear on such institutions. Academic institutions have always maintained high ideals, academic freedom and the desire for absolute self-determination. This must not change. Yet, if these same institutions are not cognizant of cost, society's needs, etc., they will be accused of being unresponsive and a burden to the tax-paying public, and will experience further reductions in financial support.

This Dental School, fully recognizing its obligations in this regard, will continue to monitor costs and cost efficiency concurrently with ongoing efforts to achieve our goal of maintaining an excellent program of dental education.

"Did someone help you when you were in dental school?"

"I remember the times when people helped me. There were discouraging moments when others gave me guidance that enabled me to make it through. And there was financial help when I really needed it.

"I've never forgotten that assistance. That's why I'm involved with the AFDH campaign! It's a way of repaying some of the help I enjoyed when I needed it.

"If you feel the way I do, you can help too. Simply make a contribution to the American Fund for Dental Health! Your check will help provide scholarships for some of the country's 20,000 dental students, and it will help support the many research projects that ultimately help you practice better dentistry.

"I hope you'll send your check right now. There's really no better way of remembering the help you got when you were in dental school!"

Student Dental Association

Class meetings with Dr. Reese, Dean, and Dr. Morganstein, Associate Dean, could exemplify the efforts of the Student Dental Association to strengthen communication between all levels of the Dental School Administration and Faculty. Regular monthly meetings with each class were organized in the Fall and held throughout the year to air student concerns, problems, and frustrations and to receive information, suggestions, and courses of action in dealing with them. Areas of concern ranged from parking and security, clinic coverage by faculty, longer Saturday hours to work at school, to quality of exams and lectures. As a result of these meetings, action was taken on several of these matters, to the students' benefit and the responsive administration's credit.

Many other forums for interaction and student input exist via the S.D.A. Students actively serve on Faculty Council Committees of Admissions, Curriculum, Research, Library and Publication, Instruments, and Minority Student Recruitment. The Maryland State Dental Association has B.C.D.S. students on its many councils and committees.

Less formal, but useful, are the Student Affairs Committee, and the Student Clinic Advisory Board. There is, this year, a Luncheon with the Dean scheduled, and too, you will see the Dean on the clinic floor teaching.

Articles in the Maryland Probe, an S.D.A. Bulletin Board, and Master Calendar (used to coordinate the numerous meetings), and frequent newsletters serve to communicate S.D.A. activities to the student body in print. The S.D.A. also publishes annually a Student Directory and is helping to develop a campus-wide Student Handbook.

The S.D.A. has additionally worked to encourage the many societies and fraternities to be active and get students interested and involved in their activities.

Perhaps one of the most utilized sources of communication is the student Xerox machine acquired and maintained by the S.D.A. in the Student Lounge. Many a page of notes of missed lectures and copies of old exams have passed through this Xerox. Indeed, the S.D.A. has been said to have contracted "Xerox-stomia" with this machine.

The S.D.A. strives to improve the quality of education that the student body receives in many ways, one of which is by stressing communication.

1976-1977 has been the second year I have been privileged to serve as the Editor of the Maryland Probe. Currently in its sixth year of publication, the Probe distributes over 1100 copies to University of Md. Dental School students and other dental schools. Our staff has over 15 regular contributors, represent many of the school's organizations, and report on their activities. The Probe, with the Student Dental Association, has instituted a newsletter to keep students informed during the months that the newspaper is not published. In the words of Dean Reese, in critiquing the October publication, the Probe has been " . . . the finest most comprehensive issue of a dental student newspaper I have ever reviewed."

I would like to take this opportunity to thank several seniors, who will be graduating this June, for the assistance they gave in the preparation of the Probe over the last two years. Lawrence Neureither and Jay Plesset as assistant editors have provided many ideas that appeared in print. Paul Silberman submitted investigative reports dealing with many facets of dentistry and dental education. Barbara Jeffrey helped keep our grammar tolerable. Student Dental Association President E. Taylor Meiser, Jr., maintained a tradition of constant contributions. Alan Exler, Ray Mack and Charles Deigert provided stories on Alpha Omega, Psi Omega and Zi Xsi Phi fraternal events. In additiion, I wish to thank Dr. Mark Wagner, director of student affairs, and Mr. Robert Jeffrey for providing invaluable assistance as faculty advisors.

The Maryland Probe is seeking ways of expanding its coverage of the Maryland dental community's events. Contributions from alumni are always welcome. They should be addressed to: Editor, Maryland Probe, 666 West Baltimore Street, Baltimore, Maryland 21201.

Class of 1977

Dental Hygiene

As graduation approaches for the Dental Hygiene Class of 1977, they can reflect back on their many achievements during the past two years. Foremost of these achievements was the establishment of the Junior Chapter of the Maryland Dental Hygienists' Association. Prior to that time, the J.A.D.H.A. chapters of each of the three hygiene schools in Maryland functioned independently. Therefore, the formation of the state-wide chapter, under the direction of their first president, Sharon Blanchard, senior student at the Baltimore College of Dental Surgery, added cohesiveness to the three groups of students.

The Junior Chapter held three state-wide meetings this year, and sponsored several fund-raising activities. Proceeds were allocated to component treasuries as well as to their children's Dental Health Week Program. In addition to this, funds will be utilized for the purpose of sending representatives to the A.D.H.A. national convention in October, 1977. This organization has specified two major goals: increased communications between dental students and dental hygiene students and increased awareness of the need to belong to one's professional organization following graduation.

In conjunction with the above mentioned group, the Junior American Dental Hygienists' Association from University of Maryland was also very active. They initiated "sandwich sales" (as opposed to "bake sales"), as a fund-raising activity and the proceeds helped to send representatives to the Northeast Regional J.A.D.H.A. meeting held in Maine in April, 1977. Prior to their departure for Maine, all representatives received instruction in Parliamentary Procedure from their president, Cathy Norris, in preparation for the business meetings.

Academically, the Dental Hygiene Class of '77 has been exposed to many new and exciting educational experiences in their 5-credit course, advanced clinical practice. This year, the course was coordinated by Patricia Mulford, RDH and Ellen Radebaugh, RDH. Didactic material supplemented clinical experiences in such things as: application of pit and fissure sealants, application of the rubber dam, utilization of the principles of four-handed dentistry, and an introduction to expand restorative functions. Under the guidance of Dr. John Hasler, Associate Dean of Clinical Affairs, and Ms. JoAnne I. Pepin, Chairman of Dental Hygiene Department, a clinical rotation experience was created on the main dental clinic floor, closely simulating a private practice situation where the dental hygiene student learns to work as a member of the dental health team in providing comprehensive patient care. This proved most advantageous in introducing the dental student to utilization of a dental hygienist. In addition, the hygiene students also received clinical exposure to hospital dentistry under the direction of Maryland Smith, RDH, Department of Oral Surgery, and to community dentistry under the direction of Dushanka Kleinman, D.D.S., Oral Health Care Delivery.

Individual rotations were available in the specialties of Pedodontics and Periodontics, as well as in the Special Patients Clinic. Advanced Clinical Practice concluded with a senior project in the student's particular area of concentration, as a means of preparation for career objectives.

Dr. Harry Levin

Mr. Chairman, President Elkins, Dean Reese, distinguished guests, delightful ladies,
Alumni of many classes and all others:

Ours is the privilege to honor achievement; ours is the privilege to honor worthiness; ours is the privilege to honor men of distinction and dedication! Henry David Thoreau said: "Most men live out their lives in quiet desperation." What a refutation to that aphorism by the sage of Walden Pond—the recipient of the Distinguished Alumnus Award for 1976—offers. The man chosen by his peers for this prestigious honor—possesses so many remarkable qualities and facets and has achieved so many goals and honors by his quiet dedication and most certainly—not quiet desperation—that I eagerly sought the privilege and the opportunity—to present him to you—this evening.

Harry Levin, '26
Teacher, Organization Man, Friend

And it did not necessitate extensive research to compile this exceptional man's Curriculum Vitae. Pick up any issue—current or past—of the Balto. City; Maryland State and ADA bulletins or publications—yes—even the daily newspapers and there you will easily find—the reports of his endeavors; the platitudes, the encomiums, and the testimony. As I could easily and readily prove to you—the list is long and varied and comprehensive—(some 4 typewritten pages). However,

I should like to enumerate—just a few, a very few of the manifold achievements and the dedicated lifelong undertakings of our honoree—at this point.

Baltimore born—in the year 1900— our man spent an active, and industrious youth—in 1912, Harry worked for the "Baltimore News" as a newsboy, characteristicly he won a prize for his superior efforts—a 3 day trip to Coney Island—his first trip out of town. While preparing for his long-cherished desire of pursuing dentistry as a life's endeavor, the years go by swiftly and with diligent study and unswerving application—his dream is realized and it's graduation for our young man—from the BCDS—in 1926. From that time on—it is a life dedicated to serving mankind and dentistry—being secretary and or president of every and all things—dental, civic and fraternal. Let me read from the list:—

PROFILE

Secretary—Baltimore City Dental Society, 1936-40

President—Baltimore City Dental Society 1941-42

Chairman—Legislative Committee, Maryland State Dental Association for eight (8) years, including the term which put thru the present Dental Law in 1937.

Recommended and instrumental in having accepted by the Baltimore City Dental Society the present Health and Accident insurance coverage by its members.

President—Baltimore Alumni Club, Alpha Omega Fraternity 1935-36.

Chairman—Program Committee, Baltimore City Dental Society, 1950-51, which presented the First Television program in the United States originating at a Dental School and received at the meeting in another part of the city. Attendance over 500.

Chairman—Program Publication Committee—Centennial Celebration of Dentistry—1940.

President—Maryland State Board of Dental Examiners 1946-47 and 1950-51.

Fellow—American College of Dentists—1946.

Chairman—American College of Dentists, Maryland Section 1963-64.

President—National Alumni Association, Baltimore College of Dental Surgery, Dental School, University of Maryland, 1952-53.

Honorary—Omicron Kappa Upsilon, Phi Chapter, 1956.

Chairman—Committee on Legislation, American Association of Dental Examiners. 1950-51.

Chairman—Committee on Constitution and By-Laws, American Association of Dental Examiners, 1952-53.

Chairman—Committee on Public Affairs, American Association of Dental Examiners, 1956-57.

Chairman—Committee on Scholarship, Endowment and Redevelopment, General Alumni Council, University of Maryland.

SAFBACAO—Suggested, Organized and established the Student Aid Fund Baltimore Alumni Club Alpha Omega, to help Undergraduate Students of our Dental School.

General Arrangements Chairman—Maryland State Dental Association, three day meeting, May 6-7-8, 1962.

Consultant—Dental Staff Hospital.

SAFBACAO—Honored by having name changed to Dr. Harry Levin Student Loan Fund, March 1976.

And so it goes—on and on. The list is impressive, but time prevents my reading any more. However—I must mention one more episode of this man's many successful endeavors for the good of dentistry. Back in the 40's—our honoree was single-handedly responsible and instrumental in breaking the dental advertising racket—in Baltimore and the state—forever. By a bit of clever sleuthing, a late hour visit to an East Baltimore bar and the securing of the necessary damning evidence from a nefarious Block character—the dental advertisers were defeated and silenced. The story is exceptional and must be heard from our man—to be truly appreciate.

This man's life—enhanced by a delightful family—of wife Zelda and son Joel also a dentist and his family—has had no greater fulfillment of a meaningful being; no higher award for accomplishment; no fuller or more satisfying consummation of devotion to an end and a purpose—than to be afforded the opportunity—and the privilege—to serve his fellow man!

There is glory in abundance for all. And in this instance—the inscrutable finger of fate has moved down amongst our generation and has touched this man—and marked him—outstanding!

This year—the recipient of our coveted Distinguished Alumnus Award—celebrates his 76th birthday and the 50th year since his graduation from our beloved BCDS, U. of Md. What a truly pinnacle and pleateau for any of us to achieve in this all to uncertain and fragile life. So—here—to join the many illustrious and dedicated recipients of past years—the J. Ben Robinsons, the Conrad Inmans and the Myron Aisenbergs—may I present to you—for the 1976 Distinguished Alumnus Award—

DOCTOR HARRY LEVIN of Baltimore, Md.

Here to make the presentation—is Dr. Kyrle Preis—President of the Alumni Association.

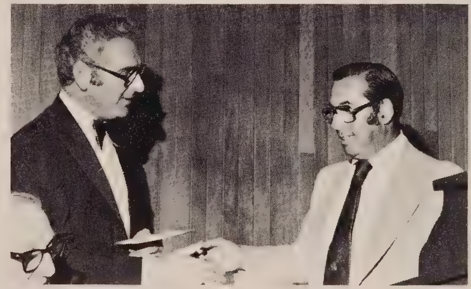
I Could Have Danced All Night

When our beautiful young vocalist Miss Patricia Riley sang before the sell-out audience, immediately following the main course and before the serving of dessert and coffee you might expect some difficulty in getting attention. But her dazzling appearance, supreme confidence and magnificent voice soon had the audience, the help and all within hearing completely enthralled, and when she sang "I could have danced all night," B. Herbert Brown, Chairman of the Board of Regents was so impressed he said, "I'd go anywhere to hear her sing that song again." Quite a compliment to Pat and her accompanist Mr. Ronald Gretz.

Gerald Eskow presents gift to Dean Reese



During the Alumni Banquet Gerald Eskow '51 presented to Dean Reese a check for $500.00 contributed by members of the class of 1951 who were celebrating their 25th anniversary class reunion in conjunction with the Alumni Banquet.

Congressmen John E. Fogerty Memorial Fund

Dean Reese receives a contribution from James Kershaw '32 of West Warwick R.I. The fund raised by members of the Rhode Island Alumni Section is for the purpose of establishing the John E. Fogerty memoral lecture. Congressman Fogerty from Rhode Island was an honorary member of the American Dental Association and the Rhode Island State Dental Association and a staunch supporter of dental programs and was known in congress as the "The Champion of Health."

Appreciation

Dear Dr. Preis:

I wish to express my sincere thanks and appreciation on becoming a Life Member of the National Alunmi Association, Baltimore College of Dental Survey, Dental School, University of Maryland.

Through the years, and in many faraway places, I have enjoyed reading the Alma Mater. It belongs to those elements that are associated with home.

During the month of June our eldest son, Harry A., graduated from the Medical School, University of Maryland so now you have two Mayer alumni to contend with!

Sincerely,

JOHN J. MAYER

Reunion — 50 Years
Hunt Valley Inn
Saturday, June 5th, 1976

Front row: Mrs. Smith, Watts, Mrs. Watts, Mrs. Blair, Blair, Mrs. Levin, Levin, Magee, Mrs. Magee, Mrs. Leger, Leger.
Middle row: Pressman, Brigadier, Mrs. Brigadier, Mrs. Little, Mrs. Loar, Mrs. Fiess, Mrs. Bridger, Barrette, Mrs. Badger, Mrs. Kozubski, Brown.

After 50 years of waiting it finally came and has already gone by. Those of us who have been fortunate enough to have survived all these years and to have come back to Baltimore to celebrate a half century since graduation from Dental School, I think, enjoyed the festivities, especially the affair Saturday night. This Reunion was a little different from the usual ones we have had in the past because it was not a private get-together. We were the guests of the Alumni Association and all of us want to thank the Officers and Board for their hospitality.

The writer would like to express his thanks to the Alumni Association for selecting him as the Distinguished Alumnus for 1976.

Twenty-two men and thirteen of their wives attended the Reunion and a good time was had by all. The following were in attendance:

WALT BADGER
ROLAND BARRETTE
BOB BLAIR
ROY BRIDGER
LEN BRIGADIER BILL BROWN
WES BYRON
BEN JACOBS
JIM JOULE
MIKE KOZUBSKI
ED LEGER
HARRY LEVIN
MAIN LITTLE
EMERSON LOAR
BILL MCGONIGLE
KEN MAGEE
SAM PRESSMAN
WALLY SMITH
HENRY WALTER
BILL WEEKS

A reunion for the Class of 1931, was held on Saturday afternoon, June 5, 1976, at the Hunt Valley Inn.

Of the eighteen members responding to correspondence concerning this reunion, thirteen indicated that they would attend. However, unanticipated circumstances made it impossible for two members to attend and for one to arrive later Saturday evening.

This memorable occasion was enjoyed by ten classmates, many lovely wives and guests. Adding an extra highlight to this affair was the visit of Dean Errol Reese and Mrs. Shirley Rostov.

Dr. Reese's father and Shirley's husband were were members of the Class of 1931.

Although Artie and Mrs. Kohn arrived too late to be included in the photographic record above, they did have the pleasure of recounting "old time" at the Alumni Banquet.

ERNEST NUTTALL

The following members (left to right) and their ladies attended: T. D. Donahue, H. A. Lacher, M. L. Levy, S. Hanik, L. Kreshtool, L. Milobsky H. Mitten, H. M. Cooper, B. W. Inman, R. S. Paskell, J. F. Metz, Jr., W. Kress, M. M. Riddlesberger, S. Friedman, I. N. rotman, H. B. McCauley and J. L. Corthouts.

The B. C. D. S. Class of 1936 happily joined the Alumni Association at the Hunt Valley Inn on Saturday, June 5, 1976 to attend the wonderful President's Reception and Reunion Dinner Dance.

The following members and their ladies attended: Doctors I. N. Brotman, H. M. Cooper, J. L. Corthouts, T. D. Donohue, S. Friedman, S. Hanik, B. W. Inman, L. Kreshtool, W. Kress, H. A. Lacher, M. L. Levy, H. B. McCauley, J. F. Metz, Jr. L. Milobsky, H. Mitten, Jr., R. S. Paskell and M. M. Riddlesberger.

The highlights of this 40th renuion was the private cocktail party which was held from 4:30 to 6:30 p.m. at the Hunt Valley Inn.

We here in Baltimore wish you good health and look forward to our 45th.

Bottom row: J. Cullan, F. Auerbach, I. Weinger, D. Berman, E. Bressman.

What's it like after thirty-five years of putting and taking? From the photo above 'twould seem that all is well with the world. Yep! twenty-five of our alumni of "41" with their lovely wives spent a most enjoyable evening at Cross Keys Inn on the 4th of June, "76". You say, "twenty-five out of seventy-two isn't a very good showing." Let me elaborate. Seventeen are no longer with us. Four were out of the country, one permanently. Two were much too ill to attend, and all but ten were heard from. Those we heard from who were unable to attend were very upset that we couldn't have arranged a better time.

Former Dean Myron Aisenberg lectured on a phase of Pathology. Dean Earl Reese and Assistant Dean Charlie Pridgeon spent most of the evening with us.

There was good food, and beverage and the fellowship was wonderful.

The Class of "41" has always stuck together. They remain in touch with one another, and the friendships built in school have lasted thru these 35 trying years.

We challange the rest of the alumni to try and come up with a class that is a closely knit as ours, that has contributed to our alma mater as much as we have, and who after 35 years can brag that over 50% of our graduating class who were physically able, attended, a 35th renuion.

DANIEL BERMAN

A very joyful and enjoyable 30th year class reunion of the Class of 1946 was held on Saturday, June 5, 1976, at the Hunt Valley Inn, Hunt Valley, Maryland. Eighteen members of the Class of 1946 and many of their wives were in attendance for the 30th year class reunion. The returning members of the class met just prior to the annual banquet of the Alumni Association in the Garden Room of the Hunt Valley Inn for a reception and cocktail party. It was a very happy occasion for many of the members to renew old acquaintances and to reminisce once again about the trials and tribulations as members of the Class of 1946 during their student days at our Alma Mater. This class was a war class of about 65 members.

Those in attendance appreciated the new format of meeting in conjunction with the Alumni Association at the annual banquet. They made plans to have an interim reunion in about two years somewhere in the Caribbean. The returning members acknowledged, with appreciation, the work of their classmate, Dr. Joseph Cappuccio, who served as Chairman for this year's reunion. They also pledged their moral and financial support toward the candidacy of their classmate as President-Elect of the American Dental Association. During the short business meeting, they discussed ways and means of offering help to their Alma Mater in whichever way possible. They also were concerned about the problems facing the dental profession and, especially, the dental schools of this country. The admission policy of the dental school was reviewed by Dr. Cappuccio for the information of his classmates. There was concern about the inability of their offspring to be admitted as students at our Alma Mater. It was pointed out that the record would show that there is the largest percentage ever of the sons and daughters of our graduates matriculated at the dental school. The meeting was adjourned with the thought and expectation of meeting again in approximately two years. Approximately all members in attendance and their wives attended the annual banquet of the Alumni Association that immediately followed.

The Class of '51 celebrated it's 25th renuion during the Annual June Week. We made our headquarters at the Hunt Valley Inn and changed our pervious reunion format this year by having a continuous hospitality room Thursday thru Saturday. This was climaxed by joining other 5-year classes at the official President's Reception and Reunion Dinner-Dance on Saturday night, at which time our class was recognized a sthe 25-year reunion class and certificates were issued to all participants. It was also noted, at that time, that we had the largest turnout of any class in the history of our school.

The enthusiasm for this type of affair was affected by the many calls and letters of appreciation I received for a weekend that was outstanding I think that the general feeling can best be summed up by quoting from the letter that Paul Torres sent to me. "It is too bad it did not last longer. No doubt that when word gets around of such a good reunion, a lot might say 'next time', but who knows how many next times we might have."

Many thanks to all helpers and a particular thank you to Marge and Norm Grabner.

The Class of 1956 had a socko Twenty Year Reunion at the Hunt Valley Inn Country Club during June Week. Following the Alumni Association Crab Feast on Thursday, Clayton McCarl had a big party in his room from 9:00 P.M. to 1:00 A.M. The next morning we had 1956 sports tournaments. Gil Youngblood captured the honors for golf while Clayton McCarl and Fred Brennan won at tennis. Friday afternoon from 1:00 P.M. to 5:00 P.M., we had "reacquaintance, back slapping and libations". Phil Norris presented each classmate with his freshman identification photo and a hiss at the door. We had our class photo taken during this party. General Alumni Chairman, Bob Bates, was voted the "most huggable." Following the reacquaintance party, we all went to the Oregon Ridge Dinner Theatre where we saw a cute play about a middle-aged couple with their marriage on the rocks. Returning from the theatre, we had another party in Clayton McCarl's room from 11:00 P.M. to 3:00 A.M. Saturday morning.

Saturday evening we attended the cocktail party and dinner dance. Ray Palmer arranged for mystery favors for everyone. The ladies received a lovely sterling silver bicuspid suitable for a charm bracelet or necklace. The gentlemen received a belt buckle with a life size full cast maxillary arch on it. This envoked many interesting comments!

Out of a class of 105, 45 returned and 50 responded. A good time was had by all.

The Class of 1961 celebrated its 15th reunion on Friday evening, June 4, 1976 at the Cross Keys Inn in the Village of Cross Keys. Thirty members returned for the festivities. Cocktails and delicious Hors D'Oeuvres were enjoyed by all while tales of yesteryear were in great abundance. A very enjoyable roast beef-crab imperial dinner followed the cocktail party. During dinner, a list of nicknames of class members was circulated so that each member present could have an opportunity to identify as many of these name associations as possible. It is surprising how many of these every day classmate names one forgets in 15 years.

A period of reverence was observed in memorium for two deceased members of the class, Dr. Frank J. Sinnreich, Jr. (d. 6/7/70) and Dr. Richard Arnold Foer (d. 9/2/74). Don Tilghman read several letters from classmates who were not able to attend the function. We enjoyed hearing from these individuals. We did regret, however, that not all of those who were absent responded to our plea for some details regarding their well being.

Dean Errol Reese and Associate Dean Charles Pridgeon were introduced to the class members. Many alumni concerns were discussed informally with the Dean and the Associate Dean. The excellent dialogue that ensued was appreciated by all.

In the latter part of the evening the group enjoyed the music of Buster Brown and His Band. A telephone with an attached amplifier was installed in the banquet room. Numerous collect calls were made around the country to classmates who were not able to return. At the next reunion, it is planned to sponsor a guess the correct amount contest based on the exact and total amount of Dave Rudo's (Seattle, Washington) June telephone bill following the lengthy conversation by our group.

The evening was enjoyed by all and it was generally agreed that we should have a similar function at our 20th reunion. Maintaining a list of corrected addresses on all of our classmates is a major problem for the alumni association. We encourage you to forward to us your own corrected address as well as those of classmates you may be corresponding with so that we can have a 100 percent involvement with the next reunion.

A hardy thanks goes to the reunion committee; George Buchness, Ron Israel, Jack Robinson, and Paul Teitlebaum for their help in arranging the festivities.

On Fridaly, June 4, the Class of 1966 of the BCDS were reunited at a glorious cocktail-dinner party held at the Hilton Inn at the Beltway. There were thirty-three couples (and four well-preserved bachelors) in spirited attendance. It was a revitalizing experience for all that were able to attend and the hours unfortunately melted into the night with many "war stories" remaining untold. A highligh of the evening was the showing of our film from our Junior Year skit night with unusual close-up photography of some very skinny and harassed looking dental students.

The feeling was unanimous that it is truly a beautiful evening spent with beautiful friends.

Hayden-Harris Lecture

Dr. Nancy Reynolds

The Fifth Hayden-Harris Memorial Lecture will be held Tuesday, May 31, 1977, at 2:30 p.m., in the freshman lecture hall on the first floor, John Eager Howard Hall, 655 W. Baltimore Street. The Hayden-Harris Memorial Lecture is sponsored by the Alumni Association, Baltimore College of Dental Surgery, Dental School, University of Maryland. The first lecture was held in 1965 which marked the 125th anniversary of the school's founding. Since that date the lecture is presented every three years.

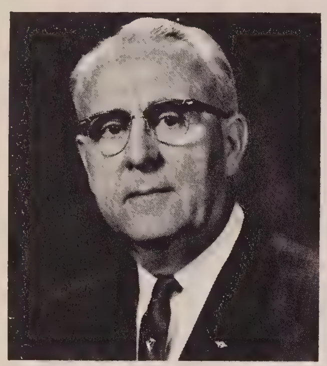
The guest lecturer will be Dr. Nancy Reynolds, broadcast interview spokeswoman for the American Dental Association's Public Education Program (P-EP). Dr. Reynolds has appeared in 25 cities, held 75 print and broadcast interviews reaching a total audience of eight million. PEP has two objectives: one, to demonstrate the outstanding quality of dental care currently provided in this country by private practice dentistry; and, two, to show that the private practice system is capable of meeting the challenge of change, of creating innovations and of continuing progress in providing the best possible care.

Dr. Reynolds describes her job as spokeswoman as "demanding but fulfilling." She is a cum laude graduate of the Ohio State University College of Dentistry, and presently is the chairperson of the Division of Dental Hygiene at her alma mater.

All Dental School alumni, faculty and senior class members are invited to attend. Charles T. Pridgeon, '35, is chairman of the Fifth Hayden-Harris Memorial Lecture Committee.

Harry B. McCarthy Honored

Dr. Harry B. McCarthy, Class of 1923, was honored by the Dallas County Dental Society on Saturday, January 29, 1977, in Dallas, Texas.



HARRY B. MCCARTHY, '23

Dr. McCarthy served as Professor of Operative Dentistry at his Alma Mater and as Director of Clinics. Following a long and illustrious tenure at our School, he was named Dean at the Baylor College of Dentistry in Dallas, Texas. He served in that position until his retirement approximately five years ago. He was succeeded by another Alumnus, Dr. Kenneth V. Randolph.

Dr. McCarthy was honored by his many colleagues and friends in Dallas at the Dallas Mid-Winter Meeting. He was a very popular teacher and Dean, and ha shad a host of friends and diciples throughout the country.

His contributions to his profession, especially in the field of dental education, are many. He held numerous positions in the various dental organizations of which he was a member. He is a Past-President of the Maryland State Dental Association and the Alumni Association of the Baltimore College of Dental Surgery, Dental School, University of Maryland. He was very active in Alpha Chapter Psi Omega Fraternity.

His lovely wife, Helen, and he are presently residing in Dallas, Texas. Their daughter, Joan, is married to a dentist and also resides in Texas.

Unfortunately, Dr. McCarthy was unable to attend the banquet of the Dallas Mid-Winter Meeting on Saturday, January 29, 1977, due to a slight illness . Dr. McCarthy had contracted a slight lung infection and, due to congestion in his chest, was unable to attend the affair. Mrs. McCarthy attended on his behalf and received the accolades for her husband. Dr. Cappuccio was unable to attend the Dallas Mid-Winter Meeting due to a prior commitment, and sent Dr. Joe N. Price to Dallas on his behalf and the many friends of Dr. McCarthy in Maryland. A letter from Dr. Cappuccio to Dr. McCarthy was read at the banquet and presented to Mrs. McCarthy. Dr. Price was well received in Dallas and represented Maryland very well.

Dr. McCarthy, in a recent telephone conversation, indicated that he is well on his way to a complete recovery from his recent illness. The Alumni Association wishes to congratulate and commend this outstanding Alumnus on his recent honor.

Gardner P. H. Foley Honored

L. to R.: Kyrle W. Preis, President of the Alumni Association, Gardner P. H. Foley, recipient, Conrad L. Inman, Jr., President-Elect of the Alumni Association.

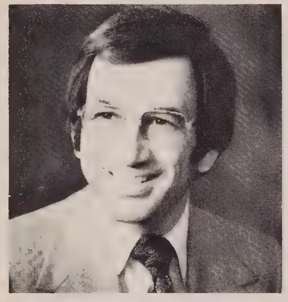
This year the alumni association isuued a certificate of appreciation to Professor Emeritus Gardner P. H. Foley in recognition of his many and continuing services to our association. This is the first time such a certificate has been presented, and because of Pat's extensive knowledge and interest in dental history it is most appropriate that he be the first recipient. He is our Historian-Archivist and the author of the recently published Booklet "Hall of Fame of Great Maryland Dentists."

J. Ben Robinson Honored

J. Ben Robinson (left) is congratulated by Wilson H. Elkins, President of the University of Maryland upon receiving an Honorary Doctor of Science Degree conferred by the University of Maryland during commencement exercises held in the Civic Center in Baltimore on June 4, 1976.

Elected

Dr. Burt Press is Speaker of the House of the American Dental Association. He is a general practitioner in a four man incorporated group practice in a highly industrialized, blue collar city in northern California. Dr. Press is past-president of the California Dental Association and a fellow of the American and International College of Dentists. He graduated from the University of Maryland School of Dentistry in 1953 and interned at Walter Reed Hospital. A member of the American Academy of Dental Practice Administration, Dr. Press has lectured throughout the U.S. on management and analgesia techniques. An instrument rated pilot, Burt likes to ski and play tennis. He and Rona live in Walnut Creek, California with their children Caren and Adam.



BURT PRESS '53
Speaker of the House

Elected

At the 1976 annual meeting of the American Association of Orthodonists held in New York, Dr. Clifford L. Whitman was elected as vice-president.

Dr. Whitman was graduated from the dental school in 1927 and earned his Certificate of Oral Surgery a year later from George Washington University. In 1931 he received his Certificate of Laboratory Diagnosis from Rutgers University where he taught Dental Therapeutics for eight years. He left this post to study Orthodontics at Columbia University where he obtained his certificate in 1941. Since 1947 he has been Clinical Professor of Dentistry, Orthodontic Department, Columbia University. In 1948 Dr. Whitman became a Diplomate of the American Board of Orthodontics.

CLIFFORD L. WHITMAN '27

Alumni Meet In Las Vegas

Approximately 150 Alumni and friends were in attendance at a successful reception of our alumni at the Las Vegas Hilton Hotel on Saturday, November 14, 1976. Alumni and friends throughout the country visited together and reminisced about old times. In spite of the competition of Las Vegas dinner shows and activities of the America Dental Association, the reception was very well attended.

The graduates asked many questions about the new dental school an the dental program. They visited with Dean Reese who was in attendance along with many members of our faculty. It was a very happ occasion and the alumni were looking forward to our reception next yea in Miami Beach, Florida.

Next year will be an important year for the University of Marylan Alumni, since our own Joe Cappuccio will stand election as President Elect of the American Dental Association at that time . The group wa enthusiastic about Joe's candidacy.

Many of the graduates were also looking forward to returning t Baltimore to attend next year's June Week activities and the clas reunions.

We look forward to meeting and greeting each other during the variou functions of the Alumni Sections over the next year.

Alumni Luncheon - Hinman Meeting

Atlanta, Georgia

Monday, March 21, 1977

A very successful luncheon meeting of our alumni was held in conjunction with the Hinman Meeting on Monday, March 21, 1977, at the Marriott Motor Inn. In attendance were approximately 25 members of our Association, along with Dean Errol L. Reese, Dr. Conrad L. Inman, Jr., President, and Dr. Joe Cappuccio, Secretary.

Local arrangements for this luncheon were made by Dr. Claude Gaines, Jr. Dr. Gaines has been very cooperative over the years in helping the Association with this activity at the Hinman Meeting.

Dr. Inman discussed with the group the various activities of our Alumni Association and the changes that have been brought about in our central office. He indicated that he had received the full support of Dean Reese and the administration of the dental school. He was very enthusiastic about the future relationships of the Alumni Association and the dental school.

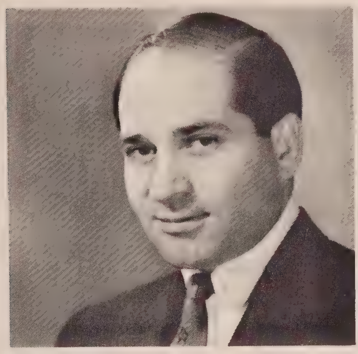
President Inman indicated to the group that Dr. Joe Cappuccio had eceived the endorsement of the Alumni Association and the dental chool for his candidacy for President-Elect of the ADA. He asked the group to do all that they can toward making this venture a success.

Dr. Cappuccio addressed the group in reference to his candidacy and e discussed many of the issues and concerns of the profession. He inicated that he appreciated the moral and financial support of his fellow lumni and friends throughout the country. He was especially pleased with the endorsement of the faculty of the dental school.

The meeting was concluded following the taking of a photograph. It ppears that this activity at the Hinman Meeting has been improving each year. The Association wishes to thank Dr. Gaines and our southern members for their cooperation in making this affair a success.

Dental Faculty Endorses Cappuccio

As President of the Faculty Council of the Baltimore College of Dental Surgery, Dental School, University of Maryland at Baltimore, it gives me great pleasure to inform you that your peers have passed the following resolution with a unanimous vote:



JOSEPH P. CAPPUCCIO, '46

"RESOLVED, that the Faculty Council of the University of Maryland Dental School recognizes the outstanding involvement and accomplishments of Dr. Joseph P. Cappuccio in organized dentistry and, be it further

"RESOLVED, that the Council endorses him as a candidate for President-Elect of the American Dental Association in 1977."

I would also like to inform you that the Department of Oral Surgery, your home base, was responsible for that resolution. I personally think that that department and this faculty have acted with a very sincere and honest desire to endorse your candidacy for President-Elect of the American Dental Association, and, on behalf of this faculty, I extend to you our best wishes.

ERROL L. REESE

Jane and Lewis C. Toomey's Daughter Barbara, A Real Winner

Barbara T. Hauschka of Tufts University was the first-place winner in the basic science and research category for her table clinic, "A historical and histo-chemical investigation of the calcification potential of poly-HEMA sponge in vivo," presented at the recent A.D.A. meeting in Las Vegas. She is now attending the International Association of Dental Research in Copenhagen, representing Tufts University. Her father Lewis Toomey, is a Past President of our Alumni Association.

Flying High

Some dentists have hobbies; some have second professions. A case in point is one of our 1955 graduates who has become an airline transport pilot.

Dr. and Mrs. Don Brotman

In 1967, after taking a $5 piper introductory flight, Don Brotman became hooked on aviation. In the following seven years, he obtained commercial pilot and flight instructor ratings in single engine land planes and single engine sea planes with privileges to fly these aircraft under instrument weather conditions and teach other people how to do the same. He is rated as a Commercial Glider Pilot. However, he is proudest of having achieved the rating pilots consider aviation's Ph.D., the rating of Airline Transport Pilot—Multi Engine land.

Dr. Brotman actively practices dentistry in his native Baltimore but spends much of his non-office time at Baltimore-Washington International Airport where he fills the role of Flight Instructor to his students and acts as an Accident Prevention Counselor for the Federal Aviation Administration. He has accumulated more than 2100 hours, some of which has been in helicopters and much of which has been in restrictive weather. Don has taken his aircraft as far from home as the Yucatan Peninsula in Mexico, the out islands of the Bahamas, and St. Pierre et Micquelon, the only French possessions in North America.

The Brotman family has participated in the father's interest. Mrs. Brotman of 24 years, the former Phyllis Block, learned to fly and soloed an airplane in 1968. Sol, the older child and now a student at the University of Maryland Dental School, soloed a gloder when he was 14 years old. Barbara learned enough about aircraft to be able to land one by herself. The family often flies to meetings and and Dr. Brotman feels that the occasional adversities they experience has lead to a great deal of the feeling of togetherness that exists among the four of them.

Don points out that general aviation is not only very safe but is also very convenient. Your plane is ready to leave whenever you are and won't take off without you. You can determine your own schedule rather than be dependent on the airlines. In addition, light aircraft go into more than 13,000 airports in the USA but airlines can only get into 653 airports.

Despite the bad press that general aviation has received, Dr. Brotman feels that flying is safer than driving if the pilot is experienced and careful. Due to the vastness of the sky and its relatively uncrowded condition, there is little in aviation comparable to the automobile accident in which someone is hurt because another driver didn't watch what he was doing. In fact, there is a sign in his dental office that reads "Be careful driving to theairport."

Warsaw Report

The endowment fund of the alumni association awarded $400.00 to Mr. Michael L. Dillon '78 to assist him in participating in the American Student Dental Association International Exchange Program . Mr. Dillon was one of 12 students across the country to be selected to travel abroad and experience dentistry in other countries. Mr. Dillon went to Poland.
Introduction:

As recipient of the $350 stipend the American Student Dental Association awarded me I visited the Medical Academy of Stomatology located in Warsaw, Poland. Factors considered in my selection of Poland were:

MICHAEL L. DILLON, '78

1. To have the advantage of witnessing how dentistry is taught and practiced in an Eastern European country.
2. To compare and contrast the differences that do exist and consider the employment of methods in use there (e.g., electrosurgery, Sargenti method).
3. To evaluate the social differences between the two countries and ascertain the differences in the status of a dentist in this regard.

Description of Exchange:

The duration of my visit to Poland was 20 days; July 16 to August 5, 1976. This time was spent at the Medical Academy of Poland, Division of Stomatology; Warsaw, Poland. On arrival the Socialist Union of Medical Students granted me approximately $50. Originally, I requested observing as many specialties of dentistry as possible, but was told that it was difficult due to the summer holidays. However, the faculty did arrange for me observation of the divisions of oral surgery, periodontics, and to a lesser extent restoration dentistry. Assisting was not allowed, primarily due to a language barrier between myself and some of the surgeons. Therefore, for the most part my exchange consisted of observing and discussing techniques. On my own, one day I had the opportunity to visit a private practice which does exist in Poland. In Warsaw a very modern medical/dental institution has been built which I had the opportunity to visit. However, the complex is not operational at this time and the various dental clinics are spread throughout Warsaw each specializing in an area of dentistry. Therefore, a student on specified days reports to a particular clinic.
Benefits of the Exchange:

The exchange program was extremely beneficial to my dental education, socially rewarding, and increased my cultural appreciation of not only Poland, but my own country as well. I gained firsthand information on how dentistry is taught in another country and am able to understand the state of dentistry as it exists on an international basis moreso than in the past. That is, in a country whose form of government, health care philosophy, social structure, and educational process differs from that of the United States I, by observing, can now much better appreciate how a dentist functions in a different system, but is still related to the health care process. Therefore, such an exchange would be beneficial to any student of dentistry.

Suggestions and Recommendations:

I would like very much to see a larger volume of students participating in such exchanges and have the opportunity to benefit from such a rewarding experience. Perhaps this could be accomplished between individual schools with funding from the schools and the American Dental Association, as was my exchange. However, I would like to suggest when an exchange takes place a program be constructed to give the exchange every opportunity to maximize his/her exposure to as many areas of dentistry as possible and yet not be so rigidly constructed that the exchange would be prevented from experiencing social and cultural events. My visit to Poland was very good in the latter aspect, but was somewhat deficient in the former. However, the reason for this was the summer holidays for the students and many faculty members.

I would like very much to express a personal note of appreciate to those concerned who afforded me the opportunity of the exchange.

Again — Attention Please

Undoubtedly many of our Alumni have achieved honors and merited distinction, but the facts surrounding such occasions have escaped our attention. Perhaps modesty or indifference has interfered with the news reaching us.

This is regrettable, for one of the principal purposes of the Alma Mater is to serve as a repository of events. Our past records are indeed meager and Alumni activities during the merger of the Baltimore College of Dental Surgery with the Dental School, University of Maryland, are wrapped in confusion.

Therefore, we urge you to send us information so that we may print the news.

President's Report

First of all I wish to express my appreciation for the honor of serving this organization as president this past year.

Actually it's been a pleasure working with the officers, councilmen and committeemen, all friends, who year after year have taken the trouble and accepted the inconveniences to faithfully serve this organization. To them on behalf of our association, I say thank you.

To the membership in general whose loyalty and support is appreciated I make this report.

With the appointment of our new dean Errol Reese, there has been a noticable change in the attitude of our school towards the alumni association.

In the past there was a certain distant coolness and at times an atmosphere of hostility which interfered with the normal functioning of the two natural partners—the school and the alumni association and the unfortunate result of such an impass was that the student body was hardly aware that the alumni association was functioning. Things reached a low point when two succeeding classes after graduation never received any alumni communication. That situation was corrected last year, by an explanatory letter sent out by our Past President Bill Patteson. I'm sure that won't happen again.

We shall not dwell on the past, but speak of the present. One of the first things Dr. Reese did while acting dean was to appoint a liaison committee composed of 5 members from the school including the dean and a dental student to meet with 5 representatives from the alumni association. Their purpose was to discuss matters of mutual concern to both the school and the alumni association. Dr. Vincent Provenza was the chairman of this group which met frequently at his home, with his wife serving as a gracious hostess. These were amiable sessions, where many issues were discussed, including the deliberations of the search committee for a new dean. Bill Patteson was our alumni representative serving on that committee which met each week early on Friday mornings: It is a good example of alumni participation in making important decisions. Another important issue which was discussed an unanimously approved by the committee was that "non faculty alumni be asked to serve on appropriate school committees currently consisting exclusively of faculty and students." There is much merit in this request, and we are now awaiting word from the school regarding this recommendation Incidentally our alumni council meetings are attended by the dean, the associate dean for alumni relations as well as a representative from the student body. We feel that their presence and input into our open discussions helps us make sound decisions. The same might be true with alumni participation on some school committees.

Ever since the first state Historical Marker was erected outside the dental school on Baltimore Street several years ago, its inaccuracy was obvious to anyone who knows our history or who cares about such matters. It said quote, "The Baltimore College of Dental Surgery the School of Dentistry of the University of Maryland was founded March 6, 1840." We know that only the Baltimore College of Dental Surgery was founded in 1840: the merger with the University of Maryland Dental School did not take place until 1924.

In any event the alumni association decided something should be done about the marker so they appointed a special committee composed of J. Ben Robinson—Burt McCauley with Gardner Foley as chairman. After prolonged negotiations they formulated a correct inscription for the marker, which was approved by Dr. Kuhn, Dean Reese and the Maryland Historical Society. A new casting was made and I'm happy to report that the sign is now erected. Your alumni association paid the cost entailed.

I'm also happy to report that our membership has increased this past year according to our treasurer Phil Norris. We have approximately 175 more dues paying members than the previous year. That's important because if our financial obligations remain the same, and our income from membership slips it means one thing—an increase in dues. Therefore I'm happy to see the reverse happen. Also this year we made a special effort to visit with the various alumni sections. As reported in our News Letter and the Alma Mater we visited New York, New Jersey, Puerto Rico, Atlanta, District of Columbia, West Virginia, Rhode Island and Florida. Perhaps these visits by our officers and Dean Reese, along with the notices which preceded these visits have aroused interest and encouraged alumni to attend these affairs and rejoin the Alumi Association.

As you know we have had an alumni office at the school for quite a while, and it is furnished with all necessities provided by the alumni. Last year we had a part time secretary—2 days per week, who worked principally on the alumni files. This year we have a full time secretary, Miss Mary Hagerman, who at the present time is still working to update our rather large mailing list. Her salary is paid partly by the school (3/5)) and partly by the alumni association (2/5). A new computerized mailing system is now being used with the hope that our communication will be much more accurate. You would be shocked at the amount of mail returned—moved, no forwarding address, deceased, no such street, refused, unclaimed, etc., and to add insult to injury we pay 34¢ for returned Alma Mater postage. This represents a big loss in printing and mailing costs—the school and the alumni association will both use this new mailing facility and the cost of setting it up, I hope will be shared by both.

Regarding news and publication—the alumni sends a newsletter to all alumni in the fall, whether they are active members or not.

The Alma Mater is mailed only to dues paying members, for reasons explained many times in the news letter and in the Alma Mater.

I again wish to thank the officers and others who have supported our program this year; to Bob Bates, John Patterson, Frank Dolle, Robert Lee and Joe Price and his general arrangements committee for their excellent efforts, in making this meeting successful and to the various class reunion chairman for accepting responsibility for their affairs.

In closing, I would like to make two recommendations:

1. That our alumni office be put to its fullest use—correspondence should be channeled thru that office which is staffed every day and where our permanent files are located—where the most recent and accurate addresses are on file—where extra copies of our publications are stored, where notices of meetings can be arranged and where general information can be obtained.
2. I recommend the continuation of the liaison committee meetings because they provide the most direct and effective means of communication between the school and the alumni association.

I sincerely hope that the cordial relations now existing between the school and the alumni association will continue so that next year your new President Bud Inman will have an even happier report to present.

KYRLE W. PREIS

President, 1976

NOTICE

At a recent meeting of the officers and members of the executive council, it was decided that in the future the "Alma Mater" will be mailed only to dues paying members.

All alumni activities such as receptions at national meetings — honoring the 50 year grads during June week, and other social functions are all supported through your annual dues. But the heaviest financial burden is the Alma Mater. With a mailing list in excess of 4000 — with printing and handling costs constantly rising, we cannot afford the luxury of free distribution of this publication. Furthermore it is grossly unfair to the dues paying member, who in essence is paying for someone's free ride.

The association is grateful for the loyal support our members have shown in the past and we sincerely hope that more fellow alumni will share our efforts to make the association truly worthwhile.

PROPOSED CONSTITUTION AND BYLAWS OF THE ALUMNI ASSOCIATION of THE BALTIMORE COLLEGE of DENTAL SURGERY, DENTAL SCHOOL, UNIVERSITY OF MARYLAND, INC.

The proposed Constitution and Bylaws are hereby submitted to the Alumni for their consideration. Most of the changes in the Constitution and Bylaws are the result of actions taken at Alumni Association meetings during the last thirteen years. Official action on this document will be taken at the annual business meeting of the Association on Saturday, June 4, 1977.

CONSTITUTION

Article I
NAME

The name of this organization shall be the Alumni Association of the Baltimore College of Dental Surgery, Dental School, University of Maryland, Inc. hereafter referred to as the Association.

Article II
OBJECTIVES

The objectives of the Association shall be to keep the interest of the alumnus in his/her Alma Mater; to provide occasional alumni gatherings that will serve as a common meeting ground where cherished friendships may be renewed and perpetuated; to inspire the graduates to give their moral support to the College administration in its efforts to sustain the fine traditions that distinguish the "First Dental College in the World"; to induce the alumni to give, within reasonable limits, financial support to the general and/or special needs of the College; and to encourage, in every way possible, the continuing education of the alumni.

Article III
MEMBERSHIP

Membership in the Association shall consist of graduates of (a) The Baltimore College of Dental Surgery; (b) The Dental Department of the University of Maryland; (c) The Dental Department of the Baltimore Medical College; and (d) The Baltimore College of Dental Surgery, Dental School, University of Maryland; (e) The Baltimore College of Dental Surgery, Dental School, University of Maryland, Department of Dental Hygiene; and (f) such other persons as shall qualify for membership under the special provisions outlined in the Bylaws of the Association.

Article IV
ALUMNI SECTIONS

Sections of the Association shall be alumni societies organized in communities, states, or specified areas, with memberships composed of graduates of the Baltimore dental schools listed in Article III, and governed by a formal charter granted them by the Association.

Article V
GOVERNMENT

SECTION 1. Legislative Authority: The legislative body for the Association shall be all the voting members present at meetings called for the purpose of transacting the official business of the Association.

SEC. 2. Executive Authority: The executive body of the Association shall be an Executive Council, the members of which shall be chosen by the Association at its annual meetings.

Article VI
OFFICERS

The elective officers of the Association shall be a President, a President-Elect, a

First Vice-President, a Second Vice-President, a Secretary, a Recording Secretary, a Treasurer, an Historian-Archivist, and an Editor.

Article VII

SEC. 4. Assessments may be levied on the members of the Association upon the recommendation of the Executive Council. Full explanation of the purpose of the assessment shall be made in writing and sent to the members along with the call for the meeting of the Association at which a vote on the proposed assessment will be taken.

Article III

THE EXECUTIVE COUNCIL

SECTION 1. The Executive Council shall be composed of the nine elective officers of the Association, the immediate past president of the Association, and six members to be elected by the Association for terms of three years, two of whom shall be elected at each annual business meeting. The Presidents of the Alumni Sections shall be invited to attend the Executive Council meetings without a vote. The Chairman of the three Alumni Council representatives to the General Alumni Council and the Secretary-Treasurer of the Board of Trustees shall be invited to the Executive Council meetings without a vote. The members of the Alumni Council and the Board of Trustees may be invited to attend the Executive Council meetings without a vote. The voting members of the Executive Council shall be the nine elective officers of the Association, the immediate past president and the six members elected by the Association to the Executive Council.

SEC. 1a. The Executive Council shall meet at least three times a year, the meetings to be held (a) not less than thirty days before an annual business meeting; (b) immediately following the adjournment of an annual business meeting; and (c) not more than sixty days after the date of an annual business meeting. Special meetings may be called at any time by the president or upon a petition signed by not less than five members of the Council. There may be student representatives in the Executive Council meetings at the request and invitation of the Alumni Association.

SEC. 1b. The Executive Council shall have the responsibility for administering the affairs of the Association between the dates of the annual business meetings. Its particular duties shall be to elect members of standing committees; to approve the annual budget; to authorize, in case of need, the expenditure of funds supplemental to budgeted funds; to approve, in case of emergency, assessments of members to be voted upon at a meeting of the Association; to fill vacancies in elective offices excepting those of president and president-elect; to plan for triennial meetings and to fix the dates for same; to grant charters to alumni sections; to nominate for consideration by the Association distinguished persons for honorary membership; and to act as the custodian of all historical material placed in its keeping.

SEC. 1c. Vacancies among the elected members of the Council shall not be filled until the next regular annual meeting of the Association.

Article IV

OFFICERS AND THEIR DUTIES

SECTION 1. The president shall preside at all meetings of the Association and all meetings of the Executive Council.

SEC. 1a. He shall instruct the secretary to call all meetings of the Association and all meetings of the Executive Council, and all such special meetings of either that may be ordered. He shall, with the approval of the Executive Council, appoint special committees, shall be ex-officio member of all standing committees, and shall perform such routine duties as may, from time to time, become the responsibility of a president.

SEC. 1b. The president may cast the deciding vote in all cases of a tie except for the election of officers.

President-Elect

SEC. 2. The president-elect shall attend the meetings of the Association, the meetings of the Executive Committee, and the meetings of standing committees in order to become acquainted with the details of administrative procedures and of the general problems of the Association.

First Vice-President

SEC. 3. The first vice-president shall, in the absence of the president, preside at the meetings of the Association and the meetings of the Executive Council. He shall assume all the duties of the president in case of his incapacitation. In case the office of president is vacated the first vice-president shall succeed automatically to the presidency.

Second Vice-President

SEC. 4. The second vice-president shall stand by to take over temporarily the duties of the first vice-president, and to succeed to the presidency in case of emergency.

Secretary

SEC. 5. The secretary shall keep an accurate record of the proceedings of all meetings of the Association and of the Executive Council; shall send out announcements and calls for all meetings; shall have charge of all official correspondence; shall notify all officers of their election, and all members of committees of their appointment; and shall perform such other duties as may from time to time be assigned him by the Association and the Executive Council.

Recording Secretary

SEC. 6. The responsibilities of the recording secretary shall be to take minutes and perform other duties that may be assigned to him.

Treasurer

SEC. 7. The treasurer shall prepare and send bills for dues to the alumni at the first of each year; and shall receive remittance of dues and assessments and shall send to each paid member an official membership card. He shall pay all valid bills incurred by the Association, by the Executive Council, the officers, and the various committees in the performance of their official duties. He shall keep an accurate record of all financial transactions and shall make an itemized report to the Association at its annual business meeting.

SEC. 7a. The treasurer shall arrange for bond in an amount to be fixed by the Executive Council, the cost of such bond to be paid by the Association.

Editor

Sec. 8. The editor shall be responsible for collecting and editing all copy to be included in the official journal of the Association; shall submit for each issue prepared material arranged in good order for the convenience of the printer; and shall arrange for the prompt distribution of the journal when it comes from the press. He shall contract for such advertisements for the journal pages as may conform to the advertising standards of the American Association of Dental Editors.

Sec. 8a. The editor shall not incur any expenses in excess of the amount included in the approved annual budget. In cases of necessity, he may appeal to the Executive Council for additional funds to meet extraordinary expenses.

Historian-Archivist

Sec. 9. The historian-archivist shall be the custodian of the historical records of the Association; shall preserve all scientific and professional papers presented before the Association that are of historical importance; shall gather factual information concerning the history of the Association, particularly biographical material relating to (a) those alumni who have, through the years, contributed to the success of the Association, and (b) those alumni who have been the recipients of the Distinguished Alumnus Award.

Sec. 9a. Historical and biographical material that may be assembled and put in permanent form by the historian-archivist shall be delivered to the Executive Council which shall arrange for its preservation and safe-keeping.

Article V

ELECTION OF OFFICERS

Section 1. Nominations for all elective offices shall be made and elections held at the time of the annual business meeting of the Association. It shall be the duty of the nominating committee to make a report of the names of those whom it has selected to serve in the several elective offices. In addition to the names presented by the committee, other nominations may be made from the floor. In case of no contest, the election of nominees may be by viva voce vote; in case of a contest, the election shall be by secret ballot. The Editor shall be elected for a three-year term.

Article VI

COMMITTEES AND THEIR DUTIES

Section 1. All standing committees, unless otherwise provided for in the Bylaws, shall be composed of five members. Nominations of members for all committees shall be made by the president subject to confirmation by a majority vote of the Executive Council. There shall be a Distinguished Alumnus Award Committee and a Hayden-Harris Memorial Lecture Committee. There shall be a Faculty-Alumni Liaison Committee consisting of four alumni members.

Sec. 1a. Upon the approval by the Association of Section 1, the president shall, at a meeting of the Executive Council, make nominations of members for election to places on committees. One member shall be elected for five years, one for four years, one for three years, one for two years, one for one year and thereafter one to be elected annually for a term of five years. The senior member of a committee shall serve as its chairman.

Sec. 1b. It shall be the duty of each standing committee to submit to the budget committee, no later than thirty days after the date of the annual meeting, a proposed budget to provide for committee expenses for the ensuing year.

Committee on Nominations

Sec. 2. The committee on nominations shall consist of five members as provided for in these Bylaws to which shall be added the two immediate past presidents.

Sec. 2a. It shall be the duty of the committee on nominations to select the names of persons to be voted upon for the offices of president-elect, first vice-president, second vice-president, secretary, recording secretary, treasurer, editor, historian-archivist, delegates and alternates to represent the association on the General Alumni Council and the members of the Executive Council and the Endowment Fund Trustees. The list of nominees selected by the committee shall be submitted to the membership in the official call for the annual business meeting, and shall be reported directly to the annual business meeting of the Association for consideration.

Committee on Constitution and Bylaws

SEC. 3. It shall be the duty of the committee on constitution and bylaws to receive and to consider proposals for changes in the constitution and/or bylaws made by the members of the Association at large, by any of the committees or by the Executive Council. It shall recommend such amendments as seem to be in the interest of the better government of the Association. The committee shall submit any recommendations for change in the constitution and bylaws to the members of the Association not less than thirty days in advance of the annual business meeting.

Committee on Membership

SEC. 4. The committee on membership shall undertake to increase the active, associate and life memberships, and may, if it elects to do so, recommend to the Executive Council the names of eligible persons for election to honorary membership.

SEC. 4a. It shall contact the dentists, not graduates of the College, who may be eligible for associate membership and invite them to become associate members of the Association.

SEC. 4b. It shall make a serious effort to acquaint members, particularly those in the younger age brackets, with the advantages of life membership, and to induce them to become life members.

Committee on Solicitations

SEC. 5. The duty of the committee on solicitations shall be to discover potential sources of financial support, and to attempt to secure from them gifts, bequests, endowments, or donations that would increase the resources available to the Trustees of the Endowment Fund in carrying on their important work.

Committee on Arrangements (June Week)

SEC. 6. The committee on arrangements shall have charge of local arrangements for the regular annual meeting. It shall cooperate with the General Arrangements Committee of the College in planning the traditional five-year class reunions.

Committee on Roster

SEC. 7. The roster committee shall be composed of the editor of the journal, the treasurer and the secretary. Its duty shall be to keep the membership roll up-to-date and to publish it periodically.

Commitee on Budget

SEC. 8. The duties of this committee shall be to accept prepared budget requests from the officers and the committees of the Association for such funds as may be thought necessary to conduct the business of he Association for the ensuing year. It shall combine the several requests into a single annual budget statement that will show realistic estimates of all receipts and all expenditures anticipated for the year, and shall submit the completed budget with its recommendations to the Executive Council not later than thirty days after the date of the last annual business meeting of the Association.

Committees of the Faculty

SEC. 9. Alumni representation on committees of the faculty of the Baltimore College of Dental Surgery, Dental School, University of Maryland, Inc. shall be as follows:

a—Subcommittee on Dental Student Admissions shall consist of one non-faculty alumni member and one alternate;

b—Subcommittee on Dental Hygiene Admissions shall consist of one non-faculty alumni dental hygiene member and one alternate;

c—Subcommittee on Continuing Education shall consist of one non-faculty alumni member;

d—Committee of Nine shall consist of one non-faculty alumni member.

Special Committees

SEC. 10. Special committees may be created at any meeting of the Association, or any meeting of the Executive Council, for the purpose of performing any duties not otherwise provided for in these bylaws. Such special committees shall serve not longer than the next succeeding annual business meeting of the Association.

SEC. 10a. The president shall appoint an ad hoc committee to make arrangements for the Triennial Meetings or Special Meetings.

SEC. 10b. There may be student participation on special committees of the Association.

DELEGATES TO THE GENERAL ALUMNI COUNCIL

SECTION 1. In accordance with the provisions of the bylaws of the General Alumni Council of the University of Maryland this delegation shall consist of three members, to be elected by the Association, one for a three-year term, one for a two-year term, and one for a one-year term, and thereafter one member to be elected each year for a three-year term. The senior delegate shall serve as its chairman and shall be extended the privilege of attending the regular meetings of the Executive Council as an observer.

SEC. 1a. The Association shall elect three alternate delegates annually, designated 1st, 2nd and 3rd alternate. The duty of an alternate delegate shall be to serve, if called upon, at meetings of the General Alumni Council in the event the regular delegate cannot attend. It shall be the responsibility of the regular delegate to arrange with an alternate delegate to attend meetings of the General Alumni Council in his place. In case of death, retirement or incapacitation alternate 1 shall fill the unexpired term.

SEC. 1b. The duty of the delegates shall be to represent the interests of the College and the dental alumni on the General Alumni Council. In matters of extraordinary importance the delegation may call upon the Executive Council for advice and guidance. They shall make an annual report to the Association, and periodic reports to the Executive Council at its regular meetings.

Article VIII

MEETINGS

SECTION 1. The Annual Meeting: An annual business meeting of the Association shall be held in Baltimore either during commencement week at the University of Maryland, or at some earlier date within the calendar year, the time to be fixed at the discretion of the Executive Council.

SEC. 2. Special Meetings: Special meetings of the Association may be called for particular purposes by a majority vote of the Executive Council, or by petition signed by at least twenty voting members of the Association. Notice of the purpose of a special meeting and the date on which such meeting is to be held shall be clearly stated in the call and mailed to the membership of the Association at least two weeks prior to the date fixed for the meeting.

SEC. 3. Triennial Meetings: The Executive Council may, at its discretion, arrange to hold protracted sessions of the Association at approximately three-year intervals, such meetings to be designated as "Triennial Meetings." When such a triennial meeting is held, the regular annual business meeting of the Association shall be held in conjunction with it.

SEC. 4. The Quorum: Twenty voting members of the Association present at a regular annual meeting, or at any special meeting, shall constitute a quorum for transacting such business as may come before the Association for consideration and action.

Article IX
ALUMNI SECTIONS

SECTION 1. Alumni sections of the Association may be formed by alumni residing in a metropolitan area, a state, or a region, who shall be members of the parent organization, and who may join together for the purpose of establishing a temporary alumni section organization.

In order to be considered by the Association as eligible for a charter, the preliminary organization shall include at least fifteen alumni who shall prepare a constitution and bylaws for governing the section and shall effect a temporary organization for carrying on negotiations for a charter. Nothing shall be contained in the proposed constitution and bylaws for the section that may be in conflict with the provisions of the constitution and bylaws of the parent organization.

SEC. 2. Upon the receipt of an application for a section charter from a preliminary organization, accompanied with a properly prepared constitution and bylaws, the Executive Council shall, if it finds everything in good order, issue an alumni charter to the alumni section.

SEC. 3. The following alumni sections have conformed to all requirements, have been approved by the Executive Council, have been issued alumni section charters, and are now officially reorganized as bona fide sections of the Alumni Association of the Baltimore College of Dental Surgery, Dental School, University of Maryland, Inc.:

1. The New Jersey Alumni Section.
2. The Rhode Island Alumni Section.
3. The Maine Alumni Section.
4. The Hawaii Alumni Section.
5. The Puerto Rico Alumni Section.

SEC. 3a. The Presidents of official Alumni Sections shall be invited to the Executive Council meetings without a vote.

Article X
THE ENDOWMENT FUND

SECTION 1. There is hereby created under the authority of the Association a special fund to be administered by a corporation and to be known as The Endowment Fund of the Alumni Association of the Baltimore College of Dental Surgery, Dental School, University of Maryland, Incorporated 1946.

SEC. 2. The Endowment Fund shall be administered by a Board of Trustees which shall consist of two classes of members known as ex-officio trustees and elected trustees.

The ex-officio trustees shall include the president, the president-elect, the secretary and the treasurer of the Association, and the dean of the College. The elected trustees shall be six in number and shall be elected by the Association for terms of three years. The number of elected members shall be divided equally between alumni residing in Maryland and alumni residing out of Maryland when feasible. Two elected members, one from Maryland and one from without Maryland, shall be elected annually when feasible. No elected member shall serve consecutively more than two terms of three years each.

SEC. 3. The chairman shall be elected from elected trustees of Maryland at the annual meeting of the Board of Trustees for the term of one year or until his successor shall be elected and qualified. A chairman may be re-elected. The secretary-treasurer shall be elected from the elected trustees of Maryland for a term of three years. A secretary-treasurer may be re-elected for three years. The secretary-treasurer shall represent the Trustees on the Executive Council of the Association without a vote.

SEC. 4. The trustees of the Fund shall accept gifts, bequests, endowments, and such other funds as may from time to time be made available to the Association. They shall be responsible for the proper allocation of funds or income from funds to the purposes for which donations were originally intended.

SEC. 5. The trustees shall establish such policies as may be necessary to govern the acceptance of funds that may be offered to the Association for special purposes, and shall formulate such rules as may be necessary for the proper administration of the fund or funds for which they are responsible, such rules and regulations to be approved by a majority vote of the Executive Council.

Article XI

DISTINGUISHED ALUMNUS AWARD

The Association has created a Distinguished Alumnus Award. The selection of recipients of the award shall be made from among eminent alumni whose claim to high distinction is generally recognized by the dental profession. Rules of procedure governing this award shall be appended to this document.

Article XII

HAYDEN-HARRIS MEMORIAL LECTURE

It is the desire of the Association of the Baltimore College of Dental Surgery, Dental School, University of Maryland, Inc. to honor the founders of the Baltimore College of Dental Surgery. The Association shall have a special lecture known as the Hayden-Harris Memorial Lecture. Rules of procedure governing this lecture shall be appended to this document.

Article XIII

AMENDMENTS

Proposals to amend the Constitution or the Bylaws shall be in writing and shall be submitted at an annual business meeting of the Association by the committee on Constitution and Bylaws, or by petition signed by not less than five members of the Association in good standing. The Constitution and Bylaws shall be acted upon only at the annual business meeting, and may be adoptel by a three-fourths majority vote of the eligible members present and voting, or by a two-thirds vote of the Board of Directors of the Corporation present at the Board of Directors meeting.

Article XIV

RULES OF ORDER

The meetings of the Association and of the Executive Council shall be conducted according to the rules of order outlined in the Sturgis Code of Parliamentary Procedure.

RULES OF PROCEDURE FOR THE DISTINGUISHED ALUMNUS AWARD (JUNE, 1964)

There shall be a Distinguished Alumnus Award Committee consisting of seven members who are broadly representative of the dental alumni membership, each of whom shall have been a member of the Alumni Association of the Baltimore College of Dental Surgery, Dental School, University of Maryland for not less than three years. To the fullest possible extent, nominees to this committee shall be actively interested members of the Alumni Association.

No member of the Award Committee appointed for a full term of seven years shall be eligible for reappointment until the expiration of one year after the close of his term. A vacancy occurring in the committee between periods of regular appointment shall be filled for the remainder of the term by appointment by the President of the Association with the approval of the Executive Council.

The Distinguished Alumnus Award Committee is charged with the nomination of the recipient or recipients of the Distinguished Alumnus Award. In preparation for the performance of its duties, the Committee shall formulate a detailed procedure to be approved and published by the Executive Council. The nominee or nominees for the award shall have the approval of Executive Committee of the Association.

The Committee shall meet initially once a year before the month of October to organize itself and fix the time of its future meetings. The Committee shall elect its own chairman and secretary. Its proceedings should be secret and all information held confidential. It may invite and shall receive and consider all communications in reference to persons proposed as recipients of the Distinguished Alumnus Award, and shall make careful examinations as to their eligibility. Absence of a member of the Award Committee from two consecutive meetings, without a valid reason communicated to the chairman of the Committee, shall vacate the member's position on the Committee.

It shall not be mandatory that the Distinguished Alumnus Award be given annually. If the committee is unable to decide on a candidate in a given year, it would be best to make no award for that year, but to continue the evaluation of candidates for another year so that only deserving candidates who have been thoroughly considered will receive the Award.

The Committee shall be fully responsible for evaluating, nominating and organizing the mechanics for conferring the Distinguished Alumnus Award on the candidate or candidates.

The Award shall be bestowed on the candidate in the name of the Alumni Association of the Baltimore College of Dental Surgery, Dental School, University of Maryland, Inc. at the annual banquet held in June unless a more appropriate time is selected by the Award Committee.

The President of the Alumni Association shall present the Award unless for good and sufficient reasons he wants to designate another person to make the presentation.

The chairman of the Award Committee shall be responsible for securing the Award and having it suitably inscribed.

10

The candidate to be selected must be a graduate of the Baltimore College of Dental Surgery, Dental School, University of Maryland, Inc. and show outstanding qualities of leadership in the following categories:

A. General Dentistry or Its Specialties
B. Education.
C. Political Science
D. Research
E. Administration
F. Federal Dental Services
G. Community Service.

11

The Award Committe shall at periodic intervals advise all graduates of the Baltimore College of Dental Surgery, Dental School, University of Maryland, Inc. of the duties of the Committee and ask for the names of potential nominees to be submitted in writing to the Chairman of the Award Committee.

12

The Award Committee shall maintain a continuing file of all potential candidates for the use of future Award Committees. The file shall be kept in the possession of the current chairman of the Award Committee. It shall be the duty of the retiring chairman to transfer the file to the new chairman within a period of sixty days. In the event this is not done within the specified time limit it shall be the responsibility of the President of the Association to see that it is done as soon as possible.

13

Each year the Executive Council should provide an adequate budget for the Award Committee work.

14

The chairman of the Award Committee will be responsible for transmitting information regarding the transactions of the Committee to the Publicity Committee of the Association, who shall see that all publications of the Dental School and the University of Maryland are promptly notified of the details of the presentation ceremony and all matters related to selection of recipients for the Distinguished Alumnus Award.

15

The Award Committee shall meet at least twice a year. The time and place of the meeting shall be set by the chairman. It will be the duty of the chairman to communicate with the members of the Committee immediately after his appointment and to begin gathering information on possible candidates for the nomination of the Distinguished Alumnus Award. The entire file of candidates will be considered each year by the Award Committee.

16

Seven men shall be appointed to the first committee. The original term of service shall be determined by lot. Thereafter, there shall be an annual appointment by the President of one member for seven years subject to the approval of the Executive Council. The changes in the personnel of the Committee should coincide with the annual change of administration of the officers of the Alumni Association.

RULES OF PROCEDURE FOR THE HAYDEN-HARRIS MEMORIAL LECTURE

The lecture shall be given every third year as part of the Triennial Meeting, which was established in 1965.

The lecture shall be administered by a standing committee of the Association known as the Hayden-Harris Memorial Lecture Committee. The committee shall consist of three alumni members to be appointed by the President in the year following a Triennial Meeting and two alumni members of the faculty. The Dean of the Dental School shall serve as ex-officio member of the committee.

The funds to administer the Lecture shall come from interest for a three-year period on $5,000.00 of endowment fund monies; other funds may be allocated. Request for these funds shall be submitted by the committee chairman to the Executive Council.

An appropriate plaque shall be presented by the Alumni Association to the lecturer.

New, Exclusive Healthco Leasing Programs Offer Unique Benefits and Flexible Plans

...to the new dentist
...to the established dentist
...in any tax bracket

Whether you're opening a new office, expanding an existing office, or purchasing new equipment for your established office, you should consider LEASING as a means of financing.

To provide the profession with adequate financial assistance for equipment and consumable purchases, leasehold improvements and working capital requirements, Healthco has formed a wholly owned financing subsidiary... Healthco Professional Services Corporation (HPSC).

Staffed with experienced financial people, HPSC works closely with Healthco equipment specialists in all of our supply centers, to develop the best possible financing arrangements for each customer.

WHY LEASING?

Because it allows the new dentist to set up practice with a finance plan tailored to his cash flow needs; it allows the established dentist to replace or add to his present equipment without affecting his credit rating or disturbing his cash flow. Many dentists are becoming aware of the benefits of leasing and of the helpful financial guidance offered by HPSC.,

WHY HEALTHCO?

Because Healthco has established this wholly owned subsidiary, HPSC, to provide the profession with adequate financial guidance. HPSC offers many plans. All are individually programmed to meet your personal financial requirements and to insure flexible financing of equipment, consumable supplies and leasehold improvements.

Healthco's leasing company offers many options that are not available from other financing sources.

1. Prepayment without penalty.
2. Competitive rates.
3. Trade-up privileges on any leased equipment without having to pay off the entire note.
4. Step-up payment programs.
5. Personalized financial guidance.

For information regarding HPSC's 100% tax deductible leasing programs or any other type of financing, contact your local Healthco representative. We look forward to assisting you with a plan that will satisfy your financial needs.

Need a Personal Loan?

Discuss it Person-to-Person with a Mercantile Loan Professional

At Mercantile, a personal loan is a personal experience.

At Mercantile, we think a personal loan should be just that—personal. When you sit down to discuss a personal loan at Mercantile, you won't be talking with someone who simply fills out forms. You'll be talking with an experienced professional who can answer all your questions and who has the authority to approve your loan, personally.

Whatever your personal reasons for wanting a loan, chances are Mercantile can fill the bill. Even if your particular reason seems a little unusual, let's talk about it.

PLANNING YOUR DENTAL PRACTICE?

WE'LL HELP YOU GET STARTED.

A lot of time and work goes into becoming a dentist. But the work doesn't stop when you graduate.

A lot of effort can and does go into starting a successful dental practice: Deciding upon a private practice versus an associateship, selecting the area that's right for you – personally as well as financially, planning your office and selecting the equipment that you work best with, financing your start. Getting your successful practice underway.

Throughout our 100 years serving dentistry, we've helped many successful dentists get their practices off the ground. And we've invested time and resources to help answer the kinds of questions you might now be asking yourself.

Today we have over 60 stores across the U.S.A., collecting local information and supplying thousands of practices with quality, nationally-known brands of equipment and supplies. So, wherever you might want to start your practice, and whatever professional needs you might have, Patterson is able to help.

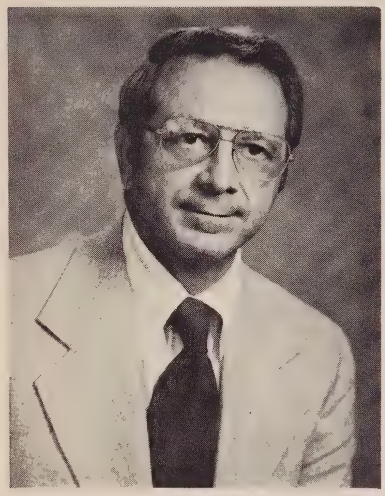
President's Message



MICHAEL H. VENTURA, '50

It is with pleasure that I assume the Presidency of this Alumni Association. I know that there is much need to continue the fine work of the past presidents and to expand the Alumni Association in many directions.

To begin with, I must alert you to the pressing need for an immediate raise in the dues in order to meet past and current financial obligations.

Miss Mary Hagerman, our full-time Alumni Secretary, is available to serve your needs. You may call 301-528-7129, or write to: 666 W. Baltimore Street; Baltimore, Maryland 21201.

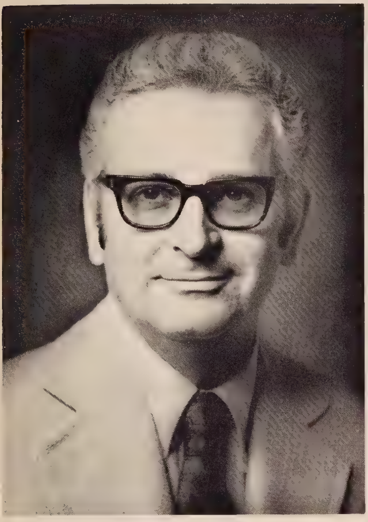
I have, through the years, noted the many clubs, service organizations, etc. that we all belong to—but I am also aware of the lack of active member participation in our Alumni Association. We all have one thing in common, the Baltimore College of Dental Surgery, Dental School, University of Maryland, is our dental Mother.

Our Alma Mater is deserving of our support. If you are not an active dues paying member, I ask you to please become one today. The rewards are great, and you will be helping yourself.

We are planning changes in the format for June Week, details of which will be forthcoming.

A little about the background of your President. I was born at the close of World War I and have been doing battle of one kind or another ever since. I was a former champion wrestler and coach, an avid golfer and presently the golf coach at Loyola College. I was a school teacher prior to serving as Captain in the Air Corps during World War II. Am the husband of Anne and proud father of three sons. I am immediate past-president of the Baltimore City Dental Society, and the Vice-President elect of the Maryland State Dental Association; and an A.D.A. delegate to the National Convention for the past five years. I have actively served at all levels of organized dentistry and have been a very proud practicing dentist in the city of Baltimore since 1950.

Dean's Report



Dean Errol L. Reese, D.D.S.

I am pleased to report that the Dental School has made significant progress during the past year in spite of dwindling financial support and pressing financial needs. The fact that we did not remain at a standstill or regress under these difficult economic conditions represents a commendable achievement on the part of faculty, students and alumni. Our cooperative efforts have blunted the otherwise extremely adverse effects on our educational programs.

As reported in the Spring, 1977 issue of the Dental Newsletter, the 1976 Dental Annual Giving Program was an overwhelming success as an initial fund-raising effort. Although total contributions would have to be described as meager in comparison with those of other dental alumni groups, your response was a source of encouragement, moral as well as financial, to the administration, faculty and students of this School. Your dollars helped us to sustain our progress this year. We are grateful to all who contributed.

Dental educators and practitioners share a common interest and responsibility to ensure that all those who enter the profession do so with the best possible preparation and training. Indeed, the quality of dental education is manifested in the quality of the profession; a threat to that quality by the economic ills of the times is a threat to the profession itself.

As this year draws to a close, I hope you will give careful consideration to making a significant contribution to your alma mater, not only as a token of appreciation for the life you now enjoy as a member of the dental profession, but also as a tangible expression of personal commitment to the high professional standards to which this School aspires in its educational programs. I hope you will join me in allocating one-fiftieth —or even one one-hundredth—of your gross annual income to assist the Dental School in achieving our common goals for the dental profession.

I would like to renew the Dental School's offer, made initially last year, to provide free of charge to any alumni section or informal group of alumni a continuing education course of their choice conducted by a member of our faculty. All travel costs and incidental expenses, with the exception of local arrangements, will be borne by the School. It has been disappointing that, to date, we have received not a single request for such a continuing education presentation. This offering was conceived as a method by which the School could provide an important service to its graduates. As you develop meeting plans for the year, please consider our offer—the price is right!

I am pleased to report that the sons and daughters of alumni, both residents and nonresidents of Maryland, are entering the Dental School in increasing numbers. Many alumni are calling my office and the Office of Admissions to request information and counseling for their sons and daughters. The Dental School has recently published booklets entitled "About Dentistry" and "About Dental Hygiene" to provide basic information about careers in these fields, admissions requirements and general descriptions of the educational programs. The booklets are yours for the asking; requests should be directed to the Office of Recruitment and Admissions. I encourage all whose sons and daughters may be interested in a career in dentistry or dental hygiene to seek this information and counseling services as early as possible. The senior year in high school is not too soon to bring a potential applicant to visit the School and inquire about the undergraduate program. Dr. Charles Leonard's responsibilities have been expanded to include recruitment as well as admissions. We are actively recruiting the sons and daughters of graduates of this School!

Now that a viable and active cooperative relationship has been established between the Dental School and the Alumni Association, I hope that the interchange will become greater with each passing year. Your suggestions in this regard are always welcome and will be given due consideration.

"Did someone help you when you were in dental school?"

"I remember the times when people helped me. There were discouraging moments when others gave me guidance that enabled me to make it through. And there was financial help when I really needed it.

"I've never forgotten that assistance. That's why I'm involved with the AFDH campaign! It's a way of repaying some of the help I enjoyed when I needed it.

"If you feel the way I do, you can help too. Simply make a contribution to the American Fund for Dental Health! Your check will help provide scholarships for some of the country's 20,000 dental students, and it will help support the many research projects that ultimately help you practice better dentistry.

"I hope you'll send your check right now. There's really no better way of remembering the help you got when you were in dental school!"

Dental Student Admissions
Baltimore College of Dental Surgery
Dental School
University of Maryland at Baltimore

CHARLES B. LEONARD, JR., Ph.D.
Director—Office of Dental Admissions

The Admissions Committee of the Dental School is composed of three subcommittees: Dental Student Admissions, Dental Hygiene Admissions, and Postgraduate Admissions. The Dental Student Admissions Subcommittee is composed of three basic science faculty, three clinical science faculty, two dental students plus four alternates, one non-faculty alumnus plus an alternate, the Chairperson of the Minority Recruitment Committee as an ex-officio member, and the Director of the Office of Admissions as the Chairperson. This subcommittee presents a report to the Faculty Assembly of the Dental School to inform the members of the policies and procedures followed when an applicant applies to and is accepted by the Dental School. This report is the subject of this article for those who may also be interested in the work of the Subcommittee on Dental Student Admissions.

The Committee has three general policies, namely to offer equal education opportunities to all persons of all ethnic backgrounds, to consider the application from children of alumni by resident standards for the purpose of admissions, and to attempt geographical representation of the qualified applicants applying from the State of Maryland. Two general conditions, which must be fulfilled by each applicant by June 30th of the year in which the applicant enters dental school, are that all requirements must be completed and that all unabsolved conditions and failures must be resolved.

The first of five specific application requirements is that the applicant must have a minimum of 90 credit hours (exclusive of physical education and military science), of which a maximum of 60 credit hours may come from an accredited Junior or Community College. The second specific requiremennt is the applicant must have six credits in English and eight credits including laboratory in Biology (Zoology), Inorganic Chemistry, and Physics. Additional science courses which are usually suggested for an applicant include Biochemistry, Cellular Biology, Comparative Vertebrate Morphology, Genetics, Microbiology, and Morphology, Genetics, Microbiology, and Physiology. The third specific requirement is favorable recommendations from either a predental committee or, if this is not available, one recommendation each from a Biology and a Chemistry teacher. The fourth specific requirement is acceptable Dental Admissions Test (DAT) scores where the minimal RAT scores for non-residents must be scores of 5 or greater in the Academic Average, Two Dimensional Perceptual Motor Ability Test (2D-PMAT), and Three Dimensional Perceptual Motor Ability Test (3D-PMAT) sections of the test while those for residents are scores of 4 or greater in these same areas. The final specific requirement is acceptable GPA values where the minimal GPA values for non-residents must be values of 3.3 or greater for the Science and Cumulative GPAs while the preferred GPA values for residents are values of 2.6 or greater in these same areas.

Each applicant is required to take the DAT as a part of their evaluation procedure. This test is given at various testing centers on specific dates and at a specific location throughout the United States and Puerto Rico, which are listed in the pamphlet describing the test. An application for the test is sent to the applicant upon specific request or as a part of the application packet. The preferred date to take the test is in April of the year prior to the desired date of admission.

There are five steps involved in applying to our Dental School. First, the applicant requests application material from the Office of Admissions after May 1 of the year prior to the date of desired entrance into dental school. The packet includes a catalogue, DAT information, initial application instructions and a request card to send to the American Association of Dental Schools Application Service (AADSAS) for the application forms. The second step is to return the completed application to AADSAS as soon as possible with the latest date for receipt of applications being December 1. The purposes of returning these applications to AADSAS are to duplicate the application in order to send them to schools selected by the applicant, to verify the applicant's coursework which has been coded by the applicant from official transcripts, and to provide a statistical analysis of all applicants applying to a given dental school. As a result, a folder containing xerox copies of the applicant's official transcripts, answers to specific questions, and other information such as undergraduate course work taken, GPA values, DAT scores, etc., are forwarded to each dental school selected by the applicant.

The third step is a review of each folder received from AADSAS by the Director of Admissions and, if necessary, by the Admissions Committee. The purpose of this is to determine whether the minimal non-resident and preferred resident standards have been met. As a result of this review, either preliminary rejections are sent, if standards are not met, or a Maryland packet containing a Maryland application, recommendation forms, and final instructions for completing the application is issued to the qualified applicants.

The fourth step in the application procedure is to post the returned Maryland application with the Office of Registrar for the purpose of determining the residency status of the applicant by the registrar.

The final step is an interview before the Admissions Committee. All qualified applicants, who are Maryland residents as well as non-resident children of alumni, and some highly qualified non-residents are scheduled for an interview. The number of non-residents is restricted since only 15% of our entering class can be non-residents. Present at the interview are two faculty members, one non-faculty alumnus, one student member, the Chairman of the Minority Recruitment Committee, and the Director of the Office of Admissions.

After the interview, each committee member rates the interview as superior, good, fair, or poor taking into consideration such factors as appearance, manners, personality, responses to questions, ability to communicate, and motivation. The initial status of the applicant regarding the desirability of an offer of enrollment is made by majority vote if all data is available. Otherwise, the applicant is placed in an active hold until all data has been compiled for a decision.

A ranking of each applicant interviewed is made to indicate the relative standing of applicants based upon the criteria involved using the parameters of the Science GPA, the Cumulative GPA, the Academic Average of the DAT, and the PMAT Average of the DAT. Adjustments are made for 2D-PMAT and 3D-PMAT scores of the DAT, which are below the national average, and for the average interview score where ratings of superior, good, fair and poor are equated to a 4-3-2-1 scale.

The earliest date for offers is December 1 where the source of candidates would be the pool of applicants who had received a superior status as a result of the interview and other factors. The latest date for offers is approximately the second week of the fall academic session where the source of these candidates would be those on the alternate list. At the present time, those candidates on the alternate list, who do not gain entrance, are guaranteed a place in the class for the following year.

The method utilized to select candidates is by majority vote of the Admissions Committee upon final review of each qualified applicant. Approximately one-fourth of the class is offered as of December 1 with another one-fourth offered around January 31. The remaining spaces are filled after all qualified applicants have been interviewed. In addition to an applicant's relative standing in the ranking, other factors such as residency status, minority status, alumnus status, Maryland geographical status, improvement in the undergraduate courses work, and factors perceived during the interview are considered in selecting candidates for entrance. The candidate has thirty days to reply to th offer if the applicant was offered before April 1 and fifteen days if offered after April 1. A non-refundable deposit of $200 is required at the time of acceptance for the purpose of insuring registration in the class and is credited towards tuition cost.

There are three types of requests for advanced standing for dental admissions. One type is from students currently enrolled in United States and Canadian dental schools. The procedure involved is to determine if the applicant initially met admission requirements of our dental school on the basis of the applicant's undergraduate GPA and DAT scores at the point in time when the applicant made application to the dental school presently attending. If the applicant would have met entrance requirements, a Maryland application is sent and an interview is scheduled. Documents in support of the applicant's request for transfer are requested to determine if the applicant was eligible to advance to the next higher class in the dental school prsently attending, to determine if the requirement for achievemnt of an overall "C" average in all work excluding Basic Dental Sciences and Biomedicine, which must be a grade of "C" or better, and to determine if the applicant has a letter of honorable dismissal and recommendation from the Dean of the dental school presently attending.

If a transfer applicant meets these requirements for admission, all information is forwarded to the appropriate Advancement Committee for review and recommendation to the Admissions Committee regarding the eligibility of the applicant for advanced standing. The final step is to notify the applicant that either the request for advanced standing has been rejected or that it has been approved, subject to availability of space and to course requirements as recommended by th Advancement Committee.

A second type of request for advanced standing comes from students currently enrolled in foreign dental schools. The procedure involved is to inform the applicant to apply as a regular applicant seeking admission to the first year class entering in September. It would be extremely difficult to assess the curriculum of a foreign dental school to the point where credit could be given for those courses compared to those in our curriculum.

The third type of request for advanced standing is from graduates of foreign dental schools. The procedure in this case is to refer them to the Secretary of the Maryland State Board of Dental Examiners for the purpose of taking the licensure examination to practice in the State of Maryland. If the licensure attempt fails, the applicant is informed that application to our institution must be made as a regular applicant seeking admission to the first year class. These applicants are also sent a list of dental schools which admit graduates of foreign dental schools with advanced standing.

Future activities of the Dental Student Admission Subcommittee include the following: conduct a study to determine the correlation between various parameters in the dental student's undergraduate record and performance in specific courses or at the end of specific courses or at the end of specific years of the student's dental education for the purpose of assisting the Admissions Committee in selecting qualified applicants; the utilization of a structured interview format for each applicant for the purpose of becoming more objective in assessing an interview when considering equally qualified applicants as judged by GPA values and DTA scores; and participate in a validation study of a Clinical Analysis Questionnaire being conducted by the American Dental Association for possible inclusion in future Dental Admissions Testing program.

Working for better educational opportunities and more enjoyable living conditions are just a few of the goals for the Student Dental Association this year. In order to obtain our goals, the students are working hard on student-faculty committees and contributing much of their time to community and social activities for students, faculty, and alumni.

The first issue of the Maryland Probe is a prime example of the activities and changes taking place within the Dental School. The SDA will continue to improve student and alumni relations. We are hard at work planning improvements for the Student Lounge and creating small lounges on the second floor—utilizing the $5,000 gift you gave us last Spring!

Lunch-time meetings with Dean Reese will continue this year. Each class will be scheduled to meet with the Dean several times during the year. This program helps the Dean to better understand student problems and needs.

Through the efforts of the SDA and the cooperation of the Dean, there will be a small Deli placed in the Student Lounge providing "fresh" sandwiches for residents of Hayden-Harris Hall. This is a great addition with the short lunch breaks most students experience between patients and classes.

The SDA will attempt to inform students of the many changes taking place in organized Dentistry and explain the need for young dentists to become involved in the activities of their profession. As the dental profession becomes harder and harder to enter, the SDA is and will continue to solicit the support of the Alumni to help with advice, jobs, and encouragement to the dental students.

Thank you for your strong support!

George Williams
President

SDA BULL ROAST

November 5, 1977

On November 5, 1977 the Student Dental Association sponsored its first annual Bull Roast-Dinner Dance. The affair, held at the new Towson Center, lasted from 8:00 p.m. to 1:00 a.m. Dinner was served buffet-style from 8:00 to 12:00, while dancing to the Better Half lasted from 9:00 to 1:00. Gambling, door prizes and a special 1950's show by the band rounded out a perfect evening.

This year as chairperson, Marc Herman was able to involve 49 fellow students, faculty and friends in implementing the first Bull Roast. Involving so many people was perhaps the largest accomplishment of the Bull Roast Committee. Being the first such event at the School, and involving so many guests, problems that evening were expected. However, major distractions were few and far between. Notable guests of the SDA included: Dean and Mrs. Reese, Dr. and Mrs. B. Herbert Brown, Mr. and Mrs. Wilson Lau, Dr. and Mrs. Sidney O. Burnett, Dr. and Mrs. Kuhn, Dr. and Mrs. Robert Wilson, Mr. and Mrs. Lyman Karr, Dr. and Mrs. Kenneth Prentice, Dr. and Mrs. Bernard Gordon, Dr. Kyrle W. Preis and Dr. Harry W. F. Dressel.

One of the primary goals of the SDA in hosting the event is to solidify the relationship between alumni, faculty and students. Their objective, as well as seeing that everyone enjoyed themselves, was certainly realized. Next year, the SDA looks forward to surpassing the attendance of 961 and insuring, once again, that everyone enjoy themselves to the fullest.

This year marks the seventh year the Maryland Probe has been in publication. Our first six page issue of the 1977-1978 school year was distributed in September to students, faculty and alumni. We hope to continue with the same variety and quality of articles in the succeeding four issues.

Many thanks to the people listed in the masthead who made our September issue a great success, and also thanks to the students who have already contributed articles for future issues.

Department of Dental Hygiene

The academic year ahead looks to be a stimulating one for the students and faculty of the Dental Hygiene Department. There are new and innovative programs and courses available to the students this year. The Dental Hygiene students are being more closely integrated within the Dental School since the clinic for Dental Hygiene students is now being held in the first floor general practice clinic area. The former ground floor Dental Hygiene clinic is now being utilized by the Oral Health Care Delivery and Periodontic departments. The integration is further developed in that all senior Dental and Dental Hygiene students are assigned patients concurrently with the Dental Hygiene student performing those services delegated by the Dental student such as the preliminary diagnostic work up and preventive services. This integration is designed to more closely simulate the post graduation practice of dentistry and dental hygiene. The department is also participating in the new computer "Molars" program which will provide students and faculty with frequent updates on students' progress and performance clinically. Integration is also seen within the school as Dental Hygiene students continue to participate in rotations in Post Graduate Periodontics Clinic, Oral Surgery Clinic, Special Patients Clinic, Radiology Department, Accelerated Professional Training Clinic, and Dental Management Application Seminars.

This year, an educational enrichment program was designed by Ms. Patricia Mulford, R.D.H., B.S. and Ms. Ellen Radebaugh, R.D.H., B.S. Each senior student has the opportunity to select and participate in a series of seven week, ½ day per week rotations to various community sites such as the Waxter Center, John F. Kennedy Institute and Ft. Meade Hospital Dental Clinic. The students, under the supervision of the site's Dental Hygienist and Dentist, are afforded the opportunity to treat patients with medical or physical conditions which could influence the course of dental treatment. In addition, the students may participate in the planning and implementation of oral hygiene workshops for staff, patients, or any particular group involved with the specific training site.

This year, under the direction of Ms. Jane Forrest, R.D.H., M.S., a minor in public health is being offered to six students selected from the senior class. Twelve credit hours toward this minor are offered which provide these students with knowledge and practical experience that will prepare them for employment upon graduation in various public health care settings. In the planning stages are other elective courses that would lead to a dental education minor for those Dental Hygiene students demonstrating an interest in teaching.

The post certificate curriculum, under the direction of Ms. Kristen Talbott, R.D.H., M.S., continues to provide the registered dental hygienist an opportunity to pursue advanced course work in preparation for broadened career goals in teaching, public health, or research. Following one semester of advanced didactic material presented in workshops and seminars, the R.D.H. students plan and implement a project of their choosing during the second semester.

The Junior Chapter of the American Dental Hygienists' Association is planning programs and guest speakers for the coming year. Many students and Ms. Kathy Keene, JADHA Advisor, will be attending the Northeast Regional Junior Chapter of ADHA convention in Bethleham, Pennsylvania. Some students will be attending the ADHA annual session in October in Miami. Two senior students, Ms. Christine Golis and Ms. Brenda Ames will be presenting a Table Clinic in Miami entitled, "Understanding Your Gaggy Patient."

As the newly appointed Chairperson of this Department, I am very pleased that all of last year's faculty have returned for this academic year. It is through the faculty and staff efforts and dedication that these new programs and courses have been implemented. In addition, many of the department's faculty will be presenting continuing education courses through the Dental School Office of Continuing Education. I am proud to have the opportunity to work with the administration, faculty, students and alumni to further improve, strengthen, and integrate the Deparment of Dental Hygiene within the Dental School.

BEAUTIFUL AND BRIGHT

On November the ninth, 1977 the Maryland Section of the International College of Dentists held their dinner meeting at the Hill Top Restaurant in Baltimore. At that time the "George B. Clendenin Award" for the highest scholastic grades in the freshman year was presented to Jerri L. Firestine of California by Harry Dressel, Deputy Regent of the college.

William Tucker, of Washington, D.C., the co-winner could not attend the dinner.

The Alumni Endowment Fund Helps Students

The Trustees of the Endowment Fund of the Alumni Association of the Baltimore College of Dental Surgery, University of Maryland, Inc. met recently and were confronted by how they could best use portions of the funds they have on hand. Dean Reese presented information that the Student Lounge of the School was in need of new furnishings but there was no source of funds to make the necessary purchases.

We know how important our students are to the continuation of the profession of dentistry as well as to our Alumni Association. Therefore, a $5,000 gift was presented from the Endowment Fund to the Student Government Association for the express purpose of refurnishing the Student Lounge.

There seems to be many worthwhile needs within the confines of our Dental School that are not easily funded. Your Alumni Association thru the Endowment Fund tries to assist and see that monies are appropriately available and used. After all, the Government of Maryland and the Administration of the School are in no position to tend to many of the needs.

Therefore, we need your gifts. We have a list of more than 30 requests from students and faculty members for funds that are not available through ordinary sources. We try to see that the more urgent problems are solved first and your trustees act as judges of what can be spent and where it should go.

Please make your check payable to the Endowment Fund of the Alumni Association of the University of Maryland, Baltimore College of Dental Surgery, Inc. and mail it to:

Class of 1927 REUNION — 50 Years

Hunt Valley Inn — Friday, June 3, 1977

The fiftieth year reunion of the Class of 1927 was held on Friday, June 3, 1977, in the Garden Room of the Hunt Valley Inn, Hunt Valley Md.

A cocktail party from 4:00 to 6:30 p.m. preceded the fine dinner. There were 23 classmates, 20 wives, 3 sons and 3 widows present for the occasion, a total of 49 participants to celebrate our fifty years.

During cocktails, many tall tales were spun, the Year Book was inspected and photographs of previous class reunions were viewed. Programs and pictures of the Music Club, the Glee Club and Junior Prom were also displayed and brought back many memories.

Our delicious dinner of steak and crab imperial, with sparkling wines, was enjoyed by all, following which we had our class meeting with the "Official Roll Call." The class secretary, Samuel H. Byer, called the roll and read the minutes of our last meeting held in 1972. The names of our 48 deceased members were read and everyone stood for a moment of silence.

Letters and telegrams, received from many of our absent members were read and general items of interest were discussed.

Two outstanding honors were bestowed upon members of our class. Louis R. Schilling was inducted as a member of Phi Chapter of Omicron Kappa Upsilon, the honor society of dentistry at the annual meeting held on Wednesday evening, June 1st. Lewis Fox was the recipient of the Distinguished Alumnus Award which was presented on Saturday evening, June 4th, at the Annual Alumni Dinner-Dance.

The members of the Class of 1927 and their families were guests of the Alumni Association at the Annual Dinner-Dance which was a delightful occasion. Following the dinner, each member of our class was presented with a "Fifty-Year Certificate of Honor." The high point of the evening was the presentation of the Distinguished Alumnus Award to Dr. Lewis Fox.

With the more serious business of the evening over, many members of the class danced to the delightful music into the wee small hours.

The final statement was — "See You in 82."

The following members were present:

Dr. and Mrs. Samuel H. Byer, N.J.
Dr. and Mrs. Augustine L. Cavallaro, Florida
Dr. and Mrs. James A. Condry & Son, Maryland
Dr. and Mrs. John H. Demarest, N.J.
Dr. and Mrs. Brice M. Dorsey, Md.
Dr. and Mrs. Avery W. Fitch, Conn.
Dr. John P. Fitzgerald and Son, Washington, D.C.
Dr. and Mrs. Lewis Fox, Fla.
Dr. and Mrs. Paul Hoffman, Maryland
Dr. Alwyn Hundley, Maryland
Dr. and Mrs. Frank Hurst,

A reunion for the Class of 1932 was held on Friday evening, June 3, 1977 at the home of Irving and Gracie Abramson. All of the members of the class and their wives appreciated the Abramson's graciousness in opening their lovely home for this occasion. We all spent a most enjoyable evening with cocktails, delicious dinner and great fellowship.

There were fourteen class members present, and all but one, were able to bring their lovely wives.

Our guests were Connie Inman, Sr. and Dr. and Mrs. Errol Reese. Their visit added greatly to the enjoyment of the occasion. Also we had the pleasure of the company of Dr. and Mrs. Milliken's charming nineteen-year-old granddaughter.

Mrs. Edwin E. Hill, widow of one of our beloved classmates, sent by Jessie Englander, a most attractive dental mallet that was once used by Dr. Alonzo H. Sylvester. Mrs. Hill wished this to be presented to Dr. Reese to be placed in our Dental School's Museum. We all hope you will soon be able to visit the Museum and see this historic contribution.

The B.C.D.S. Class of 1937 happily joined the Alumni Association at the Hunt Valley Inn on Saturday, June 4, 1977 to attend the wonderful President's Reception and Class Reunion Dinner Dance.

The Highlight of this 40th Reunion was the private cocktail party which was held from 4:30 to 6:30 p.m. at the Hunt Valley Inn.

We here in Baltimore wish you good health and look forward to our 45th.

The Class of 1942 celebrated the thirty-fifth reunion with a dinner at the Hunt Valley Inn on Friday 3 June 1977. Nineteen class members and their wives were able to attend, representing approximately one-third of the class.

We were saddened by the news of the death of Lawrence Leeds in May of 1976.

A pleasant evening was spent catching up with the events in our classmates' lives. The consensus of opinion was that it was worthwhile and that everyone was looking hopefully forward to the fortieth reunion in 1982.

The Class of 1947 held its reunion at the Hilton Hotel on Wednesday, June 1 through Saturday, June 4, 1977.

Twenty-eight men and twenty-four wives were in attendance and all agreed that there was never, ever, a class as great as that of 1947!

On Wednesday, all of the members and their wives joined together to re-meet after a five year absence. One of the class (Donald Cray and his charming wife, Laurel) came from California. As a matter of fact, all regions of the country were well-represented.

A bus trip to Annapolis and a cruise down the Chesapeake Bay to St. Michaels was Thursday's activity. Luncheon at the Crab Claw was thoroughly enjoyed by all and Maryland seafood made an unforgettable impression. Throughout the boat trip and, as a matter of fact during the entire reunion, we were serenaded by the delightful trumpeting of Freddie Ehrlich which contributed so much to our good time.

On Friday, several members and a few wives played golf at the Suburban Club while the remaining members and guests were hosted for a gourmet cooking lesson and lunch at the "Culinary Arts School" in Mt. Washington. This particular activity proved immensely enjoyable to the ladies as well as the men.

The class banquet was held at the Center Club with Dean Aisenberg and Dr. Edward C. Dobbs as guests and many an eye filled with tears as the class reminisced over the events of 30 years too quickly gone by. Al Kronthal, Stuart Londeree and Leonard Rapoport made their usual droll remarks and the class and their wives loved it.

When it was all over at the final brunch, and the hugs and embraces of good friends completed, the cry of "We'll be back in '82" was voiced by all.

Class of 1952

Our 25th Class Reunion was held June 4th, 1977 at The Hunt Valley Inn. A great turn-out of 55% resulted with many traveling long distances to attend. Those who made the longest journeys were:

Jacques Brun — Paris, France
Warren Wakai — Honolulu, Hawaii
Pilar Reguero — Puerto Rico
Dale Lincicome — Seattle, Washington
Dick Synowski — Salem, Oregon

Everyone had a wonderful time at the luncheon and dinner-dance. Our Hospitality Suite, which was open from Friday evening to Saturday noon, added another measure of fond memories for those who attended.

Conrad Inman Jr. and Joe Price, who represented the Alumni Association, presented 25 year certificates to our class.

The following are those who attended the 1952 Class Reunion:

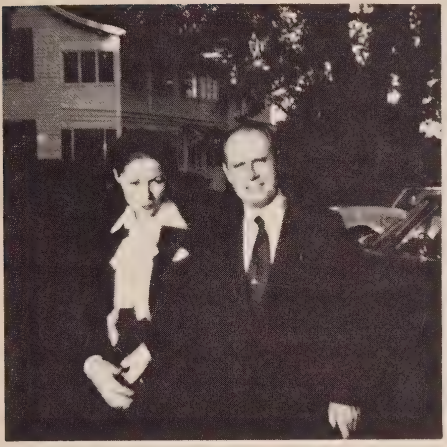
ABOUT TIME AND SPACE



DR. AND MRS. JACQUES BRUN

The class reunions are always happy occasions, whether they be the first reunion or the fiftieth. But there is something significantly different about the 25th or silver anniversary. It seems to me, then, more than ever we realize the quickened pace of time as we in the prime of life pursue goals in our personal and professional life. This is the time to pause, verify our course and take that second look. The 25th reunion provides the perfect opportunity and setting.

I'm sure thoughts such as these prompted Jacques Brun of Paris, France, Warren Wakai of Honolulu, Hawaii, Pilar Reguero of Puerto Rico, Dale Lincicome of Seattle, Washington and Dick Synowski of Salem, Oregon to take the long journey and again visit their Alma Mater and enjoy one of life's precious rewards, the companionship of good friends.

The Class of 1957 began their reunion with a golf outing with the general alumni tournament. Jerry Isbell came out of winter retirement from Florida to show Bob Stag and Bill Patteson how to drop in 20 foot putts from his own free style stance. Jerry was still dreaming of those putts as you might see from the pictures.

Later Thursday afternoon as the golfers came in, Frank Verde was on hand to welcome a dozen or so classmates to the Old Fashioned Crab Feast. While picking those Maryland delicacies many stories of the activities of Room 37 were brought back to life. Some were dismayed at the fact that the Ruth Penn tavern is no longer in existence.

On Friday night at the Hunt Valley Inn our private class reunion was held and the picture with this article was taken. As you can see, some are slightly heavier, some slightly grayer and some slight of hair. Dave Vachon had many sparkling and humorous stories to relate to the old gang, as we nibbled on crab balls, chicken tid-bits and fried shrimp. Ed Semler was a walking testimonial for military life as he lacked the typical gray streaks and roundness that most of us added in the last twenty years.

Congratulations were given to Bill Buchanan for traveling the farthest for our reunion, all the way from San Lorenzo, California.

In carrying on the tradition of the Class of 1957, the Friday night party moved upstairs when the reserved room was closed for the evening. Much later the party closed in the Passarelli and Snyder suite.

On Saturday night two tables represented our class at the General reunion cocktail party and dinner dance. As might have been expected, many who wanted to attend the 20th Reunion were unable to, due to high school graduations, marriages of children and other signs of the aging process.

Good food, dancing and a continuation of many fond memories went on to the wee hours as our reunion came to a close on Saturday.

Class of 1962

Standing: Howard Rudo, Jerry Mechanick, Marty Kline, Tom Albertini (The beard didn't fool us!), Mike Balenson, Marshall Goldman, Earl Schultz, Ted Sobkov, Barry Buchman, Sam Blum, Larry Halpert ("He even brought a book to study")

Seated: Dick Koritzer, Fred Abbott, Joe Axelrod, John Wilhelm, Jerry Weinstein, Bob Warson, Buddy Johns (he's the president of the Maryland State Dental Association), Marvin Apter.

Floor: Daniel Levy, Sid Markowitz, Howard Schunick, Steve Millison.
Camera Shy: Paul Buchman.

A super Fifteenth year reunion was held by the Class of 1962 at the Hunt Valley Inn in Cockeysville, Maryland. The turn out was great with 23 of us in attendance along with our wives, girlfriends, and of course a few of us stag.

As you can see by the above picture, there were those from Section "A" and those from Section "B." Bet you are all surprised on how many of the people you still remember. Please disregard our loss of hair or slightly "extended" bellies (we had just finished a super buffet cocktail party), but time is marching on. Notice that several of the fellows have also grown some hair, notably Tom Albertini and Dick Koritzer.

Well, in toto, we all had a rewarding time renewing acquaintances and times from the past, present and future—I could list the many accomplishments of everyone, but you would get bored since the list is quite long. The men of the Class of '62 are making many contributions to dentistry through their many activities both in and out of the profession.

To those of you who were not able to attend (or too lazy), we did miss you—and hope that in '82, the year of our 20th—you might be with us.

Class of 1972

Seated: Dr. and Mrs. Leo Rosenthal, Dr. and Mrs. Saul Burk.

Standing: Dr. and Mrs. Michael Pelczar, Dr. and Mrs. Jeff Blevins, Dr. and Mrs. Tony Maddox, Dr. and Mrs. Martin Nowakowski, Dr. and Mrs. David Fields, Dr. and Mrs. Richard Faber, Dr. and Mrs. Marc Feldman.

On Friday, June 3rd, the Class of 1972 held its 5-Year Reunion at Meushaw's Motor Inn Restaurant. Twenty-five couples met and enjoyed a seafood buffet dinner. Present for the evening were: Dr. and Mrs. Aumiller, Bauer, Bigham, Blevins, Burk, Chioariu, Cooper, Faber, Feldman, Fields, Goodman, Hemler, Hooper, Houland, Housaman, D. Jackson, Kaminski, Maddox, McGonigle, Nowakowski, Pelczar, L. Rosenthal, White, Winn, and Dr. and Mrs. Yeomans.

During the meal, Class President Jerry Winn held a brief meeting to discuss the dispersal of the funds leftover from our graduation activities. The assembled members of the class voted unanimously to donate the remaining money ($283) from the class treasury to the Russell Gigliotti Memorial Fund. Following dinner, pictures were taken and past times relived.

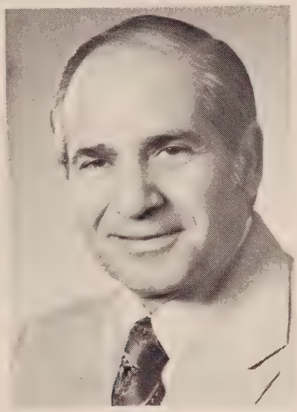
Elected

JOSEPH P. CAPPUCCIO

President-Elect of the American Dental Association

Joseph P. Cappuccio, Alumni Secretary and a Past-President of the Alumni Association, was chosen President-Elect of the American Dental Association by its House of Delegates in session in Miami Beach, Florida. He defeated Dr. George P. Boucek of Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania in a contest for the office.



JOSEPH P. CAPPUCCIO, '46

Joe's election is not only a great honor to himself, but to our Association and his Alma Mater. His many years of service to our Association is well-known to all of us, and his election to this high office is the culmination of the many years of service to our profession and to organized dentistry. He will serve as President-Elect until October 26, 1978 when he will assume the Office of President at the Assiciation's 119th Annual Session in Anaheim, California.

The new President-Elect has just completed a six-year term as a member of the Association's Board of Trustees, representing Dlaware, Maryland, New Jersey, District of Columbia, Panama Canal Zone, Puerto Rico, Virgin Islands and the Federal Dental Services. Prior to that time, he has been a member of the American Dental Association House of Delegates for eighteen years.

His election represents the highest honor and office that can come to a member of his profession. He will serve as President-Elect, then President of the 129,000 member Association for two years. His position will take him to all parts of the United States and abroad.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Cappuccio of Watch Hill, Rhode Island, Joe graduated in 1943 from Rhode Island University. He received his dental degree in 1946 at the University of Maryland School of Dentistry where he is currently a Clinical Professor of Oral Surgery and Anesthesiology.

Joe has been active in the affairs of dentistry for many years, having served as President of the Baltimore City Dental Society, Maryland State Dental Association, Maryland Dental Society of Anesthesiology, The Alumni Association of the Baltimore College of Dental Surgery, Dental School, University of Maryland and the Middle Atlantic Society of Oral Surgeons.

He is a staff oral surgeon at the University Hospital and Penitentiary Hospital. He is a Director of Dental Services for the Maryland Division of Correction. He has been a member of the Board of both the American Dental Political Action Committee and the American Fund for Dental Health.

His professional memberships include The American College of Dentists, International College of Dentists, American Society of Oral Surgeons, Federation Dentaire Internationale, Pierre Fauchard Academy, American Fund for Dental Health, Associate Member of the American Medical Association and too numerous other organizations to mention.

Honors conferred on Dr. Cappuccio include the Distinguished Alumnus Award of the Rhode Island Alumni Section, Psi Omega of the Year Award, Alpha Chapter, University of Maryland, The Medical Award, Italian-American Society. He is the only honorary member of the Rhode Island State Dental Association.

In community affairs, he has been Chairman of the Dental Division, United Fund of Maryland, President of the Catholic Youth Organization and a member of the Board of Directors of Associated Italian-American Charities of Maryland.

Dr. Cappuccio has been a frequent lecturer before local, state, national and international dental societies, and served as a U.S. Delegate to the Young Adult Conference in London, England in 1958.

Joe has two brothers, Louis B. and Frank S. Cappuccio, both practicing attorneys in Westerly, Rhode Island. Dr. Cappuccio and his wife, Rocella have a daughter, Mary Louise.

The Officers and members of the Alumni Association offer their sincere congratulations and best wishes to Joe on his election and wish him success in his tenure as President of the American Dental Association.

THE LIFE AND LEGEND OF GENE FOWLER

By H. Allan Smith

When he himself was a celebrity as a New York editor, Fowler was approached for an endorsement by a cigarette company. He warmly agreed and immediately type out: "I would quit smoking cigarettes if I could, but they are so full of some kind of dope that I have become an addict. . . . "

Thanks

Fellow Alumni:

It is an honor and a privilege for me, as President-Elect of the American Dental Association to offer my sincere thanks and appreciation to the many alumni throughout the country who worked on my behalf. This great honor that has come to me has been made possible through the devotion and loyalty of my many friends throughout the country. It is the culmination of many years of my involvement in the affairs of organized dentistry.

These are very challenging times for all of us and you may be assured that I will offer the type of leadership that will be representative of your thinking and desires for the future of American Dentistry. I shall be calling on many of you to help me over the next two years.

After many months of traveling throughout the country listening to the concerns of my colleagues, it has become clear to me that our profession is tired of being on the defensive. Assertive action is needed. The challenges facing us should not go untested.

These new threats and challenges, in my opinion, can be met with an affirmative leadership that will still preserve the private practice system as well as the very basic concepts of our profession. I believe we can, to a large extent, control our own destiny while continuing to provide quality dental care to everyone needing our services.

There is evidence that our profession still suffers from some fractionalization from within. If we are to find solutions to our problems, we must come together. It is essential that we develop respect for one another among the many groups that comprise our profession. I feel that this respect is lacking at this time.

It is important, however, to preserve the rightful role of the dentist in his practice and in his profession. The best way to achieve this end is to unify the various entities of dentistry under the leadership of the American Dental Association.

The national leader of our profession must be a public relations oriented individual, able to articulate the concerns of dentistry to the media. I feel I can offer this type of leadership. It will be my opportunity to serve all of us, as ADA President, and as leader and spokesman for dentistry, and as a force that will serve to move our profession forward.

It is my hope that I will have the strength, vigor and enthusiasm to fulfill this mission.

Sincerely,

JOE

Heritage

When Joseph P. Cappuccio '46 becomes president of the American Dental Association in 1978, he will be the tenth graduate of the Baltimore dental schools to hold the highest office in the organizational pyramid of American dentistry. The first seven alumni to be thus greatly honored received their degrees from the Baltimore College of Dental Surgery. DR. IRVING W. EICHENBAUM, '39

DR. NAOMI A. DUNN, '39

The 30th Annual Award of the Dental Society of Greater Waterbury was bestowed on Dr. Naomi Dunn and Dr. Irving Eichenbaum of New Britain. This was the Society's first annual award given jointly in recognition of Dr. Dunn and Dr. Eichenbaum's many contributions to the dental profession.

Dr. Dunn and Dr. Eichenbaum graduated from the University of Maryland Dental School in 1939 and began practice in New Britain the same year. Their list of contributions jointly and individually as clinicians, and lecturers in their published works is extensive.

Both are fellows of the American College of Dentists and are widely recognized in the area of pedodontics to which they now limit their practice. They are the architects of the well established and successful Connecticut Society of Dentistry for Children.

Dr. Eichenbaum is a Past President of the New Britain Dental Society and the Connecticut State Dental Association. Their involvement in organized dentistry both locally and nationally has been a way of life for this outstanding couple.

Kayaking

George W. Waxter '57 of Frederick, Md. recently won the Mid-Atlantic States Wild Water Kayak Champion Race at Petersburg, West Virginia. The race is thru five miles of some of the roughest water the Potomac River has to offer. Each year the race is held on the first weekend in April. This is the second year in a row that Dr. Waxter has placed in the race.

Dr. Peter McLean Lu, '34 Retires

"The service of an individual such as Dr. Peter Lu is essential in the continual development of any institution of higher education," said Dean Erroll L. Reese. "A hardworking individual such as Dr. Lu brings about the necessary continuity from year to year, and has been an excellent role model for students over these many years. Dr. Lu is known and loved by the graduates of this school, and will be remembered by them for his personal assistance in their education."

Peter McLean Lu, '34

Twenty-five years of dedicated service to the Baltimore College of Dental Surgery, Dental School, University of Maryland, will culminate for Dr. Peter McLean Lu, University Marshal, as he leads the commencement processional.

Dr. Lu holds memberships with the Baltimore City Dental Society, the Maryland State Dental Association and the American Dental Association. He is an honorary member of ZIP Fraternity and a faculty member of Omicron Kappa Upsilon Society. He is also a member of Gorgas Odontological Society.

Following his retirement, Dr. Lu will travel extensively in his Explorer motor home.

"I will miss the long and cherished association with my colleagues at the Dental School, and the gratification of working with and training the young men and women who will go on to serve the communities in which they live," said Dr. Lu.

A native of Trinidad, West Indies, Dr. Lu came to the Baltimore College of Dental Surgery, Dental School, to pursue his professional degree because of the school's distinguished, worldwide reputation. Following his graduation from the school in 1934, Dr. Lu settled in his wife's native country of China in Shanghai. There he was a professor part-time in the Department of Prosthodontics at the Dental School, Aurora University. In addition to a private practice, he worked with the Chinese National Government Health Service and the Shanghai Municipal Government Jail Service. He remained in Shanghai for 13 years.

NEW JERSEY ALUMNI MEET

The New Jersey Alumni Section held its annual dinner meeting on Tuesday, October 25, 1977 at the Marriott Motor Hotel in Saddle Brook, N.J. Our support and dedication to our School and its administration was attested to by the large gathering of alumni and their wives.

It was our pleasure to greet Dean Errol L. Reese once again and to meet our new Associate Dean, Dr. Warren M. Morganstein. They emphasized the need for strong alumni support as a means of self determination in dental education. We were brought up to date on events and activities at the Dental School.

The evening's festivities were culminated with the presentation of plaques to Dean Reese for his leadership and devotion to alumni affairs, and to Dr. John J. Daub Jr. as a past president and for his continuing efforts and participation in our alumni organization.

Alumni Reception

AMERICAN DENTAL ASSOCIATION

Annual Session

Sunday, October 9, 1977

Fontainebleau Hotel -:- Miami Beach, Florida

A very successful and enthusiastic Alumni reception of our Association was held on Sunday, October 9, 1977 at the Fontainebleau Hotel in Miami Beach, Florida.

In attendance were alumni from all parts of the United States, Puerto Rico and Central America. It was one of the best attended Alumni Reunions in recent years.

President Ventura, along with Dean Reese, greeted the various alumni and friends in attendance. The reception offered an excellent opportunity for friends and alumni to visit with each other and to reminisce about their dental school days in Baltimore.

One of the highlights of this year's meeting was the candidacy of our own Joe Cappuccio for President-Elect of the American Dental Association. Joe and Rocella were in attendance to meet and greet old friends. As you know, Joe was elected as President-Elect of the American Dental Association by the House of Delegates of the American Dental Association on Thursday, October 13, 1977. It was an honor and a great victory for an illustrious alumnus. The Association and the Faculty of the Dental School congratulate Joe on his victory.

Dean Reese had an excellent opportunity to visit with many alumni and their wives and to discuss with them the academic program at our alma mater. As usual, Dean Reese did an excellent job. Many alumni met Dean Reese for the first time.

President Ventura also had his opportunity to exchange ideas with many of our alumni in attendance, and to inform them about our alumni activities for the coming year. Dr. Ventura enjoyed very much the opportunity to have this important dialogue with former graduates.

We were also honored with the presence of many American Dental Association Officials, along with Dean Biddington and Dean Randolph.

The reception was a great success and the alumni in attendance were looking forward to next year's meeting in Anaheim, California. Let us make next year's reception the best ever.

Report of the Historian-Archivist

For the Alumni of the Baltimore College of Dental Surgery, Dental School, University of Maryland the past year has been, both directly and indirectly, an exceptionally important and active period.

Foremost in the consideration of our blessings we should recognize the continuance of the greatly improved relations between the Alumni Association and the School's administration. Effective cooperation, strong realization of the purposes and the responsibilities of the respective areas of leadership and contribution, and a steady feeling of respect for the integrity and the intentions of Dean Reese—these have been influential factors in creating and perpetuating the era of good feeling that is now the happy experience of this Association.

In performing its obligatory services to the large body of graduates that it represents, the Alumni Association will at this meeting present for approval the revitalized Constitution and Bylaws. It will also stress the improvements made in the facilities, methods, and functions of the Alumni Office. These accomplishments will stand firmly as special and exemplary enterprises in the long history of this Association.

The Alumni should be cognizant of historically important changes that are being made in the alumni membership distribution as the result of an increasing narrowing of the geographical distribution of the graduates of their alma mater. The alumni should also be accurately informed in regard to the very welcome increase in the number of women who have recently been entering the School. Certainly now is a good time for this Association to be giving a warranted measure of thought to the naturally expectant prospect of validating the worth of women graduates as participants in the government of alumni affairs.

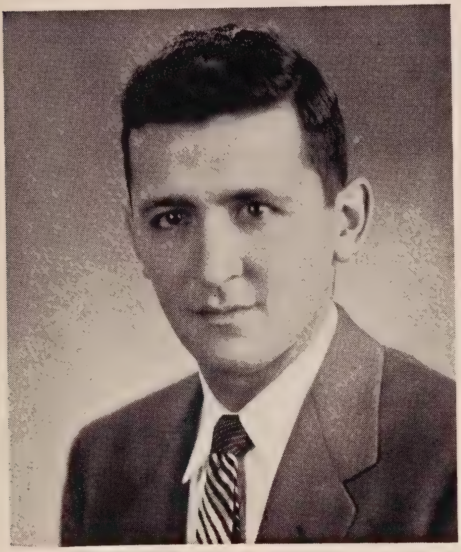
Alumnus Assassinated

CARLOS ALFARO, '55

Chancellor, University of El Salvador

DR. CARLOS ALFARO, a University of Maryland Dental School graduate, was shot and killed by a band of terrorists in his native country of El Salvador on September 16, 1977. At the time of his death the 46-year-old dentist was Chancellor of the University of El Salvador.



After obtaining his D.D.S. degree at Maryland in 1955, Dr. Alfaro continued graduate studies in periodontology at Boston. He then returned to Central America where he established a private practice for a few years but soon found his true vocation in dental education. His dedication and talent won him wide recognition and eventually he was appointed Dean of the School of Dentistry of the University of El Salvador. From there the next step was to the highest position, Chancellor, of the twenty-five thousand students national university.

Classmates of Dr. Alfaro remember him fondly for his gentle, self-efacing demeanor. His love for automobiles and enthusiasm for stock-car racing is also recalled by some. Member of one of the wealthiest families in El Salvador, he was unasuming and friendly. His choice of dental education over other more materialistic ventures reflect his true self and makes the Baltimore College of Dental Surgery Dental School, University of Maryland proud of this distinguished alumnus.

J. Ben Robinson
1883-1977

A careful weighing of the contributions made by J. Ben Robinson to American dentistry would logically suggest that of the thousands of graduates of the Baltimore dental schools, he fully merits the honor of being designated as the greatest. The alumni of the Baltimore College of Dental Surgery, Dental School, University of Maryland join with all the other member of American dentistry in paying tribute to the worthiness of Dr. Robinson as a versatile and highly capable leader in many phases of dental interests and activities; the alumni are especially appreciative of his prodigious enterprise and the vivifying qualities of inspiration and dedication that he so beneficiently demonstrated during his long service as dean of their Alma Mater. From the time of his graduation in 1914, Dr. Robinson built his eminent reputation upon tiers of progression and eventually became nationally recognized as a distinguished and profoundly serious voice in many areas of dental thinking and action. He possessed to the last of his days a deep and intense allegiance to the promotion of the best interests of his beloved profession. He strongly identified himself with every project for its advancement and devotd his invaluable capabilities to its effort to achieve increasing measure of recognition for its valiant march through years of struggle to the point of asserting and proving itself as a meritoriously respected member of the health science professions.

During his sixty-three years as a Doctor of Dental Surgery, J. Ben Robinson received an impressive collection of honors; served as president of many organizations and he made many important addresses and wrote many forceful articles. But perhaps the best tribute that can be paid to our greatest alumnus is he loved his profession and his Alma Mater and lived his years in dedicated and pervading service for them.

Gentlemen:

Attached herewith are the following:

Exhibit A—Balance Sheet, June 30, 1976

Exhibit B—Statement of Cash Receipts and Disbursements for Period July 1, 1975 to June 30, 1976

We have examined the cash receipts and disbursements for the period July 1, 1975 to June 30, 1976. Our examination was made in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards, and accordingly included such tests of the accounting records and such other auditing procedures as we considered necessary in the circumstances. For control purposes the Union Trust Bancorp Stock is valued at Fair Market Value, June 30, 1976, due to the fact that the cost could not be established.

In our opinion, the accompanying balance sheet and the statement of cash receipts and disbursements present fairly the financial position of the Alumni Association Baltimore College of Dental Surgery for the period July 1, 1975 to June 30, 1976.

Respectfully submitted,

Davis and Davis

How long will your patients wait while you're waiting for repairs?

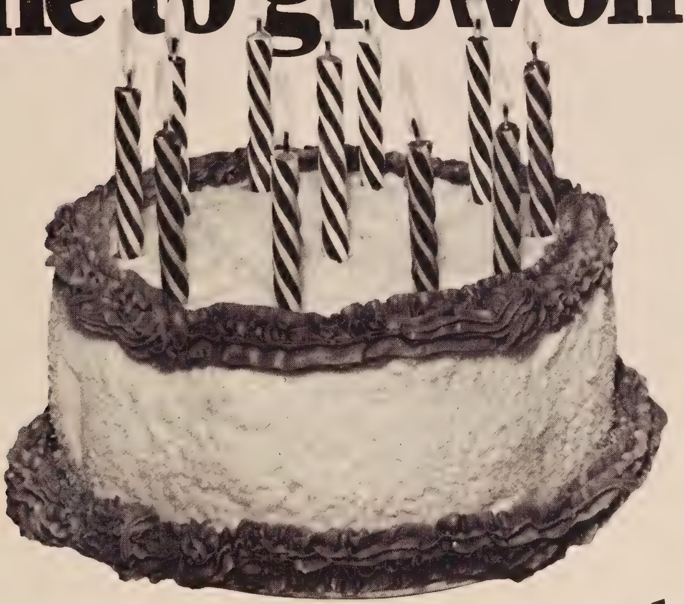
At Healthco, we not only deliver the equipment and merchandise on time, we also deliver on service. Because, unless the products you buy are fully backed by service, you'd better have a lot of patience and a lot of patients with patience.

Your practice and its productivity depend on your skills, and on consistent, dependable service to your patients. Our business depends on seeing to it that your chair time is not interrupted by breakdown of equipment or delays in delivery of merchandise. In other words, along with dental supplies we supply assurance that when you're ready to treat a patient, you have everything you need when you need it.

Healthco . . . next order, every order and between orders, if necessary.

Healthco DENTAL SUPPLY

Ten candles and one to grow on.



Thank you for helping to make our 10th year the best yet.

We've grown a lot since we first opened our dental laboratory 10 years ago. Maryland dentists have learned to associate Aronovitch Dental Laboratories with quick, dependable service. They know whether the work desired is fabricating porcelain fused to gold, porcelain jackets, aluminous porcelain jackets, Cermalloy® crowns and bridges or "precision" removable partials . . . Aronovitch is one of Baltimore's largest laboratories specializing in these services. Of course, being a full service dental laboratory, we also offer the same fine quality in our cast removable partials and full dentures.

Aronovitch has proven to be both expert and innovative. Both reliable and quick. Both responsive and competitive. Thanks to you we are celebrating our tenth birthday with an extensive expansion program in order to serve your needs even better. You and your patients deserve the best: And you only get the best from Aronovitch Dental Laboratories.

Some Values Do Not Change

This editorial written 20 years ago needs no updating

EDITORIAL

The principal significance of this first edition of the "Alma Mater" lies in the simple fact that it exists. The Alumni Association now has an official publication and the feeling is somewhat akin to owning your home. The future success of the "Alma Mater" depends upon the exercise of those same virtues which unite and bind the family: mutual respect, faith, and the willingness to work together for the good of all.

The editorial policy shall be in accord with the objectives of the Association as printed in the new Constitution and restated by our President. We shall attempt, thru these pages, to record events of our time, bringing information, and, we hope at times, inspiration, to over 4,000 Alumni practicing in twenty-six countries.

We invite comment, seek news, and with your support and encouragement, are willing to accept the challenge of a new opportunity.

1807-1856-1920

University of Maryland

President

Dr. John Sampson Toll

UNIVERSITY OF MARYLAND

President

Dr. John S. Toll

In recent months I have had an opportunity to become reacquainted with the University of Maryland, with each of its colleges and schools, and to learn anew of the many strengths and the rich heritage upon which the University is built. In particular, I was fascinated with the Heritage and History of the Baltimore College of Dental Surgery, an excellent publication that was made possible by the generous contributions of alumni.

From the beginning many individuals have contributed time, talent and resources to the development of the school. But perhaps our greatest debt of gratitude is to Horace Hayden and Chapin Harris for the pioneering work they did to improve the standards of dentistry and to make it a science worthy of collegiate study. What these two men accomplished is truly astounding: the first American dental textbooks of significance, the first lectures on dentistry, the first dental journal, the first dental association, and, of course, the founding of the Baltimore College of Dental Surgery—the world's first dental college. They provided a truly important service to the public by improving people's health and lessening their pain and by paving the way for a specialized branch of medicine with the highest professional standards.

I am greatly impressed by the quality of the dental faculty and of the education which is taking place under the leadership of Dean Errol Reese. He and his colleagues are doing an outstanding job to ensure that their students receive the best possible preparation and training. The Dental School is a prime example of the way in which good teaching, research, and public service interact to support each other and to provide many direct services to the public.

It is a special source of pride for our University that three of every four dentists in Maryland are graduates of the University of Maryland, that UM dental graduates now number more than 10,000 world-wide. The Dental School's clinical program provides patient care for over 120,000 patient visits annually. This is accomplished through the Dental School Clinics and the various Area Health Education Centers throughout the state of Maryland.

I am proud of the quality of the School's graduates and the positions of leadership they have assumed in the fields of dental education, dental research, and organized dentistry. Those who come immediately to mind are David B. Scott, director of the National Institute of Dental Research of the National Institutes of Health; Joseph P. Cappuccio, president of the American Dental Association (the 11th UM alumnus to serve in this capacity); Kenneth V. Randolph, dean of the Baylor University School of Dentistry; W. Robert Biddington, dean of the West Virginia University School of Dentistry; and Jose E. Medina, vice president of the University of Florida and former dean of that institution's dental school. The full list is long—and distinguished.

I congratulate the School of Dentistry for its commitment to excellence and to meeting the needs of the public and the dental profession. It is a commitment to quality education, to vital research activity, and to important service programs that provide a good model for the total University.

Out Going — In Coming

It is a distinct honor and privelege for me to serve as President of the Alumni Association for the coming year, and I intend to encourage in every possible way the continued growth of our Association. The excellence of June Week was the result of good planning and directing by Bob Murphy and his arrangements committee. All the various activities were enthusiastically attended.

The Alumni Association is only as strong as the active members make it. We need your support at all Alumni Section Meetings, and especially during June Week. If you have not paid your dues for this year, please do so for it only through your financial support that we can maintain our services.

For the past two years, I have had the opportunity to serve as the Alumni Representative on the Dental Admissions Committee. This has afforded me a chance to have first-hand exposure to the procedures of the Admissions Committee and to make some contribution from the standpoint of the practicing dentist. If I can be of assistance to any alumni with regard to admissions, please do not hesitate to contact me.

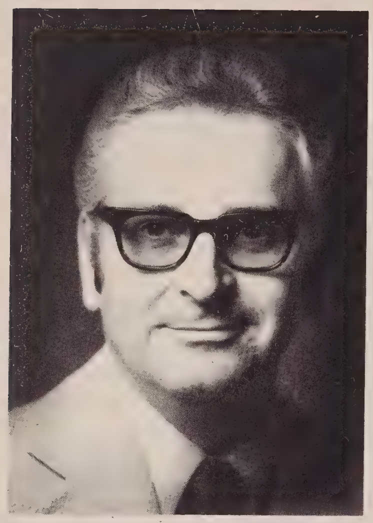
As your President, I plan to attend many of the Alumni Section Meetings with Dean Reese and look foward to meeting you. At that time we will be happy to answer any questions you may have concerning your Dental School or your Alumni Association. Our Alumni Secretary is available at any time to assist you. Call her at (301) 528-7129 or write to 666 W. Baltimore Street, Baltimore, Maryland 21201.

The coming year holds many challenges for us — continued good dialogue with the Dental School and students, increased active membership, and an opportunity to build a stronger, more exciting and functional Alumni Association.

Your Officers and President ask your support.

Dean's Report

ADMINISTRATIVE CHANGES



Dean Errol L. Reese, D.D.S.

Your alma mater has continued its quest for excellence since 1840. The last 25 years have marked a period of expansion, innovation in programs and curriculum, and a new modern Hayden-Harris Hall. These achievements occurred during the twenty-four year period that Dr. Wilson H. Elkins served as President of the University of Maryland. This Dental School, its students and graduates are deeply indebted to Dr. Elkins for his responsiveness to the needs of our profession.

Dr. Elkins retired on July 1, 1978 and, following a year's search (our own Dr. Kyrle Preis and Dr. Sam Hoover served on the Search Committee and Dr. Vincent Provenza was the Assistant Executive Director), Dr. John S. Toll became the twenty-second President of the University of Maryland. The installation of a new president brings a period of renewed excitement and anticipation. Dr. Toll has not disappointed us. He recently spent one day at the Dental School, and as Dean I was able to orient him to our goals, problems and aspirations. Department chairmen also had an opportunity to talk with Dr. Toll about their departments, and the entire faculty met with him in an open forum.

Dr. Toll is an excellent listener as well as a decisive leader. There can be no question that he wants the University of Maryland and this Dental School to enhance its reputation as one of the best in the world; furthermore, he will help us in every way possible to achieve that level of excellence. In return he expects those who have benefited from their education at this institution to assist through financial support of their alma mater as well as through donations of time and effort.

The Dental School also conducted an intensive search during the past year to fill the chair positions in Orthondontics and Pediatric Dentistry. The organizational structure of this School requires the presence of strong leadership in each department. I believe we have selected the best candidate in the nation to serve in these two posts. Dr. William Davidson, formerly chairman of the Department of Orthodontics at the University of Mississippi, is a graduate of Harvard School of Dental Medicine and Dartmouth College, and holds a Ph.D. degree in anatomy we are successful, additional support will be provided this year and the from the University of Minnesota, where he also became board eligible in clinical orthodontics. Dr. James Rule, a graduate of Temple University and Temple University School of Dentistry, received his residency training in pediatric dentistry at St. Christopher's Hospital for Children in Philadelphia and holds an M.S. degree in anatomy from the University of Chicago. Dr. Rule comes to the Dental School from the University of Connecticut Health Center School of Dental Medicine, where he was associate professor and coordinator of the graduate program in pediatric dentistry. It is already apparent that both men will serve the School and their respective departments well.

SOURCES OF SUPPORT

The past year brought to the School several new grants of financial support that provide for new programs, improvement and reorganization of programs, and/or sustaining old programs. It is through these grants from federal, state and city governments, charities and, of course, through your private support that we are able to achieve excellence. Major grants and funding sources included:

1. Oral Oncology Public and Professional Education Program—$50,000 awarded by the Maryland Division of The American Cancer Society.
2. Special Patient Clinic Support—$5,000 from the Alumni Association Endowment Fund; $1,000 from United Cerebral Palsy of Central Maryland; $5,000 allocated from Annual Giving Program funds.
3. General Practice Residency in Dentistry Program—$363,000 for a three-year period from the Department of Health Education and Welfare (to improve and expand the General Practice Residency program and reorganize the Department of Dentistry in University Hospital).
4. Biomedical Research Support Grant Program—$17,644 awarded by the University to six faculty members for research projects.
5. Research seed money—$12,000 from Annual Giving Program funds, awarded to three faculty members and two students.

In addition, twenty-five members of the faculty received funds from extra-University sources to support research projects.

The Executive Committee decided last March that the School should not continue in partnership with the federal capitation program, and that a phase-out should begin immediately, to be carried out in such manner that present or future students will not be adversely affected. This decision necessitates that additional resources from state and private support be phased in during the transition period. I am pleased to report that we did receive increased state support last year and, if following year. This influx of new resources will certainly provide, as it should, the majority of support necessary. However, an additional $200,000 annually in private support is needed if we are to fulfill the need for new resources so that the federal capitation program can be completely phased out. An orderly timetable would permit this to occur during the next two years.

The Annual Giving Program, now in its third year, urgently needs the support of all alumni. We must reach a level of more than $200,000 in annual contributions if we are to completely sever our dependence upon the federal capitation program. . . please join with your alma mater to achieve that goal on behalf of the profession.

SERVICES OFFERED TO ALUMNI

The new Office of Recruitment and Admissions, under the able direction of Dr. Charles Leonard, continues to receive many requests for counseling and advice from alumni and their sons and daughters who are interested in a career in dentistry and Dental Hygiene. We are anxious to continue to provide this service and urge you to contact Dr. Leonard during the late high school years or certainly during the first year of college. We now have approximately 45 sons and daughters of alumni in the D.D.S. program and 2 in the Dental Hygiene program. Without question, the most pleasant aspect of my position is to assist young men and women as they seek careers in our profession.

The faculty are always ready to assist alumni in program design and participation. All departments are strong and can provide excellent lectures for meetings and continuing education programs.

This School, its faculty and administration stand ready to serve you and are deeply appreciative of the interest and support increasing numbers of alumni have expressed, both through financial contributions and volunteer service, during the past year.

! ! Hope To See You ! !

"Did someone help you when you were in dental school?"

"I remember the times when people helped me. There were discouraging moments when others gave me guidance that enabled me to make it through. And there was financial help when I really needed it.

"I've never forgotten that assistance. That's why I'm involved with the AFDH campaign! It's a way of repaying some of the help I enjoyed when I needed it.

"If you feel the way I do, you can help too. Simply make a contribution to the American Fund for Dental Health! Your check will help provide scholarships for some of the country's 20,000 dental students, and it will help support the many research projects that ultimately help you practice better dentistry.

"I hope you'll send your check right now. There's really no better way of remembering the help you got when you were in dental school!"

Bull Roast

The second annual Bull Roast sponsored by the Student Dental Association was again held in the huge gymnasium at the Towson Center, under the direction of chairman Eugene Sambataro '80, vice president of the S.D.A. He and his large committees are to be congratulated on such a well organized and enthusiastically supported eat, drink and be merry party. About 650 attended including Dean Reese, faculty members as well as University officials. Dress was optional and many came in Halloween costumes. Food was good and plentiful, so that all had plenty of energy for the disco dancing to the music of Mac Arthur Park.

The student association invites and encourages all alumni and their friends to attend this popular bash next year. For information of when and where call 528-7934 and ask for Deloris Williams, Secretary.

THE CLASS OF "1979" OFFICERS

The Class of 1979

The graduating class of 1979 of the University of Maryland Dental School has a colorful personality indeed. The wide range of talents, traits, viewpoints and interests have endeared this class to the faculty. Of the 137 students who expect to graduate in May, 127 are four year students and ten are three year or APT students. These people have a sense of cooperation and unity rarely experienced by past classes. This unity may be attributed to the leadership of the class and the "giving" talents of the class members.

Class members spend their leisure time working part time jobs in hemotology labs, banks, for NASA Space Center, for the MOLARS Computer System in the Dental School and playing musical instruments as the piano and guitar, engaging in sports such as handball and tennis. . . The list is endless. About half of the class is happily married, most stating that their spouses have been supportive in helping the students toward graduation. Approximately 40% of the class is applying for General Practice Residencies, and 50 % for private practices.

A picture of the sex ratio and race ratio and nationality ratio can be seen as follows: 111 white males, 16 white females, 0 black males, 3 black females, 2 Asian males, 2 Asian females, 2 Hispanic males and 1 Hispanic female.

As can be seen, the graduating class is varied and talented. Hopefully, their talents will be utilized to best advantage in the profession of dentistry.

SHARON CRANE Secretary

The following describes the junior class as best as possible:

The Class of 1980 not only has character within the realm of academia, as demonstrated by performing the best in the history of the dental school in the National Boards, but also has been (and still is) unique outside of the school. It's constituents are involved in a potpurri of individual interests, such as laboratory technicians, scuba fanatics, bartenders, waiters, a building-climber, golf fanatics, backgammon fanatics, a squash fanatic, people who like to have a good time, people who appear like they don't have a good time, a pharmacist, an optician at the state penitentiary (part-time), a former policeman, a former race-car driver, two disc jockeys, a paramedic, a black belt, many non-belts, hypnotists, a mushroom cultivator, mushroom consumers, and many aspiring young dentists.

Ron Attanasio

FAIR ENOUGH

"Since the weather is to man what the waters are to fish, his preoccupation with it serves a unique purpose, constituting a social phenomenon all its own. Far from arising merely to pass the time or bridge a silence, "weathertalk," as it might be called, is a sort of code by which people confirm and salute the sense of community they discover in the face of the weather's implacable influence."

Frank Trippett
Time

The Class of 1982

It consists of 138 people, 22 females and 116 males. Its average age is 22. It has gone to college and its majors range from zoology to anthropology, nursing to speech. Its constituents come from all over the country and encompass Caucasians, Blacks, Asians and Hispanics. What is it? It's the freshman class (1982) of the University of Maryland Dental School.

With the competition getting greater and greater for a position in the first year class of professional schools, it is no surprise that the academic figures of the class of 1982 are superlative. The average science G.P.A. is 3.13 and the cumulative G.P.A. is 3.20. All but six people have at least a Bachelor's degree with the majority being in science. There are 14 people who possess a Masters degree. Twenty-eight are not residents of Maryland. They come from New York, New Jersey, California, Massachusetts, Pennsylvania, Connecticut, Delaware, Georgia, Rhode Island, Utah, Washington and West Virginia. Of the 110 students who are Maryland residents, most come from Baltimore City and County.

Recently, Dr. Leonard, Assistant Dean for Recruitment and Admissions, was asked a few questions about the freshman class, the selection process and today's trend in recruitment. There were over 1,000 applications for this years freshman class. This was about 250 less that the previous few years. 330 were interviewed and 184 were accepted. 46 declined the position which left 128 for the four year program and 10 for the Accelerated Professional Training Program (APT). All major statistics like G.P.A., D.A.T. scores, etc., remained fairly constant in comparison to the previous four years. There was a decline in total number of applications, but this was a nationwide trend. No explanation for this has been proven, but the A.D.A. says that the drop occuurred mostly in the lower G.P.A. and lower socio-economic applicant levels.

At present there are no plans to increase or decrease the size of the future classes. However, the number of non-residents has increased. This has been by order from the Dean's office. It is hoped, although not outwardly encouraged or required, that they will return to their respective states after graduation.

The Bakke decision has had no influence on the selection process, either for the mapority or the minority student at the dental school. There are no racial enrollment quotas at the dental school, nor will there be. Dr. Leonard pointed out that the school is involved in a grant which will target underserved areas in dentistry and try to recruit applicants from these areas, in hope that they will return after graduation.

By now all of these 138 bright people are buried beneath anatomy, biochemistry and B.D.S. books. Past G.P.A.'s and D.A.T.'s mean very little now, where six months ago they were everything. But we at the Probe would like to congratulate each and everyone of the Class of 1982 and wish you the best of luck the next four years. ERNEST WITBECK '79

Frequently, I am asked how the four year baccalaureate program at the University of Maryland differs from the two year dental hygiene associate degree programs? So, in this issue, I would like to share with you the Department's philosophy in answer to this question.

Basically, the educational objective of Associate degree programs is to prepare their graduates to perform clinical dental hygiene services for patients in a private dental office; whereas the educational objective of the Dental Hygiene program at the University of Maryland is to provide the baccalaureate graduate with the knowledge, skills, and attitudes that will allow them to adapt and function in positions of responsibility within a variety of health care settings or educational institutions.

There are numerous opportunities and an increasing demand for dental hygienists with a baccalaureate or graduate degree in public and private educational institutions, local and state health departments, federally funded dental care delivery programs, hospitals; commissioned service in the Armed Forces, and research programs. The dental hygienist's activities depend, to varying degrees, upon the dental knowledge and skills required to provide clinical services to patients. However, additional study and experience beyond the basic dental hygiene curriculum is essential for providing an adequate background to function effectively in settings such as these.

Prospective University of Maryland dental hygiene students must complete two years of pre-professional basic and behavioral science requirements such as Anatomy and Physiology, Microbiology, Nutrition, Psychology and Sociology. Those accepted enroll in the dental hygiene program for their Junior and Senior year. The Junior year provide the foundation for dental hygiene practice. The Senior year is a combination of clinical practice within the dental school and educational enrichment experiences outside the dental school plus 18 credit hours of course work in a selected area of concentration. (The Senior year curriculum was described in January, 1978 issue of the Alma Mater.)

Since the program was initiated in 1965, the areas of concentration available to the Senior dental hygiene student have been education, psychology, sociology, counseling and personnel services, microbiology, health, hearing and speech, and nutrition.

Within the last two years, two areas of concentration, dental public health and dental education have been developed and implemented by the Department. The concentrations are more specifically career oriented and include both didactic course work and practical career related experiences

The dental public health area of concentration under the direction of. Ms. Jackie Singer, R.D.H., M.S., is in its second year of implementation. Selected senior dental hygiene students spend six hours per semester at the dental school studying topics in management, program planning and implementation, accounting, and analysis of health care delivery systems. In addition to this twelve hour core curriculum, students take six hours of related course work at UMBC to total 18 credit hours.

The dental public health concentration is essentially divided into three main areas: community program administration; analysis of health care delivery systems; and the dental public health practicum. Community Program Administration closely examines specific managerial skills, such as planning, evaluating, communicating and accounting principles. Concurrently during the first semester, each student plans a preventive dentistry program tailored to meet the needs of a target population at a community site which the student has preselected. Emphasis is placed on recognizing the target population's needs and demands, determining the utilization of the community site resources, and planning for the effective implementation of a community preventive dentistry program.

During the second semester, the students implement their preventive dentistry programs, utilizing their previously developed managerial skills. This year's target sites include the Chimes, Inc., an organization concerned with educating the mentally disabled adults and children, the Ft. Meade and Baltimore City school systems, and the Crittenton Home for Unwed and Young Mothers. The public health students also study and analyze the current health care delivery systems in the United states through selected readings, class discussions, guest speakers and fild trips.

The dental education concentration is in its first year of implementation. Last year, the Department of Dental Hygiene worked cooperatively with the University of Maryland Baltimore County Department of Education to design an 18 credit hour concentration for those students interested in pursuing employment as an educator.

During the first semester, the program concentrates on the specific knowledge competencies that constitute the theoretical core of formal teaching. The student is placed in a variety of applied learning experiences during the second semester which srves to give teaching practice in the areas of knowledge acquired during the previous semester. The students will provide supervised on site instruction to a variety of groups which include students in elementary and secondary schools, dental hygiens and dental assisting programs, and health care personnel in hospitals. Ms. Gail Levy, R.D.H., B.S., is working closely with the UMBC faculty and coordinating the field placements in the dental auxiliary programs and hospitals.

Additionally, the Department offers a postcertificate program to registered dental hygienists who have graduated from an accredited two year dental hygiens program and have at least one year of clinical practice. Generally, these students complete their basic degree requirements and electives as Juniors and as Seniors, take a six hour course in the Dental School taught by Ms. Linda Rubinstein, R.D.H., B.S., in addition to completing an 18 credit hour area of concentration. The same areas of concentration as mentioned previously are available to postcertificate students.

This department appreciates the interest and support of the Alumni and professional community and we welcome your thoughts and suggestions on both the present or future directions of this program.

The Junior American Dental Hygienists' Association

The University of Maryland will host the North East Regional Convention for the Junior American Dental Hygiene Association in Spring, 1979. In preparing for this, the University of Maryland JADHA Association has formed a major convention committee broken into subcommittees in order to best carry out the various functions that are necessary for the success of the convention. These committees include business, fund raising, registration, food, liaison, table clinic and awards.

JADHA has been very busy raising funds. Functions have included car washes and breakfast sales at the dental school. Plans are under way for mug, t-shirt, and bumper sticker sales.

Speakers for the monthly program meetings of JADHA will talk on various topics such as Children and Dentistry, Rehabilitation of the Oral Cancer Patient, and Extended Roles of the Dental Hygienist.

At the beginning of the Fall Semester, a luncheon for Junior and Senior dental hygiene students was held. Each Senior was assigned a Junior classmate so that the seniors can provide guidance to the Juniors as they go through their first year in the dental hygiene curiculum.

Two Senior students, Lori Deutsch and Pam Straus, presented their table clinic, "Biofeedback: A Treatment for Bruxism", at the ADHA Annual Session in Los Angeles, California.

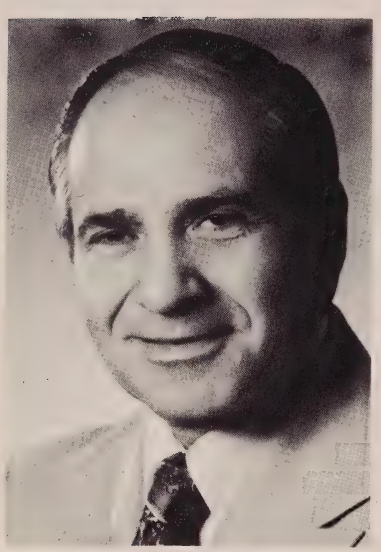
Dr. Joseph P. Capppuccio

Distinguished Alumnus for 1978



JOSEPH P. CAPPUCCIO, '46

President Ventura,
President Elkins,
Dean Reese,
Honored Class of 1928,
Fellow Alumni and Guests:

It's a privilege to be permitted to present the candidate for the Distinguished Alumnus Award, and it's a particular pleasure this year because the recipient is a close friend of long standing whose achievements are truly remarkable.

This award, which was established 22 years ago, is the highest honor which this organization can bestow and is given "In recognition of constant devotion and outstanding contributions to the art and science of dentistry". The first recipient was Dr. George M. Anderson, Class of 1919.

It's hard to imagine anyone in our association more deserving the honor this year than the man I present this evening, Dr. Joseph Patrick Cappuccio. As long as I can remember, Joe has always been referred to as Mr. Alumnus, surely an apt title. He has been our secretary for more than 20 years and has been the dominant influence in formulating and activating alumni policies and goals. He is chiefly responsible for organizing alumni sections in his native state of Rhode Island—in New Jersey—West Virginia—Florida and Puerto Rico; he also encouraged alumni group meetings in New York, Atlanta and the District of Columbia. He attends all these meetings, bringing Maryland flags, banners, registration cards, news and good cheer. He personally made the arrangements for these meetings with the convention people as well as with the hotel management, getting us the best accomodations at a minimum cost.

One may gather from this that Joe is quite an organizer, and that he is an articulate spokesman for dentistry in all of its ramifications and it would not be straining the truth to say that many of his activities have strong political overtones.

Who is this Joe? Well, he is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Cappuccio of Watch Hill, Rhode Island, and he is the brother of Louis and Frank Cappuccio, both practicing attorneys in Westerly, Rhode Island. Joe graduated from Rhode Island University, then earned his dental degree at Maryland in 1946. After an internship in oral surgery, he became associated with the dental school on a full time basis, and presently holds the rank of Clinical Professor of Oral Maxio-Facial Surgery.

Always interested in organizations, Joe has served as president of the Baltimore City Dental Society, The Maryland State Dental Association—The Alumni Association—The Maryland Dental Society of Anesthesiology—and the Middle Atlantic Society of Oral Surgeons and he holds membership in the American College of Dentists—The International College of Dentists, Federation Dentaire International, Pierre Fauchard Academy and he is an associate member of the American Medical Association.

Among other honors Joe has received are The Distinguished Alumnus Award of Rhode Island, The Psi Omega Award, Alpha Chapter, University of Maryland, The Medical Award—Italian American Society.

Other than loyalty to the Alumni Association, Joe's sustaining interest is dental organizational politics. He has been a Maryland delegate to the American Dental Association for 18 years, and for the past 6 years he has served as the American Dental Association Trustee for the 4th District representing Maryland—Delaware—New Jersey—District of Columbia—Panama Canal Zone—Puerto Rico—Virgin Islands and the Federal Dental Services. How's that for a constituancy? and what more fertile ground for politicking

These activities have led to his nomination and election as President-Elect of the American Dental Association, the position which he now holds and this coming October 26 in Anaheim, Cal. he will accede to the presidency, thus representing an organization of 134 thousand dentists which includes members of all categories.

I think you will agree that from the foregoing, the achievements of this man are worthy of recognition. It is not necessary to go into greater detail, and comment upon the many correlated activities in the career of this dedicated and energetic alumnus.

I'm sure Joe's parents—his brothers—his beautiful wife, Rocella—his lovely daughter, Mary Louise—share with us the joy of honoring Joe this evening.

So Mr. President on behalf of the Alumni Association, we present to you Dr. Joseph Patrick Cappuccio with the request that you confer upon him the Distinguished Alumnus Award for 1978.

Golden Anniversary

Class of 1928 Reunion—50 Years
Hunt Valley Inn, Hunt Valley, Md.
June 2nd - 3rd - 4th

Our Fiftieth Year Reunion was the most enthralling, exciting time of our lives. There was a great esprit-de-corps, a mystical touch we had for each other. We felt it deeply within ourselves. There was electricity in the air. We felt all was well with us as the world stopped for three magnificent days. Joe Fenichel, in a letter, summed it all up: "It all ended too soon for me." Lew Haggerty wrote: "I am ready for 1983 right new."

Thursday was scientific clinics at the Dental School with participants as guests for lunch courtesy of Dean Errol Reese.

Thursday evening, 8 to 11, a gourmet dinner dance; cocktails and a cruise down Baltimore Harbor on the Port Welcome. The band was fun and the spirits high.

Friday was Reunion Day for ten classes; ours was all day and all evening. In the afternoon President Mike Ventura's committee provided the McCormick suite for our Jamboree. It was cocktail time. We had our own band. Bud Wachter, a young banjo professional star (three years with Fred Waring's band); Bob Schmidt, a pro base fiddle; Beverly Gallen on conga drums and bongos; and Les Gallen on banjo and accordian. It was a live jive jam session. What an afternoon, never to be forgotten.

Friday evening in the King's Pleasure room was banquet time. -Cocktails 6:30 to 8 followed by our delicious dinner.

We had 31 dentists; 54 people in all. We lost 45 men, 12 were unable to come. 88 accounted for out of 91 in 1924. We observed a moment of prayer for the departed. All were presented a list of those men to remember.

We had courageous men who came recovering from 2 and 4 coronaries. It wasn't easy for Ralph Gale to come being on kidney dialysis 7 hours per day for 3 days per week to enable him to live to take care of a blind wife. She wanted him to come and one fine classmate brought his blind wife of many years. She was stunning.

Following dinner each man reviewed his last 50 years. Their stories were scintillating.

We had a letter T-shirt contest:

1. Who came the farthest—won by Emilio Velez from Puerto Rico.
2. Who had the most kids—won by Richard Stock
3. Who had the most wives—won by Harry Bobinski who nosed out the chairman with four wives, he married one wife twice. What a way to win.

Alumni Reception

The successful alumni reception of our association was held at the Greater New York Dental Meeting on Wednesday, November 30, 1977.

It was, by far, the greatest attended reception ever held in conjunction with the New York Meeting. Many of the graduates were very enthused to visit once again with our alumni officials and officials of the Dental School. They were especially pleased to visit with Joe Cappuccio, the newly elected President-Elect of the American Dental Association.

Dr. Warren M. Morganstein, Associate Dean of the Dental School, represented Dean Reese. At the affair, he visited with the various alumni and gave them information about the program at the Dental School. This gave Dr. Morganstein an opportunity to become acquainted with many of our alumni in the New York area.

The various graduates and their wives offered their congratulations to Joe and Rocella and wished them well over the next two years. Many officials of the Greater New York Dental Meeting were in attendance at our reception, such as: Dr. and Mrs. Irving Gruber, Executive Director, Dr. and Mrs. Howard B. Menell, Chairman and Dr. and Mrs. Michael Turoff, Chairman-Elect.

It is always nice to have our New York friends meet with us. This meeting is gradually becoming our best. Let us work to make next year's meeting even better.

Rosso '50, Guillermo Orraca '50, Lino Rodriguez '52, Carlos J. Noya '50.

On a lovely tropical evening, while our colleagues up north were struggling to get out from under the snow, the Puerto Rico Chapter of our Alumni Association held its annual dinner reception. Honored guests were Alumni President Dr. Michael Ventura, Associate Dean Dr. Warren Morganstein, Fourth A.D.A. District Trustee Dr. Ashur Chavoor, and A.D.A. President-elect Dr. Joseph P. Cappuccio, who is also the Secretary of our Alumni Association.

San Juan City Council member Dr. Fernando Iturrino, class of 1948, representing the mayor of San Juan Dr. Hernan Padilla, a Maryland Medical School graduate, class of 1960, made a presentation to Dr. Cappuccio in recognition of his merits and repeated visits to the island. Joe has been declared a native Puerto Rican by his friends and is popularly known as "Don Pepe" Cappuccio.

The meeting, organized by Chapter President Dr. Manuel A. Rosso, was thoroughly enjoyed by all and a great sense of camaraderie prevailed. Significant of the B.C.D.S. spirit was the presence of Dr. Arturo Benavent, class of 1945, incoming president of the P.R. Dental Association, and his son Herbie, a freshman student at our Alma Mater.

Another pleasant surprise was the visit by Dr. Eddie Ortiz, class of 1951, and wife Johanna from Hopewell, Virginia, as well as Ann and Dr. Bob Wilson, class of 1956.

A resolution recommending Joe Cappuccio for the Distinguished Alumnus Award was unanimously approved and President Mike Ventura was directed to see that this be brough to the attention of the committee in charge.

In a very quick election, Editor Carlos J. Noya, class of 1950, was kicked upstairs to President of the Alumni Chapter while his classmates Manuel A. Rosso and Guillermo E. Orraca were juggled to Vice-President and Secretary. Lino . Rodriguez, class of 1952, was re-elected Treasurer...

Alumni Luncheon

The Hinman Meeting
Atlanta, Georgia
Monday, March 20, 1978

A successful alumni luncheon of our association was held in conjunction with the Hinman Meeting on Monday, March 20, 1978 in Atlanta, Georgia.

This year's luncheon meeting was hosted by Dr. Maurice Fagan of Atlanta, Georgia. Dr. Fagan did an excellent job with general arrangements. Dr. Cappuccio asked that he handle this luncheon meeting for the association next year.

Dean Reese was in attendance and brought greetings from the Dental School. He discussed with the graduates the academic program at the School. Dr. Reese gave out various handouts in reference to the various activities at our Alma Mater. He entertained questions from the group and an active discussion ensued. The graduates enjoyed this session very much.

Dr. Cappuccio brought official greetings from the Alumni Association and reviewed alumni programs with the group. He especially covered the June Week program. He also thanked our alumni for their support of his campaign for President-Elect of the American Dental Association.

This luncheon meeting was slightly off attendance wise from last year's affair. As many of you may recall, last year's luncheon was the largest ever held in conjunction with the Hinman Meeting. The future augers well for this luncheon session in Atlanta. Dr. Fagan and our alumni officers will make plans for next year's meeting.

Alumni Breakfast

D.C. Postgraduate Clinic Meeting
Washington Hilton Hotel
Washington, D.C.
Thursday, April 20, 1978

An alumni breakfast meeting of our association was held during the D.C. Postgraduate Clinic Meeting on Thursday, April 20, 1978 at the Washington Hilton Hotel. This represented a return to a breakfast format for the first time in many years.

Our Alumni Association held successful breakfast meetings at the Shoreham Hotel many years ago, but dropped the breakfast concept because of early morning parking problems. It appeared that this problem repeated itself.

Unfortunately, the alumni breakfast was poorly attended. There were many competing breakfast affairs and parking was a problem. In spite of the poor attendance, the alumni present were given a complete report by Alumni Association officers and the Dean of the Dental School. Dean Reese reviewed many facets of the Dental School Program with those in attendance such as the admissions policy, etc. He held a question and answer period and invited those in attendance to visit the Dental School.

President Ventura brought greetings from the officers and executive council. He invited the graduates to return for the June Week exercises. President-Elect, Dr. Charles L. Page, Jr. also offered greetings and asked for suggestions of how the association can serve the graduates better. Dr. Page also sits on the Admissions Committee of the Dental School.

Dr. Ventura presented Dr. Joe Cappuccio to the group, and he congratulated Joe for his many achievements in the field of dentistry and for his election as President-Elect of the American Dental Association. Dr. Cappuccio thanked the graduates for their support and loyalty. He suggested to the group that they make every effort to attend the June Week program.

Dr. Murphy, June Week Chairman, reviewed for a few minutes the program for the coming year. He invited all of those in attendance to participate in this year's June Week program. He suggested that they all return their reservation slips as soon as possible in order that proper plans can be made for June Week.

The group may have been small, but it was a very enthusiastic meeting. It might well be that the Alumni officers and council would need to consider a return to a reception format.

On Tuesday, November 4, 1978, the New Jersey Alumni gave a hearty welcome to its first woman president, Dr. Barbara B. Rocco. The dinner meeting was attended by 60 members and guests at the Holiday Inn in Saddlebrook, New Jersey.

Dr. Rocco welcomed everyone and introduced our guests Dean Errol Reese, his lovely wife Joan, Dr. Charles Page, Alumni Association President, and Dr. Warren Morganstein, Associate Dean. Dean Reese spoke on the financial program and our high academic and clinical rating at B.C.D.S. After his talk, a sense of pride was felt by all the alumni of B.C.D.S. who were in attendance. Dr. Page then presented the New Jersey Alumni Association with a new charter.

Plaques were awarded to two of our members for their dedication and many contributions to the association. They were Dr. Paul Torre, our treasurer, and Dr. Martin Weiselberg, ex-officio. Dr. Weiselberg, our own Alan King, entertained us with some of his well known humor.

Dr. Rocco then presented Dean Reese with a donation to the dental school.

Alumni Meet in Anaheim, California

October 22, 1978

During the American Dental Association's Annual Meeting in Anaheim, California last October, the Alumni Association sponsored a reception in honor of the newly elected A.D.A. president, our own distinguished alumnus Joe Cappuccio. The affair was held on Sunday Evening, October 22, and was attended by about 150 alumni and their wives, and was held in the Magnolia Room of the Disneyland Hotel. It was a cheerful celebration. Dr. Charles Page, president of our association and Dean Reese were on hand to welcome the gathered alumni and their guests. Jimmy Kershaw '32 and recent graduates Doctor's Bader and Perry, IV were among those attending. All congratulated Joe on his political victory and wished him success in the coming administration.

Paul Castelle '41 in Spain

Spain has everything—particularly Andalucia the southern half, which includes the Costa del Sol: glorious weather, bright balmy days, the bluest skies and the relaxing Mediteranean.

Marbella, located in almost the center of the southern coast is perhaps the loveliest of the small villages in that area, and it was here that I found out that Spain does not quite have it all.

It may be a minor point to many, but to the proud Spaniards it could be a matter of concern that the bridge champions of the entire Andalucian area are not Spaniards, but foreigners, Americans at that. Dr. Paul Castelle and his beautiful wife Daphne are the bridge champions.

Paul is an alumnus of our dental school, having graduated with the class of 1941. They live at the Campo de Tenis is Fuengirola which is on the coast and they lead a fascinating life. Their skill and reputation brings them into the social sphere of such world luminaries as Omar Sharif and Richard Burton. Recently, they accepted the offer of the Norwegian Steamship Line of an expense paid $12,000 five week cruise in the Agean and surrounding islands, in return for their bridge lessons to the other voyagers.

Quite a switch from Crown and Bridge to bridge and crowns.

Since 1974, Paul has served as the United States consular agent in Andalucia and is the only American authority on the Costa del Sol. He said he won this State Department job in a bridge tournament. The Consul General of Sevilla was so impressed by Paul's bridge abilities, that he recommended him for this post.

Two of Paul's uncles, Dr. Max Baklor and Dr. Albert Lowenson were dentists, as was his brother-in-law the late Dr. Albert Eskin. Paul practiced dentistry in Cumberland, Maryland for 25 years before deciding to move to Spain in 1972. Incidentally, he and his wife were the bridge champions in Cumberland.

It's difficult to see what part dentistry played in their remarkable careers, but one thing is clear, Paul and Daphne certainly know how to play a winning hand.

Dear Dr. Kyrle Preis

I am writing to inform The Alumni Association that my husband, Dr. Everett L. Smith, a graduate of B.C.D.S. Dental School University of Maryland Class of 1916, died December 12, 1977 at the age of 84.

He was active in general practice for 57 years except for two years in the Army Dental Corps World War I. He practiced in Raleigh 54 years until his retirement in February 1973.

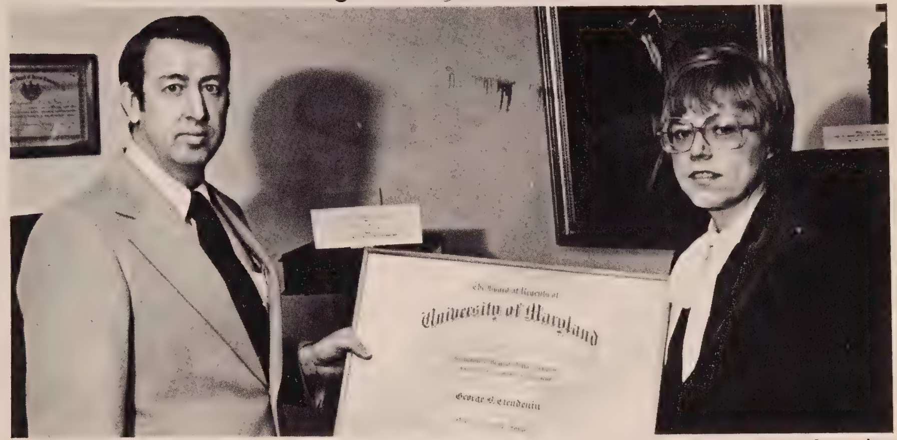
I attended, with him, the 50th Reunion of the Class of 1916 and he enjoyed showing me the school and seeing his friends.

Please stop sending the literature which he enjoyed so many years.

Sincerely

Mary McGee Smith

Remembering George B. Clendenin, '29



This photograph was taken on the occasion of Dr. G. Gary Clendenin's donation of his father's academic and professional memorabilia to the Museum of the Baltimore College of Dental Surgery, on February 3, 1978. Receiving the gift is Suzanne Grefsheim, Museum Curator.

Dr. George B. Clendenin, a 1929 graduate of BCDS at the University of Maryland, was very active in organized dentistry. In his honor, the George B. Clendenin Memorial Award is offered annually by the D.C. Dental Society to "a worthy recipient who has contributed far and above the usual service in his chosen field and which service has benefited directly, or indirectly, the health of our people and the dental profession."

——— O ———

Dear Dr. Preis,

I am sorry to inform you that my father, Nelson Harris, D.D.S., a member of the CLASS OF 1919, died on September 11, 1978.

He was a dentist for more than fifty years—and literally, it was his whole life. He worked in the Newark Post Office for ten years and then decided to enter dental school.

He would probably still be seeing patients had he not been mugged twice when he was over eighty.

The second mugging brought on severe depression but he recovered after care at Carrier Clinic. Even then, he was unwilling to end his practice at 84!

He hated every minute of retirement!

At 88, he entered the Ward Homestead and continued his active life there. He had turned 90 just a month before he died of generalized arteriosclerosis.

Sincerely,
Marie Harris Clarke

WE SHARE
A BIG RESPONSIBILITY WITH YOU

This is our pledge . . .

To provide you with the skills and services necessary to produce the ultimate in prosthetics . . .

And to use only the finest in materials to safeguard your precious relationship with your patients.

That is why we specialize in Ceramco restorations—the matchless combination of porcelain and gold affording toughness, fit and esthetic perfection.

Together, we share the responsibility for transmuting your prescriptions into restorations of enduring beauty.

We invite you to call us for your next CERAMCO prescription.

How long will your patients wait while you're waiting for repairs?

At Healthco, we not only deliver the equipment and merchandise on time, we also deliver on service. Because, unless the products you buy are fully backed by service, you'd better have a lot of patience and a lot of patients with patience.

Your practice and its productivity depend on your skills, and on consistent, dependable service to your patients. Our business depends on seeing to it that your chair time is not interrupted by breakdown of equipment or delays in delivery of merchandise. In other words, along with dental supplies we supply assurance that when you're ready to treat a patient, you have everything you need when you need it.

Healthco . . . next order, every order and between orders, if necessary.

Ever wonder why some of your patients never come back?

Your patients expect and deserve the best. Otherwise, they become another doctor's patient. So you cannot afford to demand anything less than the best from your dental laboratory.

Take a hard look at your present dental laboratory and the services they provide. Do they offer you all the services you need, or do you have to call different labs for different services because of limited capabilities? Do their production schedules meet your requirements? Are their prices outrageous? Can they handle your intricate and detailed prescriptions?

Aronovitch Dental Laboratories has the reputation for being the best…that's why we've become one of the biggest labs in the Baltimore/Washington area. We are a full service laboratory providing prosthetic and restorative services that cover the complete spectrum of general dentistry. From fabricating porcelain fused to gold, porcelain jackets, Cermalloy® crowns and bridges, removable partials and full dentures or "precision" removable partials… give your patients the best. Call Paul Resnick, Sales Manager in Baltimore, 764-1014 or in Washington and northern Virginia, call 452-1262 for our quick daily pick-up service.

INTRODUCING

CENTRA™

Centra Dental Products

We Are Pleased To Announce...A new name to the dental profession ...a name identifying a new line of superior dental products available exclusively through the Patterson Dental Company ... that name is CENTRA.

CENTRA is a future-oriented name, symbolic of the latest and best developed products available in their function to the contemporary practice of dentistry...yet in keeping with Patterson's second century of service.

For many years the Patterson Dental Company has offered selected products under its own brand name. Through Patterson brands, and for certain products marketed under the Viking brand name, you have come to know that these products represented excellent quality at a very reasonable price.

The CENTRA line not only replaces these items but is an advanced step in quality and batch control exceeded by none in the industry.

We're proud to introduce CENTRA Dental Products to the profession... your Patterson representative will be asking you soon to take a step into the future by trying these advanced products.
